Make Do And Mend Home Front S:

The Home Front Pocket Manual, 1939-1945 Lucinda Gosling,2020-04-09 This compilation of WWII era magazine articles is a really useful reference guide covering aspects of life in the 1940s packed with information Home Front History This manual brings together articles from stylish contemporary magazines of Britain during the World War II era including Britannia what to do with the family car augmenting rationed foods and turning them into tasty meals contributing to the war effort by keeping livestock salvaging valuable materials and growing food all of course while remaining fashionable and keeping up appearances

The Home Front in Britain Janis Lomas,2014-10-29 The Home Front in Britain explores the British Home Front in the last 100 years since the outbreak of WW1 Case studies critically analyse the meaning and images of the British home and family in times war challenging prevalent myths of how working and domestic life was shifted by national conflict

Designing the Domestic Posthuman Colbey Emmerson Reid,Dennis M. Weiss,2023-12-28 Ever since TIME magazine s 1983 Man of the Year was the PC we have been led to believe that our domestic spaces have been colonized by digital technology Too little attention has been paid to the domestic spaces and inhabitants impacted by this and critical posthumanism has been captured by a picture of humanity overly indebted to digital technologies and their largely male progenitors By applying feminist theory to posthumanism this work recovers the plethora of sophisticated human technology mediations associated with the home and practiced primarily by women the elderly infants the disabled and across cultures globally challenging dominant contemporary visions of a future humanity Authors Dennis M Weiss and Colbey Emmerson Reid look at various iterations of the posthuman and assert the need for alternative feminist readings that emphasize different standpoints from which to assess people places and products Chapters address the impact of posthumanism on design theory and look at familiar domestic objects with different attributes from those typically affiliated with technology and the future such as clothing textiles ceramics furniture and wallpaper They reveal their unhomely extra human qualities and offer a much needed perspective on domestic spaces and practices revivifying the home as a site of species transformation and pushing beyond traditional understandings of person mothering families and care giving to highlight a range of critically overlooked mediated materialisms and embodiments affiliated with domestic space By focusing on the neglected intersection of the posthuman with the home and exploring domestic posthuman design Designing the Domestic Posthuman offers a vision of a future humanity that retains identity integrity and considers our relationship to others to the world and things in it This book widens the lens of critical focus in posthumanism feminist philosophy and design and presents an alternative inclusive design framework for the future

Living on the Home Front Megan Westley,2013-09-15 What was life really like in Britain during the Second World War Megan Westley finds out

DIY Utopia Amber Day,2016-12-22 At first glance contemporary popular culture filled with bleak images of the future seems to have given up on the possibility of positive collective change Below the surface however alternative culture is rife with artist led projects activist movements and subcultural communities of interest that seek to spark the collective imagination and to encourage hunger for alternatives More playfully self conscious than past utopian movements today s are often whimsical or ironic but are still entirely earnest Artists invite us to re author city maps or archive individual ideas for the future while maker collectives urge us to rethink our relationship to consumer goods All seem to have grown out of a similar do it yourself ethos and alternative culture One of the central conflicts informing these case studies is that while it remains immensely difficult to envision anything outside of the current system of consumer capitalism there is nevertheless a powerful desire to take it apart in piecemeal ways We see the longing for new social and political narratives new forms of communion and sociability and new imaginings of the possible longings that are currently unmet by mainstream culture but that are taking expression in myriad ways at the local level Taken as a whole this collection examines what our grand ideals and playful daydreams tell us about ourselves

Me and My Hair Patricia Malcolmson,2013-03-04 Good hair day Bad hair day Hair has always evoked strong emotions In this fascinating book Patricia Malcolmson examines how British women over the past 150 years have managed their hair from the extravagant styles of the late nineteenth century to the anything goes attitude of today taking in along the way the daring bobs of the 1920s the wartime styles of women in uniform the slavish copying of Hollywood stars the beehive the hippy and the Goth In Me and My Hair you ll hear the voices of women from around Britain talking about their hair whether it s their longing to have Shirley Temple curls the visits of the nit nurse their first home perm roasting under hood dryers going platinum blonde hilarious experiments with hair extensions or fears of going grey

And This Is My Friend Sandy Deborah Philips,2021-03-25 This book situates the production of The Boy Friend and the Players Theatre in the context of a post war London and reads The Boy Friend and Wilson s later work as exercises in contemporary camp It argues for Wilson as a significant and transitional figure both for musical theatre and for modes of homosexuality in the context of the pre Wolfenden 1950s Sandy Wilson s The Boy Friend is one of the most successful British musicals ever written First produced at the Players Theatre Club in London in 1953 it transferred to the West End and Broadway making a star out of Julie Andrews and gave Twiggy a leading role in Ken Russell s 1971 film adaptation Despite this success little is known about Wilson a gay writer working in Britain in the 1950s at a time when homosexuality was illegal Drawing on original research assembled from the Wilson archives at the Harry Ransom Center this is the first critical study of Wilson as a key figure of 1950s British theatre Beginning with the often overlooked context of the Players Theatre Club through to Wilson s relationship to industry figures such as Binkie Beaumont Noël Coward and Ivor Novello this study explores the work in the broader history of Soho gay culture As well as a critical perspective on The Boy Friend later works such as Divorce Me Darling The Buccaneer and Valmouth are examined as well as uncompleted musical versions of Pygmalion and Goodbye to Berlin to give a comprehensive and original perspective on one of British theatre s most celebrated yet overlooked talents

this insightful book Cat Mahoney offers a fascinating analysis of contemporary TV dramas such as Home Fires Land Girls and The Bletchley Circle Developing the idea that history is told through the preoccupations of the present she argues compellingly that these are postfeminist dramas which work through troubling ideas about heteronormative romance domesticity beauty and whiteness while reinforcing the idea that feminism as a political movement is not necessary A bold and original contribution to television studies gender studies and popular history Rosalind Gill City University of London UK By examining contemporary television drama set during and immediately after the Second World War this book illustrates the ways in which postfeminism has shaped representations of women in contemporary culture Mahoney offers a new perspective to debates that have previously been concerned with questions of historical accuracy She argues that depictions of women from the past in modern television drama spawn from the neoliberal postfeminist media climate which originated in the 1990s These depictions respond to a cultural need to naturalise and de historicise a version of neoliberal postfeminist femininity that is compatible with the current media climate and far more reflective of the concerns of the present than any real or lived experience of women in the past The result of this process of naturalisation is the assertion that postfeminist values are natural and eternal rather than a product of the 1980s economic turn and the present political moment By identifying and interrogating postfeminist norms within four television drama series produced since the 2008 financial crash this book argues that postfeminism is a dominant structuring force in their depiction of female characters and of the past

Maps: their untold stories Rose Mitchell, Andrew Janes, 2014-09-11 A map is a snapshot of a place a city a nation or even the world at a given point in time fascinating for what they tell us about the way our ancestors saw themselves their neighbours and their place in the world This magnificent collection drawn from seven centuries of maps held in the National Archives at Kew looks at a variety of maps from those found in 14th Century manuscripts through early estate maps to sea charts maps used in military campaigns and maps from treaties The text explores who the mapmakers were the purposes for which the maps were made and what it tells us about the politics of the time Great images are accompanied by compelling stories Featured is a woodcut map of 16th Century London a map of where the bombs fell during the Second World War and a map the first American settlers drew when they were attempting to establish a new empire on Roanoke Island off the coast of what is now North Carolina Richly illustrated with large scale reproductions of the maps the book also includes some of the more amusing or esoteric maps from the National Archives such as the map of the Great Exhibition in 1851 that was presented on a lady's glove a London Underground map in the form of a cucumber and a Treasure Island map used to advertise National Savings This is a fascinating and unusual journey through the world of maps and mapmakers

Nationalising Femininity Christine Gledhill, Gillian Swanson, 1996 What was the relation between gender and nation when the waiting woman was displaced by the mobile woman and homes were flattened by bombs What happened to notions of femininity sexual difference and class as women moved into the workplace and donned dungarees military uniforms and utility clothing A Different Sound Elizabeth Bowen, Daphne du Maurier, Elizabeth Taylor, 2024-04-02 Elegant timeless and riveting an exciting anthology of short stories by mid century women writers from Britain and Ireland many being published in America for the first time These remarkable short stories from the 1940s and 50s depict women and men caught between the pull of personal desires and profound social change From a remote peninsula in Cornwall to the drawing rooms of the British Raj domestic arrangements are rewritten social customs are revoked and new freedoms are embraced Selected and introduced by writer and critic Lucy Scholes Senior Editor at McNally Editions this collection places works from renowned women writers alongside recently rediscovered voices Contains The Cut Finger by Frances Bellerby Summer Night by Elizabeth Bowen The Birds by Daphne du Maurier The Land Girl by Diana Gardner Listen to the Magnolias by Stella Gibbons Shocking Weather Isn't It by Inez Holden The First Party by Attia Hosain Three Miles Up by Elizabeth Jane Howard The Skylight by Penelope Mortimer The Thames Spread Out by Elizabeth Taylor Scorched Earth Policy by Sylvia Townsend Warner Suffused with tension and longing the captivating stories collected here from acclaimed as well as lesser known women writers form a window onto a remarkable era of writing World War II Richard Holmes, 2009-01-30 This defining period in world history is explored and explained as never before World War II is captured in hundreds of compelling images presenting the people places and politics involved in the epic conflict Inside this complete visual guide is chronological coverage of the lead up to war major military battles around the globe and the aftermath that still influences and impacts our world today You'll meet the key players in thought provoking profiles and discover their experiences firsthand from national leaders sounding the orders to combatants on the frontline and civilians left behind Standout moments including Pearl Harbor Hiroshima and the D Day landings are revealed in rarely seen color photographs and unforgettable eyewitness accounts Explosive photography international maps accessible text and supporting timelines combine to show the most destructive event ever known in unprecedented depth and detail Although the complexities of World War II can be hard to fathom this standout reference is organized in a logical order and the supporting captions are concise and clear throughout to aid understanding World War II provides an unparalleled account of this devastating conflict so we never forget and continue to learn from the past This title differs from DK's previous World War II title in that it is a spread by spread account la History with previous and following tabs placing each spread in chronological context of the war rather than a narrative that needs to be read from start to finish Transitioning to a Post-Carbon Society Ernest Garcia, Mercedes Martinez-Iglesias, Peadar Kirby, 2016-12-27 This book deals with one of the most pressing social and environmental issues that we face today The transition to a post carbon society in which the consumption of fossil fuels decreases over time has become an inevitability due to the need to prevent catastrophic climate change the increasing cost and scarcity of energy and complex combinations of both of these factors As the authors point out this will not only entail political adjustments and the replacement of some technologies by others but will be accompanied by social and cultural changes that bring about substantial modifications in our societies and ways of life This book examines whether the current conditions which date back to the crisis that began in 2007 favour a benign and smooth transition or will make it more difficult and prone to conflict It argues that even if this transformation is unavoidable the directions it will take and the resulting social forms are much less certain There will be many post carbon societies the authors conclude and any number of routes to social change

Transitioning to a Post Carbon Society therefore represents a significant contribution to global debates on the environment and is vital reading for academics policymakers business leaders NGOs and the general public alike The Ministry of

Thin Emma Woolf,2014-06-10 We re obsessed with weight we dislike our bodies we worry about the food we eat we feel guilty we diet Too many of us are locked into a war with our own bodies which we ll never win and which will never make us happy The Ministry of Thin takes a controversial unflinching look at how the modern international obsession with weight loss youth beauty and perfection has spun out of control Emma Woolf author of An Apple a Day explores how we might all be able to stop hating and start liking our own bodies again She rallies against the industries of food health exercise beauty sex and surgery that seek to create a world that verges on the Orwellian with the victims of this onslaught trapped and dominated by the societal pressures to conform And she dares to ask if losing weight is the answer what is the question British Humour and the Second World War Juliette Pattinson,Linsey Robb,2023-06-01 This book skilfully combines cutting edge historical research by leading and emerging researchers in the field to investigate the utilization of British humour during the Second World War as well as its legacy in British popular culture Juliette Pattinson and Linsey Robb bring together case studies that address a variety of situations in which humour was generated including wartime jokes films radio cartoons and private drawings as well as post war recollections museum exhibitions and television comedy By adopting an original interpretative framework of various wartime and post war sites this books opens up the possibility for a more variegated richer analysis of Britain s wartime experience and its place thereafter in the cultural imagination Through the lens of humour this book promises to add critical nuance to our understanding of the functioning of British wartime society Covering sources such as The British Cartoon Archive BBC World War II People s War Archive and The Ministry of Information and including analysis of the lasting role of comedy in Britain s memories and depictions of the war the result is a rich addition to existing literature of use to students and scholars studying the cultural history of war Come on Down? Dominic Strinati,Stephen

Wagg,2004-02-24 Come on Down represents an introduction to popular media culture in Britain since 1945 It discusses the ways in which popular culture can be studied understood and appreciated and covers its key analytical issues and some of its most important forms and processes The contributors analyse some of popular culture s leading and most representative expressions such as TV soaps quizzes and game shows TV for children media treatment of the monarchy Pop Music Comedy Advertising Consumerism and Americanization The diversity of both subject matter and argument is the most distinctive feature of the collection making it a much needed and extremely accessible interdisciplinary introduction to the study of popular media culture The contributors many of them leading figures in their respective areas of study represent a number of different approaches which themselves reflect the diversity and promise of contemporary theoretical debates Their studies encompass issues such as the economics of popular culture its textual complexity and its interpretations by audiences as well as concepts such as ideology material culture and postmodernism What an Experience! Sally Munn,2022-10-28 From almost her first day Sally knew she did not want the Iver Nature Study Centre INSC in Buckinghamshire to be just an ordinary centre She wanted it to be one where she could create activities which would inspire all visitors young old able bodied and those with special needs to appreciate our natural world This is the amazing story of how so many people the majority out of curiosity visited INSC before becoming one of a special band of volunteers during the eighteen years Sally was the manager Each gave their time expertise and professionalism to help provide visitors young and old with interesting enjoyable innovative hands on fun and memorable activities all of which were related to the environment Working together they would make sure the many visitors and users would enjoy learning from the variety of environmental activities adapting these to suit participants needs No one was turned away Laughter was the wonderful sound echoing throughout the INSC site It was most frequently heard from children having their first encounter with a real bat or learning apples grow on trees and potatoes in soil but not in supermarket displays discovering the fun educational side of space exploration stroking snakes and being amazed by the length of a blue whale when standing alongside a life sized jigsaw which they put together in their car park Adults visiting out of curiosity attending an open day learning a new skill doing a bit of gardening or just enjoying a stroll around the garden often followed by afternoon tea on the patio always included laughter in the mix The Iver Nature Study Centre really did offer something for everyone Be prepared This story of life at INSC is a unique experience

History's Queer Stories Natalie Marena Nobitz,2018-10-04 Critical analysis of the dramatisation of homosexuality in British fiction about the Second World War is noticeable only by its relative absence from the field Whereas feminist literary criticism has broadened the canon of war fiction to include narratives by and about women queer scholars have seldom focused on literary representations of homosexuality during the war Natalie Marena Nobitz closes a glaring gap in the critical attention of four novels dealing with the disruption of gender roles and institutionalised heteronormativity Walter Baxter s Look Down in Mercy 1951 Mary Renault s The Charioteer 1953 Sarah Waters The Night Watch 2006 and Adam Fitzroy s Make Do and Mend 2012 The Home Front Susan Briggs,1975 Great Britain during WWII as shown through photographs and drawn media Festivals and Edutainment Giulia Rossetti,Brianna Wyatt,Jane Ali-Knight,2023-09-29 As the first collection of studies to explore the use of edutainment within festival experiences this book extends current knowledge and understanding of festival experiences Relying on a series of international case studies this book offers readers unique and important insights that emphasise the benefit of edutainment activities for enhanced audience learning engagement and festival satisfaction Although there is an ample amount of studies concerning festival experiences as well as the use of edutainment within tourism few have explored the use of edutainment within festival experiences This oversight has created a lack in knowledge and understanding despite the clear benefits of enjoyable learning experiences edutainment Moreover it has created a gap between academia and practice as the contributing authors have demonstrated festivals are utilising edutainment to enhance their audience experience yet scholars have failed to acknowledge this In response to this oversight the editors have assembled a carefully curated collection of chapters that include a wide range of international case studies from science and food festivals to heritage and dark festivals Through a variety of methodologies and methods including interviews observations databases netnography and social media analysis in both face to face and digital interactions involving the festival participants organisers and other relevant stakeholders the contributing authors have provided a well rounded global perspective on how edutainment is applied within festival experiences This book is valuable for scholars festival organisers policy makers and students interested in or studying festivals events edutainment and or experience design Other tourism industry scholars professionals and students of for example visitor attractions museums theatre and hospitality services may also find this book of value considering their established use of edutainment within their sectors
