Washington DC and journeyed out West to teach Native children in Nebraska and Dakota Territory She hoped her missionary work would improve the lives of the Dakota and Lakota Sioux people by helping them assimilate into white culture following the predominant government policy at the time But after years of living among the Native people it was Cora s perceptions of life love and faith that were transformed It began with her friendship with Elizabeth Winyan a remarkable Dakota woman who was a model of strength compassion and adaptability among her people Winyan became a maternal figure for Cora in the strange land so far from the civilized city She even saved Cora from being married against her will Then Cora met Sam Campbell a man from Scottish and Sioux stock They fell in love and were married though the match made national headlines after Cora s family disowned her The couple struggled to find a place in the American frontier straddling two worlds For years their marriage was grist for the yellow press and they became a sensational national story that led them to a brief stint as a sideshow attraction for traveling exhibitions and dime museums to support themselves They would never live happily ever after and the couple was plagued by racist rhetoric and sexist slander even after their divorce Life Painted Red details Cora s experiences from her Washington DC exodus to her years living among the Sioux and her scandalous short lived marriage to Sam Campbell
