From El Dorado to Lost Horizons Ken Windrum, 2019-03-25 Investigates how musicals, war films, sex comedies, and Westerns dealt with contentious issues during a time of change in Hollywood. The era, known as the Hollywood Renaissance, is celebrated as a time when revolutionary movies broke all the rules of the previous classical era, as part of the ferment of the late 1960s and early 1970s. Yet many films during this era did not overtly smash the system but provided more traditional entertainment based on popular genres for a wider audience than the youth culture who flocked to more transgressive fare. Ken Windrum focuses on four genres of traditionalist movies: big budget musicals, war spectacles, naughty sex comedies, and Westerns. From El Dorado to Lost Horizons shows how even seemingly innocuous family-oriented films still participated in the progressive aspects of the time while also holding a conservative point of view. Windrum analyzes representations of issues including gender roles, marriage, sexuality, civil rights, and Cold War foreign policy, revealing how these films dealt with changing times and reflected both status quo positions and new attitudes He also examines how the movies continued or deviated from classical principles of structure and style Windrum provides a counter history of the Hollywood Renaissance by focusing on a group of important films that have nevertheless been neglected in scholarly accounts This book is detailed and insightful in discussing the traditional classical and maverick but ultimately recuperative qualities of the mainstream films of the period Windrum s discussion of the narrative structure and stylistic elements of the films both classical and innovative is a highlight of the book Glenn Feldman author of Radical Visions American Film Renaissance 1967-1976 Lost Horizon James Hilton, 1957 Bestseller British Classics of James Hilton : Time and Time Again/Lost Horizon/Random
