Politics And Poetry In The Fifteenth Century:

Politics and Poetry in the Fifteenth Century V. J. Scattergood, 1971 Politics and Poetry in the Fifteenth Century V. J. Scattergood, 1972 Cultural politics in fifteenth-century England [electronic resource] Alessandra Petrina, 2004 This book analyses the relation between politics and the production of culture in Lancastrian England focussing on the intellectual activity of Duke Humphrey of Gloucester reconstructing his library and analysing his commissions of translations biographies and political poems Politics and the Urban Sector in Fifteenth-Century England, 1413-1471 Eliza Hartrich, 2019-08-14 Since the mid twentieth century political histories of late medieval England have focused almost exclusively on the relationship between the Crown and aristocratic landholders Such studies however neglect to consider that England after the Black Death was an urbanising society Towns not only were the residence of a rising proportion of the population but were also the stages on which power was asserted and the places where financial and military resources were concentrated Outside London however most English towns were small compared to those found in contemporary Italy or Flanders and it has been easy for historians to under estimate their ability to influence English politics Politics and the Urban Sector in Fifteenth Century England 1413 1471 offers a new approach for evaluating the role of urban society in late medieval English politics Rather than focusing on English towns individually it creates a model for assessing the political might that could be exerted by towns collectively as an urban sector Based on primary sources from twenty two towns ranging from the metropolis of London to the tiny Kentish town of Lydd Politics and the Urban Sector demonstrates how fluctuations in inter urban relationships affected the content pace and language of English politics during the tumultuous fifteenth century In particular the volume presents a new interpretation of the Wars of the Roses in which the relative strength of the urban sector determined the success of kings and their challengers and moulded the content of the political programmes they advocated Romance and Its Contexts in Fifteenth-century England Raluca L. Radulescu, 2013 Although the anonymous pious Middle English romances and Sir Thomas Malory's Morte Darthur have rarely been studied in relation to each other they in fact share at least two thematic concerns vocabularies of suffering and genealogical concerns as this book demonstrates By examining a broad cultural and political framework stretching from Richard II's deposition to the end of the Wars of the Roses through the prism of piety politics and penitence the author draws attention to the specific circumstances in which Sir Isumbras Sir Gowther Roberd of Cisely Henry Lovelich's History of the Holy Grail and Malory's Morte were read in fifteenth century England In the case of the pious romances this implies a study of their reception long after their original composition or translation centuries earlier in Lovelich's case an examination of metropolitan culture leads to an opening of the discussion to French romance models as well as English chronicle writing Architecture and Material Politics in the Fifteenth-century Ottoman Empire Patricia Blessing, 2022-08-18 In this book Patricia Blessing explores the emergence of Ottoman architecture in the fifteenth century and its connection with broader geographical contexts Analyzing how transregional exchange shaped building practices she examines how workers from Anatolia the Mediterranean the Balkans and Iran and Central Asia participated in key construction projects She also demonstrates how drawn scalable models on paper served as templates for architectural decorations and supplemented collaborations that involved the mobility of workers Blessing reveals how the creation of centralized workshops led to the emergence of a clearly defined imperial Ottoman style by 1500 when the flexibility and experimentation of the preceding century was levelled Her book radically transforms our understanding of Ottoman architecture by exposing the diverse and fluid nature of its formative period It also provides the reader with an understanding of design planning and construction processes of a major empire of the Islamic world Love, Religion and Politics in Fifteenth Century Spain Ian Macpherson, Angus

MacKay, 2023-08-21 Ian Macpherson and Angus MacKay bring together versions in English of sixteen articles published in journals and festschrift volumes over the past two decades The articles are revised and selected from those which deal with questions of love religion and politics in the fifteenth century Kingdom of Spain Ian Macpherson is a linguist and literary critic who aims to set his judgements in a historical and social context and Angus MacKay a historian whose writings are informed by an awareness of the social context and literary production of the Spanish fifteenth century The two authors have collaborated on many occasions and the joint volume provides insights into the complex relationships between real life and imaginative writing in this turbulent period of Spanish history Fifteenth-Century Studies Edelgard E. DuBruck, Barbara

Gusick, 2001-03 Founded in 1977 as the publication organ for the Fifteenth Century Symposium Fifteenth Century Studies has appeared annually since then It publishes essays on all aspects of life in the fifteenth century including literature drama history philosophy art music religion science and ritual and custom The editors strive to do justice to the most contested medieval century a period that is the stepchild of research The period defies consensus on fundamental issues some dispute in fact whether the fifteenth century belonged at all to the middle ages arguing that it was a period of transition a passage to modern times At issue therefore is the very tenor of an age that stood under the tripartite influence of Gutenberg the Turks and Columbus Volume 26 contains the customary survey of research on late medieval drama There are six articles on French literature four on German topics two on Italian art one on Spanish medieval predication and three on English literary matters Six of the articles focus on women and misogyny Further topics include popular approaches to problems of daily living the crusades and mysticism an early warning against excess in travel and exploration the conduct of princes as described in chronicles the so called Pope Joan theater including farces passion pageants and triumphant entries of princes critique of the estates the function of authors and their rights duties and privileges There are 17 book reviews and two obituary dedications The volume has been assembled with special care for style excellence of research and variety of approaches Edelgard DuBruck is professor emerita of Modern Languages at Marygrove College Detroit Michigan Barbara Gusick is professor emerita of English at Troy University Dothan Dothan Alabama Politics, Patronage and the Transmission of Knowledge in

13th - 15th Century Tabriz Judith Pfeiffer, 2013-11-07 In Politics Patronage and the Transmission of Knowledge in 13th 15th Century Tabriz an international group of specialists from different disciplines investigate the role of Tabriz as one of the foremost centres of learning cultural productivity and politics in post Mongol Iran and the Middle East While standard accounts of Islamic history have long presented the 13th to 15th centuries as the bottom of the decline paradigm of old the present volume demonstrates the vibrancy and originality of the intellectual and cultural production of this period by focusing on Tabriz among other capitals of the region The volume particularly explores the transmission of knowledge and institutional and cultural patronage in the post Mongol period Contributors include Reuven Amitai Nourane Ben Azzouna Sheila Blair Devin DeWeese Joachim Gierlich Birgitt Hoffmann Domenico Ingenito Robert Morrison Ertu rul kten Judith Pfeiffer Johannes Preiser Kapeller F Jamil Ragep and Patrick Wing

Performance, Poetry and Politics on the Queen's Day Virginia Scott, Sara Sturm-Maddox, 2017-03-02 This collaborative interdisciplinary study explores a variety of issues in theatrical and literary history that converge in two performances given at the palace of Fontainebleau on 13 February 1564 Part of the fabled F tes de Fontainebleau this carnival Sunday entertainment was produced at the behest of Catherine de Medici and created by courtiers and artists including Pierre de Ronsard the greatest lyric poet of the French sixteenth century While focused on the text and production of Ronsard's Bergerie and the choice and production of the tale of Ginevra from Ariosto's Orlando furioso the study also examines the urgent circumstances of the festival the moment shortly after the end of the First War of Religion was critical and highly charged as well as its political program and the rhetorical strategies employed by Catherine and Ronsard to promote harmony among the opposing factions of nobles The authors exploration of the Queen's Day also leads them to consider a range of questions pertaining to Renaissance and early modern court performance practices and literary cultural traditions The book is distinctive in that it crosses disciplinary and national boundaries and in that a number of the issues it addresses have received little or no previous scholarly attention

Ulster and the Isles in the Fifteenth Century Simon Kingston, 2004 Kingston explores the considerable flow of people influence and power from the western islands of Scotland to northeastern Ireland over the period from the defeat of Scots by defenders of the English lordship of Ireland in 1318 at Faughart and the 1390s when the Mac Domhnaill of Antrim Clann Eoin Mhoir had transformed from retained warriors or seasonal mercenaries into locals Distributed in the US by ISBS Annotation 2004 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews.com

Poetry, Politics and Culture Akshaya Kumar, 2014-03-14 This book maps the journey of the Indian poetic imagination in Hindi Panjabi and Indian English from its original quasi spiritual longings to its activist interventions in the public domain As

Indian poetry of the post 1990s gravitates towards a non Orientalised postcolonial nationalism it seeks to rewrite and disseminate the shifting coordinates of nationalist imagination in terms of the dissent of the subaltern discontents of the nation The book is interdisciplinary it studies Indian poetry from the new emerging imperatives of postcolonialism new historiography subaltern dalit and diasporas nationalism and cultural studies Covering the two major north Indian languages Hindi and Punjabi along with poetry in Indian English the book is a close textual study of about 150 poetry collections in these languages It is path breaking in its study of secular poetry written in the so called vernaculars with critical attention to its participation in the political as well as cultural processes of nation making This cutting edge book should be of interest to scholars of Indian writings in English Hindi and Panjabi gender studies dalit and diaspora studies postcolonial poetry and to students reading South Asian literature and culture

The Politics of Households in Ottoman Egypt Jane

Hathaway,2002-04-04 In a lucidly argued revisionist study of Ottoman Egypt first published in 1996 Jane Hathaway challenges the traditional view that Egypt s military elite constituted a revival of the institutions of the Mamluk sultanate The author contends that the framework within which this elite operated was the household a conglomerate of patron client ties that took various forms In this respect she argues Egypt s elite represented a provincial variation on an empire wide household based political culture The study focuses on the Qazdagli household Originally a largely Anatolian contingent within Egypt s Janissary regiment the Qazdaglis dominated Egypt by the late eighteenth century Using Turkish and Arabic archival sources Jane Hathaway sheds light on the manner in which the Qazdaglis exploited the Janissary rank hierarchy while forming strategic alliances through marriage commercial partnerships and the patronage of palace eunuchs

Court Politics, Culture and Literature in Scotland and England, 1500-1540 Mr Jon Robinson, 2013-04-28 The focus of this study is court literature in early sixteenth century England and Scotland Author Jon Robinson examines courtly poetry and drama in the context of a complex system of entertainment education self-fashioning dissimulation propaganda and patronage He places selected works under close critical scrutiny to explore the symbiotic relationship that existed between court literature and important socio-political economic and national contexts of the period 1500 to 1540 The first two chapters discuss the pervasive influence of patronage upon court literature through an analysis of the panegyric verse that surrounded the coronation of Henry VIII The rhetorical strategies adopted by courtiers within their literary works however differed depending on whether the writer was at the time of writing the verse or drama excluded or included from the environs of the court The different often elaborate rhetorical strategies are through close readings of selected verse delineated and discussed in chapter three on David Lyndsay and chapter four on Thomas Wyatt and Thomas Elyot Wyatt's integrity his honest persona is however in chapter five shown to have been a façade deliberately and adroitly crafted by the poet that allowed him to survive and flourish within a world of political intrigue at the Henrician court Literature at times could be appropriated by the sovereign and specifically crafted on his behalf to further national and personal political objectives The possibilities of this appropriation are explored in the final chapter through a scholarly informed imaginative analysis of the works of Buchanan Dunbar and Wyatt
