Making Development Work Vol 4 Development Learning In A World Of Poverty And Wealth:

Revolutionizing Development Andrea Cornwall, Ian Scoones, 2022-03-28 This book tells the story of development studies in practice over the last fifty years through the work of one remarkable individual Robert Chambers His work has taken him from being a colonial officer in Kenya through training and managing large rural development projects to a fundamental critique of top down development and the championing of participatory approaches The contributors eloquently demonstrate how he has been at the centre of major shifts in development thinking and practice over this period popularising terms that are now at the centre of the development lexicon such as vulnerability multi dimensional poverty sustainable livelihoods and farmer first Robert Chambers played a major role in the massive growth in participatory approaches to development and particularly the application of participatory methods in development research and appraisal This has led to fundamental challenges to development practice ranging from approaches to monitoring and evaluation to institutional learning and professional training There is probably no one who has had more influence on approaches to development in the past decades Revolutionizing Development offers a unique overview of these contributions in thirty two concise chapters from authors who have been intimately involved as collaborators critics and colleagues of Robert Chambers

Making Development Work Robert Selman, 2018-01-16 Worldwide the number of poor people increased during the past decade despite technological improvements more open trade and improved policy frameworks in developing countries Regional conflicts adverse shifts in terms of trade and marginalization of poor countries in the new global economy explain this outcome This highlights the need to reform development assistance and improve its effectiveness Making Development Work examines the four key principles of the Comprehensive Development Framework a World Bank initiative currently being piloted in twelve developing countries The initiative promotes a holistic long term vision of development domestic ownership of development programs and focus on results and stronger partnership between government the private sector and the civil society The first section of the volume describes the evolution in development thinking that culminated in this new consensus The second focuses on country ownership of development policies and programs Based on empirical evidence it proposes a new view of the aid relationship as a mutual learning process The third section focuses on results and on the ways aid agencies might enhance development impact of their operations It concludes with a preliminary assessment of strategies for scaling up from specific projects to sector and programmatic approaches and suggests ways to adapt them to counter conditions The experience of a bilateral aid agency U S Agency for International Development USAID is examined in this context The fourth section focuses on partnership emphasizing that aid agencies must be explicit about the kinds of partnerships they seek with countries and the kinds of strategic selectivity they will exercise The final chapter pulls together the lessons of development experience at various levels of operation It outlines key tensions between comprehensiveness and selectivity ownership and conditionality speed and broad based ownership focus on results and poor local evaluation capacity and enhanced country focus and globalization Promising approaches to manage these tensions are put forward to replace one size fits all prescriptions with client empowerment and social learning Making Development Work offers rich lessons on improving the effectiveness of aid It will be of particular interest to development practitioners students and professors of development economics studies Nagy Hanna is a lead corporate strategist and evaluation officer at the World Bank He has published extensively on development management and knowledge Robert Picciotto is director general of Operations Evaluation at the World Bank

Evaluating Climate Change and Development Osvaldo N. Feinstein, 2017-07-28 Climate change has become one of the most important global issues of our time with far reaching natural socio economic and political effects To address climate change and development issues from the perspective of evaluation an international conference was held in Alexandria Egypt This book distills the essence of that timely conference building on the experiences of more than 400 reports and studies presented Developing countries may be particularly vulnerable to the expected onslaught of higher temperatures rising sea levels changing waterfall patterns and increasing natural disasters All societies will have to reduce their vulnerability to these changes and this book describes how vulnerabilities may be addressed in a systematic manner so that governments and local communities may better understand what is happening Different approaches are also discussed including the use of human security as a criterion for evaluation as well as ways to deal with risk and uncertainty Evaluating Climate Change and Development presents a rich variety of methods to assess adaptation through monitoring and evaluation The volume deals with climate change development and evaluation challenges and lessons learned from evaluations mitigation of climate change adaptation to climate change vulnerability risks and climate change and presents a concluding chapter on the road ahead Collectively the authors offer a set of approaches and techniques for the monitoring and evaluation of climate change

e-Transformation: Enabling New Development Strategies Nagy K. Hanna, 2009-11-11 Could information and communication technology ICT become the transformative tool for a new style of global development Could ICT promote knowledge based innovation driven and smart adaptive participatory development As countries seek a way out of the present period of economic contraction they are trying to weave ICT into their development strategies in the same way organizations have learned to use ICT to transform their business models and strategies This integration offers a new path to development that is responsive to the challenges of our times In e Transformation Nagy Hanna identifies the key ingredients for the strategic integration of ICT into national development with examples from around the world He draws on his rich experience of over 35 years at the World Bank and other aid agencies to outline the strategic options involved in using ICT to maximize developmental impact transforming public service institutions networking businesses for innovation and competitiveness and empowering communities for social inclusion and poverty reduction He identifies the key interdependencies in e transformation and offers a holistic framework to tap network effects and synergies across all elements of the process including leadership cyber policies institutions human resources technological competencies information infrastructure and ICT uses for government business and society Integrating analytical insights and practical applications across the fields of development political economy public administration entrepreneurship and technology management the author candidly argues that e transformation like all bold ideas faces implementation challenges In particular the aspiration reality gap needs to be systematically addressed if ICT enabled innovation and transformation is to become a development practice E transformation is first and foremost about thinking strategically and creatively about the options made possible by the information technology revolution in the context of globalization To this end the author provides tools and best practices designed to nurture innovation select entry points prioritize among competing demands and sequence and scale up He outlines the roles of all participants political managerial entrepreneurial social and technical whose leadership is essential for successful innovation

Ideas for Development

Robert Chambers, 2013-06-17 The many ideas and opportunities include narrowing the gaps between words and actions reducing demands on administrative capacity using minimum rules non negotiables and downward accountability to transform power relations finding new potentials for participation improving scaling up critical reflection and experiential learning complementing rights based with obligations based approaches pro poor realism and responsible well being

Transforming Government and Building the Information Society Nagy K. Hanna, 2010-03-20 Information and communication technology ICT is central to reforming governance innovating public services and building inclusive information societies Countries are learning to weave ICT into their strategies for transforming government as enterprises have learned to use ICT to innovate and transform their processes and competitive strategies ICT enabled transformation offers a new path to digital era government that is responsive to the challenges of our time It facilitates innovation partnering knowledge sharing community organizing local monitoring accelerated learning and participatory development In Transforming Government and Building the Information Society Nagy Hanna draws on multi disciplinary research on ICT in the public sector and on his rich experience of over 35 years at the World Bank and other aid agencies to identify the key ingredients for the strategic integration of ICT into governance and poverty reduction strategies The author showcases promising practices from around the world to outline the strategic options involved in using ICT to maximize developmental impact transforming government institutions and public services and empowering communities for inclusion and grassroots innovation Despite the ICT promise Hanna acknowledges that reforming governance and empowering poor communities are difficult long term undertakings Hanna moves beyond the imperatives and visions of e transformation to strategic design and implementation options and draws practical lessons for policymakers reformers innovators community leaders ICT specialists and development experts

Forthcoming Books

Rose Arny, 2002-04 Enabling Enterprise Transformation Nagy K. Hanna, 2009-12-11 Private enterprises in advanced economies have been learning to use information and communication technology ICT to innovate and transform their processes products services and business models significantly improving productivity and competitiveness Moreover the ICT industry itself has become a major source of job creation and a contributor to economic growth and business transformation A key question today is whether and how developing countries can learn to benefit from the ICT revolution and what roles the government and private sector can play Already a number of developing countries have been inspired by the example of India and China and are now seeking to jump on the outsourcing bandwagon Nevertheless with few exceptions in the developing world little attention has been paid by policymakers and practitioners to invest systematically and proactively in

ICT enabled growth poverty reduction and grassroots innovation Most communities and small and medium sized enterprises in developing countries for example face multiple constraints to adopting and leveraging this general purpose technology and lack the capabilities for maximizing its potential In Enabling Enterprise Transformation Nagy Hanna draws on his rich experience of over 35 years at the World Bank and other aid agencies as a development strategist and ICT policy expert the most current research and best practices from around the world to provide practical tools for promoting economic and social transformation through ICT He assesses various initiatives to develop and diffuse ICT such as innovation funds incubators parks public private partnerships and comprehensive promotion programs He argues for the strategic options now open for developing countries to participate in ICT production to deploy ICT to transform industries and services and to leverage ICT as a new national infrastructure for improving the business environment and enhancing the competitiveness of the whole economy The challenge for leaders in developing countries is to create such social and institutional dynamics for learning about ICT use and adaptation at many levels Lessons gained so far from programs to build these social learning and innovation capabilities at the institutional and grassroots levels should be shared among developing countries and a dialogue among business leaders policymakers development agencies educational institutions and the general citizenry must be advanced Global E-governance Jirapon Tubtimhin,G. Making Development Work Vol 4 Development Learning In A World Of Poverty And Wealth: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
