Making Theory/Constructing Art Daniel Alan Herwitz, Daniel Herwitz, 1996-05-15 Artists and critics regularly enlist theory in the creation and assessment of artworks but few have scrutinized the art theories themselves Here Daniel examines and critiques the norms assumptions historical conditions and institutions that have framed the development and uses of art theory Spurred by the theoretical claims of Arthur Danto a leader in the philosophy of the avant garde Herwitz reexamines the art and theory of major figures in the avant garde movement including John Cage Jean Francois Lyotard Jean Baudrillard and Andy Warhol

Making Theory/Constructing Art Daniel Herwitz, 1993-11 Artists and critics regularly enlist theory in their creation and assessment of artworks but few have scrutinized the art theories themselves Making Theory Constructing Art On the Authority of the Avant Garde is among the first philosophical texts to provide a close encounter with this theoretical tendency in twentieth century art and aesthetics exploring the norms assumptions historical conditions and institutions that have framed the development and uses of theory in art In a series of intricate readings of constructivism Mondrian and John Cage Daniel Herwitz outlines the avant garde's belief that theory can perfectly prefigure the avant garde art object and invest it with utopian force Through similarly insightful treatments of Arthur Danto Andy Warhol Jean Francois Lyotard Jean Baudrillard and postmodern art and theory Herwitz demonstrates how the contemporary art world is heir to the avant garde's theoretical assumptions and practices In fact avant garde art objects live as art only by partly resisting the master theories of their makers and interpreters Skillfully resisting the lure of grand theory himself Herwitz urges the art world to be more self critical and self reflective about its uses of theory Making Theory Constructing Art is as accessible and entertainingly written as it is philosophically incisive Since the book is both a philosophical and a cultural encounter with theory in twentieth century art it will engage all those who have tried to grapple with the inscrutability of the theoretical art muse

Art Making, Collections, and Obsessions Lynne Perrella, 2010-04 Profiles the creative processes of thirty five artists who feel compelled to collect a wide variety of found objects which provide inspiration or are incorporated into their mixed media artworks interviewing ARK's editors, art editors and contributors including Len Deighton, novelist and art editor of ARK 10 Clifford Hatts, student at the RCA 1946-8 and later head of the Design Group BBC, Peter Blake, RCA Painting School 1953-6, Robyn Denny, RCA Painting School 1954-7. ARK's object of enquiry remained the elusive but necessary relationships between the arts and the social context throughout its twenty-five year history, making it a valuable archive for the cultural historian. In its most memorable issues, ARK's layouts complemented the contents to produce distillations of the energy and enthusiasm of the period under review. Arthur Danto and the End of Art Raquel Cascales, 2019-08-20 To get a comprehensive understanding of the core concept of the end of art, this book analyses the intellectual trajectory of Arthur Danto, highlighting his successive achievements in philosophy of action, philosophy of history and philosophy of art. If, as Danto says, everything is extensively associated with everything else, it is impossible to avoid putting the philosophy of art in relation with his whole philosophical system. A critical appraisal of research in arts, health and wellbeing Stephen Clift, Gunter Kreutz, Stephen Pritchard, Michael Koon, Boon Tan, Kai Lehtikoinen, Andre De Quadros, Esther Coren, Kate Phillips, 2023-06-23 Using Microsoft® Publisher 2010, Enhanced Edition Brien Posey, 2013-09-24 This USING Microsoft Publisher 2010 book is enhanced with nearly two hours of FREE step-by-step VIDEO TUTORIALS and AUDIO SIDEBARS. No type of human-made tangible thing makes more complex and bewildering demands in this respect than paintings. Ivan Gaskell argues that the search for pictorial meaning in paintings yields limited results and should be replaced by attempts to define the point of such things which is cumulative and ever subject to change He shows that while it is not possible to define what art is other than being an open kind it is possible to define what a painting is as a species of drawing regardless of whether that painting is an artwork or not at any given time The book demonstrates that things can be artworks on some occasions but not necessarily on others though it is easier for a thing to acquire artwork status than to lose it That is the movement of a thing into and out of the artworld is not symmetrical All such considerations are properly matters not of ontology what is and what is not an artwork but of use that is how a thing might or might not function as an artwork under any given circumstances These considerations necessarily affect the approach to paintings that at any given time might be able to function as an artwork or might not be able to function as such Only by taking these factors into account can anyone make viable knowledge about the past This lively discussion ranges over innumerable examples of paintings from Rembrandt to Rothko as well as plenty of far less familiar material from contemporary Catholic devotional works to the Chinese avant garde Its aim is to enhance philosophical acuity in respect of the analysis of paintings and to increase their amenability to philosophically satisfying historical use Paintings and the Past is a must read for all advanced students and scholars concerned with philosophy of art aesthetics historical method and art history
