Making Of A Nation In The Balkans:

Making and Remaking the Balkans Robert C. Austin, 2019-01-01 With more than 25 years since the collapse of communism the end of the wars and billions of dollars in aid the Balkans are still characterized by corruption state capture and decidedly unmodern states that are often either weak or authoritarian Taking the contemporary Balkans as a starting point Making and Remaking the Balkans studies the region's history combined with observations based on more than twenty years of field experience Primarily concerned with current issues in the Balkans since 1989 this book explains why the region has endured such a prolonged and fraught transition to democracy and eventual membership in the European Union The young and educated have largely left Governmental crisis and economic stagnation is the norm and much needed regional cooperation has been suppressed by renewed nationalism Wars on corruption have proved to be largely rhetorical Making and Remaking the Balkans offers a systematic study of the issues the entire region faces as it struggles to complete the European integration process at a time when the European Union faces bigger problems elsewhere Humanitarian intervention in the long nineteenth century Alexis Heraclides, Ada Dialla, 2015-07-01 This book is a comprehensive presentation of humanitarian intervention in theory and practice during the course of the nineteenth century Through four case studies it sheds new light on the international law debate and the political theory on intervention linking them to ongoing issues and paying particular attention to the lesser known Russian dimension The book begins by tracing the genealogy of the idea of humanitarian intervention to the Renaissance evaluating the Eurocentric gaze of the civilisation barbarity dichotomy and elucidates the international legal arguments of both advocates and opponents of intervention as well as the views of major political theorists It then goes on to examine four cases as humanitarian interventions the Greek War of Independence 1821-31 the Lebanon and Syria 1860-61 the Bulgarian atrocities 1876-78 and the U S intervention in Cuba 1895-98 Humanitarian intervention in the long nineteenth century will be of benefit to scholars and students of international relations international history international law and international political theory An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence Imagining Europe Michael J. Normalizing the Balkans Dušan I. Bjelic, 2016-05-23 Normalizing the Balkans argues that following the historical patterns of colonial psychoanalysis and psychiatry in British India and French Africa as well as Nazi psychoanalysis and psychiatry the psychoanalysis and psychiatry of the Balkans during the 1990s deployed the language of psychic normality to represent the space of the Other as insane geography and to justify its military or its symbolic takeover Freud s self analysis influenced by his journeys through the Balkans was a harbinger of orientalism as articulated by Said However whereas Said intended Orientalism to be a critique of the historical construction of the Orient by and in relation to the West for Freud it constituted a medical and psychic truth Freud s self orientalizing became the structural foundation of psychoanalytic language which had tragic consequences in the Balkans when a demonic conjunction developed between the ingrained self orientalizing structure of psychoanalysis and the Balkans own propensity for self orientalizing In the 1990s in the ex Yugoslav cultural space psychoanalytic language was used by the Serb psychiatrist politicians Drs Ra kovic and Karadzic as conceptual justification for inter ethnic violence Kristeva s discourse on abject geography and Zizek s conceptualization of the Balkans as the Real have done violence to the region in an intellectual register on behalf of universal subjectivity Following Gramsci s and Said s discourse geography Bjelic transmutes the psychoanalytic topos of the imaginary geography of the Balkans into the geopolitics inherent in psychoanalytic language itself and takes to task the practices of normalization that underpin the Balkans politics of madness

Normalizing the Balkans Professor Dušan I Bjelic, 2013-01-28 Normalizing the Balkans argues that following the historical patterns of colonial psychoanalysis and psychiatry in British India and French Africa as well as Nazi psychoanalysis and psychiatry the psychoanalysis and psychiatry of the Balkans during the 1990s deployed the language of psychic normality to represent the space of the Other as insane geography and to justify its military or its symbolic takeover Freud's self-analysis influenced by his journeys through the Balkans was a harbinger of orientalism as articulated by Said. However, whereas Said intended Orientalism to be a critique of the historical construction of the Orient by and in relation to the West, for Freud it constituted a medical and psychic truth. Freud's self-orientalization became the structural foundation of psychoanalytic language, which had tragic consequences in the Balkans when a demonic conjunction developed between the ingrained self-orientalizing structure of psychoanalysis and the Balkans' own propensity for self-orientalization. In the 1990s, in the ex-Yugoslav cultural space, psychoanalytic language was used by the Serb psychiatrist-politicians Drs. Rašević and Karadžić as conceptual justification for inter-ethnic violence. Kristeva's discourse on abject geography and Žižek's conceptualization of the Balkans as the Real have done violence to the region in an intellectual register on behalf of universal subjectivity. Following Gramsci's and Said's discourse geography, Bjelić transmutes the psychoanalytic topos of the imaginary geography of the Balkans into the geopolitics inherent in psychoanalytic language itself and takes to task the practices of normalization that underpin the Balkans' politics of madness.

The Politics of Conflict and Transformation Gladys Ganiel, David Mitchell, 2021-11-24. This book contains original research on conflict, peacebuilding, and the current state of identities and relationships in relation to the Northern Ireland conflict. It accesses the state of national identity politics in Northern Ireland a generation after the 1998 Agreement, as well as the impact and meaning of Brexit. It considers feminist and faith-based peace activism during the Troubles and expressions of Irish national identity. It also includes revealing comparative case studies: Protestant-Catholic conflict elsewhere in Europe and nationalism in the Balkans. The Politics of Conflict and Transformation: The Island of Ireland in Comparative Perspective arises from a conference celebrating the work of Jennifer Todd, Professor in the School of Politics and International Relations at University College Dublin, who has been one of the most influential scholars of her generation. Her research has examined conflict and transformation in Ireland from the level of grassroots identities to geopolitical forces. She has placed contemporary crises in the peace process in the context of patterns of conflict and change over centuries. She has both expounded the rich detail of the Northern Ireland and Irish-British conflicts and placed them in their regional and global contexts. Written by some of the leading scholars on peace and conflict in Ireland, the chapters in this edited volume build on Todd's work and are a testament to the thematic and methodological breadth and depth of her output. This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Irish and British history and politics, Peace and Conflict Studies, and the sociology of identity, conflict, and peacebuilding. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Irish Political Studies.

Southeast European Studies in a Globalizing World Christian Promitzer, Siegfried Gruber, Harald Heppner, 2014. Since the early 1990s, Southeast European studies have undergone profound changes, being shaped by the wars of Yugoslav succession and the ramifications of post-socialism, coupled with democratic deficiencies which characterize most of Southeast Europe. The countries which it encompasses rest uneasily on the periphery of the developed variant of Western capitalism, but they have nonetheless to contend with the challenges of adjusting to a market economy The imprint of these contexts on academic research has led to a discussion of the role of Southeast European studies It is the task of this volume to summarize and raise awareness of this discussion Series Studies on South East Europe Vol 16 Subject European Studies Sociology Politics Atlas of the Balkan War, 1912 Balkan Transitions to Modernity and Nation-States Evguenia Davidova, 2012-10-12 In contrast to research on elites or history from below this study offers an approach that can be called mesohistory a collective social biography of the Balkan merchants In foregrounding the voices of traders this study sheds fresh light on multiethnic networks of social actors navigating multiple social political and economic systems supporting and opposing various aspects of nationalist ideologies Personal accounts humanize features of these faceless socially mediating groups Merchants generation specific perspectives on the economy society and state both in times of war and peace are analyzed against the backdrop of Balkan Ottoman and European history The study captures a dialogue between primary and secondary sources and the major debates regarding nationalism modernity and the Ottoman legacy The Balkans Nevill Forbes, 1915

The Balkans and Caucasus Ivan Biliarsky, Ovidiu Cristea, Anca Oroveanu, 2012-01-17 The overall character of the Black Sea region has been defined over time in various ways For specialists in economy and trade it has represented a region at the crossroads of the trade routes between Europe and Asia for political scientists and historians it has been a space of confrontation between the great terrestrial and naval powers for the scholars attentive to its cultural dimensions it has been a contact zone a space of interaction between different peoples religions and cultures These attempts at a definition all revolve around an essential and ambivalent feature of the Black Sea as a factor of connection a bridge and at the same time a border a dividing line between Europe and Asia between the Baltic and the Mediterranean region In this fluctuation between the two the predominance of one over the other bridge or border has depended on a number of factors first among them the distribution of power relations in the region This volume which originated in a symposium hosted by the New Europe College Institute for Advanced Study in Bucharest brings together contributions coming from scholars within the Black Sea region and outside it in an attempt to look at the Balkans and Caucasus from a comparative and multi disciplinary perspective highlighting their differences as well as their common features The overarching question this volume and the papers included in it address and leave open is to what extent we are dealing with a coherent zone whose past present and future can legitimately be considered as being traversed by meaningful interrelations suggesting a shared destiny The Balkans D. Hupchick, 2002-01-11 The tragedies of Bosnia and Kosovo are often explained away as the unchangeable legacy of centuries old hatreds In this richly detailed expertly balanced chronicle of the Balkans across fifteen centuries Hupchick sets a complicated record straight Organized around the three great civilizations of the region Western European Orthodox Christian and Muslim this is a much needed guide to the political social cultural and religious threads of Balkan history with a clear convincing account of the reasons for nationalist violence and terror The Past Can't Heal Us Lea

David,2020-07-16 Lea David exposes the dangers and pitfalls of mandating memory in the name of human rights in conflict and post conflict settings The Balkans Robert Bideleux,Ian Jeffries,2007-01-24 An excellent companion volume to the successful A History of Eastern Europe this is a country by country treatment of the contemporary history of each of the Balkan states Albania Bulgaria Romania Croatia Serbia Bosnia and Herzegovina Macedonia Montenegro and Kosova With a distinctive conceptual framework for explaining divergent patterns of historical change the book shifts the emphasis away from traditional cultural explanations and concentrates on the pervasive influence of strongly entrenched vertical power structures and power relations Focusing on political and economic continuities and changes since the 1980s The Balkans includes brief overviews of the history of each state prior to the 1980s to provide the background to enable all students of Eastern European history to make sense of the more recent developments 'Doing Nation' in a Digital Age Sanja Vico,2024-12-31 This book introduces a new theory of national identity arguing that the nation does not only represent an abstract imagined community but also represents embodied cultural and discursive practices Drawing upon a detailed case study of Serbian Londoners this truly interdisciplinary study positions media as constitutive of national identities The author contends that nations come into being and are sustained through everyday interpersonal communication practices that have increasingly become mediated especially for migrants She develops the concept of doing nation to argue that we should think of the nation as a dynamic process Situated first within a particular migration context the concept is then applied more broadly as everyday communication practices are becoming increasingly mediated worldwide Covering a breadth of key theories and concepts in this field including diaspora ethnicity nationalism cosmopolitanism social media affordances and polymedia this book will appeal to scholars and students researching digital media migration identities nationalism and cosmopolitanism in the social science disciplines League of Nations Magazine ,1916 Nation-States and Nationalisms Sinisa Malesevic,2013-10-14 This innovative and concise book provides an in depth analysis of the processes involved in the emergence formation expansion and transformation of nation states and nationalisms as they are understood today
