On Social Organization And Social Control

Walter Robinson Smith

On Social Organization And Social Control:

Social Control Paul H. Landis, 1939 On Social Organization and Social Control Morris Janowitz, 1991-05-28 In the four decades following the end of World War II Morris Janowitz 1919-88 published major works in macrosociology urban and political sociology race and ethnic relations and the study of armed forces and society His research was deeply rooted in the traditions of philosophical pragmatism and the Chicago school of sociology influences which led him to reject grand theories and mechanistic explanations of social life Yet he remained confident in the capacity of sociological reason to come to grips with central aspects of the human condition On the basis of his studies Janowitz came to believe that the transition from early to advanced industrial society radically altered institutional organization to make democratic social control more difficult though not impossible to achieve The task of his pragmatic sociology was to identify fundamental trends in the social organization of industrial societies to indicate their substantive implications for social control and to clarify realistic alternatives for institution building which would strengthen the prospects for maintaining liberal democratic regimes In this volume James Burk selects from Janowitz's scholarly writings to provide a comprehensive overview of his wide ranging interests Organized to demonstrate the common logic of inquiry and substantive unity of Janowitz's contribution to several subfields of sociology the collection includes analyses of the concept of social control ethnic intolerance and hostility citizenship in Western societies models for urban education and the professionalization of military elites Burk provides a richly detailed critical account of Janowitz's intellectual development placing his writings in historical context and showing their continuing relevance for sociological research Useful to both students and specialists the volume is an important source for the ideas and methods of one of sociology's leading figures Crime and Social Organization Elin Waring, David Weisburd, 2018-02-06 This tenth volume in the Advances in Criminological Theory series is dedicated to the work of Albert J. Reiss Jr It focuses on the relationship between crime and social organization that is so central to his work This focus rejects a view of crime solely as the action of atomistic individuals and sees the criminal justice system as inseparable from its social political and organizational context This perspective has had a resurgence in recent years and this volume brings together some of the most important scholars who have contributed to these developments Articles examine the social organization of crime itself the context of crime and the response to crime The concept of co-offending originally developed by Reiss is explored both as a way of improving understanding of juvenile offending and as a framework for understanding patterns of criminal organization across crime types and the relationship of criminal to licit organization Other articles recast social disorganization theory in light of recent theoretical and empirical developments They argue for a version of control theory that incorporates internal contextual and state focused dimensions Organizational actors both as offenders and as governmental agencies responding to crime are explored Building from Reiss's groundbreaking work on policing a group of articles on policing examine organizational change through reorganization the adoption of strategies such as community policing and the increased use of empirical evidence complicated by routines organizational culture and political constraints Taken together these works develop new connections between dimensions of social organization and renew the social organization perspective on crime and criminal justice Contributors include Diane Vaughan Joan McCord Kevin P Conway Elin Waring Felton Earls Beat Mohler Peter Manning Stephen Mastrofski Lawrence Sherman David Weisburd Robert Sampson David F Greenberg Margaret Kelley Robin Tamarelli and Jeremy Travis Social Control Paul Henry Landis,1984

The Socio-economics of Crime and Justice Brian Forst,1993 Offers a variety of perspectives on crime and justice from economics to sociology from philosophy to the law focusing on the nonpunitive side of the issue The volume is divided into four parts Part I addresses fundamental principles underlying crime and justice Part II considers forces that shape human behavior generally and the inclination to commit crime in particular Part III focuses on specific classes of offenders and offenses And Part IV examines the three primary components of the justice system the police the prosecutor and the courts Paper edition unseen 19 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Social Theory For A Changing Society Pierre Bourdieu,James S. Coleman,Zdzislawa Walaszek Coleman,2019-07-11 There is in modern society a structural change that underlies many of the social changes with which the conference was concerned My argument here will be that this is a qualitative change in the way society is organized a change with many implications I will call this a change from primordial and spontaneous social organization to constructed social organization see Coleman 1990 Chapters 2 3 and 24 for an extended examination of this change The common definitions of these terms contain some hint of what I mean but I will describe the change more fully to ensure that it is clearly understood By primordial social organization I mean social organization that has its origins in the relationships established by childbirth Not all these relations are activated in all cultures but some subset of these relations forms the basis for all primitive and traditional social organization From these relations more complex structures unfold For example from these relations come families from families come clans from clans villages and from villages tribes ethnicities or societies UPSSSC Mukhya Sevika Exam (Head Servant) | 10
