Making Love Modern Nina Miller, 1999-01-21 In the teens and twenties New York was home to a rich variety of literary subcultures Within these intermingled worlds gender lines and other boundaries were crossed in ways hardly imaginable in previous decades Among the bohemians of Greenwich Village the sophisticates of the Algonquin Round Table and the literati of the Harlem Renaissance certain women found fresh powerful voices through which to speak and write Edna St Vincent Millay and Dorothy Parker are now best remembered for their colorful lives Genevieve Taggard Gwendolyn Bennett and Helene Johnson are hardly remembered at all Yet each made a serious literary contribution to the meaning of modern femininity relationship and selfhood Making Love Modern uncovers the deep historical sensitivity and interest of these women s love poetry Placing their work in the context of subcultures nested within national culture Nina Miller explores the tensions that make this literature so rewarding for contemporary readers A poetry of intimate expression it also functioned powerfully as public assertion The writers themselves were high profile embodiments of femininity the local representatives of New Womanhood within their male centered subcultural worlds Making Love Modern captures the literary lives of these women as well as the complex subcultures they inhabited Harlem the Village and glamorous Midtown In the end the book is as much a study of modernist New York as of women s love poetry during modernism Making Love in the Twelfth Century, 2016-04-29 New sparkling translations of the Letters of Two Lovers the Tegernese Letters and selections from the Regensburg Songs Nine hundred years ago in Paris a teacher and his brilliant female student fell in love and chronicled their affair in a passionate correspondence Their 116 surviving letters some whole and some fragmentary are composed in eloquent highly rhetorical Latin Since their discovery in the late twentieth century the Letters of Two Lovers have aroused much attention because of their extreme rarity They constitute the longest correspondence by far between any two persons from the entire Middle Ages and they are private rather than institutional which means that according to all we know about the transmission of medieval letters they should not have survived at all Adding to their mystery the letters are copied anonymously in a single late fifteenth century manuscript although their style and range of reference place them squarely in the early twelfth century Can this collection of correspondence be the previously lost love letters of Abelard and Heloise And even if not what does it tell us about the lived experience of love in the twelfth century Barbara Newman contends that these teacher student exchanges bear witness to a culture that linked Latin pedagogy with the practice of ennobling love and the cult of friendship during a relatively brief period when women played an active part in that world Newman presents a new translation of these extraordinary letters along with a full commentary and two extended essays that parse their literary and intellectual contexts and chart the course of the doomed affair Included too are two other sets of twelfth century love epistles the Tegernsee Letters and selections from the Regensburg Songs Taken together they constitute a stunning contribution to the study of the history of emotions by one of our most prominent medievalists Love, Sex, and Romance: Beautiful Love Poems for the Heart MR Ed Starpoet Hendricks, 2012-08-13 The world's deepest book of love poems I wanted to take the reader on a fantastic and love filled journey of the soul and spirit with my thoughts about love and romance My writing style is plain and very easy to understand An added plus is that I tell the reader my thoughts behind each poem before I begin it I write of love that spans space time the stars and the universe I feel that my book will take your heart to places that all lovers dream of Like it did me as I was writing it Ed R Hendricks How to Make Love in A Muskoka Chair Martin Avery, 2008-12-22 A sequence of poems about meditation tai chi yoga and making love in a Muskoka chair Making Love to the Minor Poets of Chicago James Conrad, 2025-09-23 Set against the vibrant backdrop of Chicago this is a story of science and poetry manipulation and intrigue and the lengths to which people will go for their passions The Yucca Mountain Project deep in the Nevada desert is the first planned long term nuclear storage facility The project is designed to contain nuclear waste for ten thousand years the amount of time it will take for the waste to no longer be radioactive It is an ambitious project especially in light of the fact that in this century alone we lacked the foresight to anticipate Y2K Given this daunting responsibility the project employs an artist a botanist and an architect to contribute visual warnings to the site in a manner decipherable to future generations Conrad imagines an influential poetry professor who insists that the project also include a poem a great poem an epic poem It is this poem that brings us to the center of an extended circle of minor poets who are continually upstaging back stabbing and falling in and out of love with one another Conrad's novel recalls another comic first work John Kennedy Toole's A Confederacy of Dunces Nashville Scene Identical Strangers: Poetry Doubles Martin Avery, 2010-08-29 A poetry marathon inspired by meeting someone with my name at a poetry workshop after a novel marathon Latin Love Poetry Denise Eileen McCoskey, Zara M. Torlone, 2013-12-17 I hate and I love The Roman poet

Catullus expressed the disorienting experience of being in love in a stark contradiction that has resonated across the centuries. While his description might seem to modern readers natural and spontaneous, it is actually a response planned with great care and artistry. It is that artistry and the way in which Roman love poetry works that this book explores. Focusing on Catullus and on the later genre of elegy, so called for its metre and a form of poetry practiced by Tibullus, Propertius, and Ovid, Denise Eileen McCoskey and Zara Martirosova Torlone discuss the devices used by the major Roman love poets as well as the literary and historical contexts that helped shape their work. Setting poets and their writings especially against the turbulent backdrop of the Augustan Age (31 BCE–14 CE), the book examines the origins of Latin elegy, highlights the poets' key themes, and traces their reception by later writers and readers. Fire Sharon Adams, 2017-11-07. My memoir Fire is my journey of self-definition and can be best summarized in words of the poet and writer Audre Lorde: "If I didn't define myself, I would be crunched into other people's fantasies for me and eaten alive." My struggle for self-definition was not optional; either I had not faced who I was and acted on it, I could never have harnessed my creative fire and become the woman, storyteller, and poet that I am.

Survival Is a Promise Alexis Pauline Gumbs, 2024-08-20. A Time Must Read Book of the Year Winner of the Judy Grahn Award for Lesbian Nonfiction, A Publishers Weekly Top Ten Book of the Year, Shortlisted for the 2025 Brooklyn Public Library Book Prize. A bold, innovative biography that offers a new understanding of the life, work, and enduring impact of Audre Lorde. We remember Audre Lorde as an iconic writer, a quotable teacher whose words and face grace T-shirts, nonprofit annual reports, and campus diversity center walls. But even those who are inspired by Lorde's teachings on the creative power of difference may be missing something fundamental about her life and work, and what they can mean for us today. Lorde's understanding of survival was not simply about getting through to the other side of oppression or being resilient in the face of cancer. It was about the total stakes of what it means to be in relationship with a planet in transformation. Possibly, the focus on Lorde's quotable essays to the neglect of her complex poems has led us to ignore her deep engagement with the natural world, the planetary dynamics of geology, meteorology, and biology. For her ecological images are not simply metaphors but rather literal guides to how to be of earth on earth and how to survive, to live the ethics that a Black feminist lesbian warrior poetics demands. In Survival Is a Promise, Alexis Pauline Gumbs, the first researcher to explore the full depths of Lorde's manuscript archives, illuminates the eternal life of Lorde. Her life and work become more than a sound bite; they become a cosmic force teaching us the grand contingency of life together on earth.

Since the publication of his first poetry collection Kargun in 1980, Lionel Fogarty has produced some of the most complex, playful, and strident poems written in English, and has been regarded by some as the greatest Aboriginal Australian poet of his generation. While, over the course of his career, Fogarty has had relatively little recognition in awards or grants, recent attention to his work suggests a new turn in how his poetry is read and understood in Australia and overseas. Emerging from these conversations, Lionel Fogarty in Poetry and
