Making Coordination Work:

Making Inclusion Work Saija Katila, Susan Merilinen, Janne Tienari, 2010-01-01 Full of insights for any organizational scholar still hoping to make a difference for a better world this greatly illuminating book examines what it takes to intervene critically but positively in the mainstream of a globalized academic life and be able to survive such interventions The contributors offer tried and tested approaches neither aggressive nor confrontational allowing them to bring inclusion and multiplicity to their teaching and their research while carving spaces for action and resistance to hegemonic academic practices An innovative must read and much needed text Marta B Cal s University of Massachusetts US This important book should be required reading for all management educators Starting from an incisive and timely critique of the increasingly standardized global academic system the editors set out to offer an inclusive vision of what education can be A rich array of contributors from diverse cultures and perspectives offer experiences and ideas about the practice of inclusive education and perhaps more importantly offer some hope that the logic of standardization is not immutable Christopher Grey University of Warwick UK This innovative book explores how inclusion can be enhanced in academia by considering the strategic work of expert academics from around the world It offers a new look at academic work through the accounts of passionate practitioners who have each in their own ways made inclusion work Making Inclusion Work exemplifies how academics can meaningfully engage in inclusive practices in their everyday work Scholars around the world share their experiences of intervening in curriculum development teaching and research and reflect on practices that have worked in local contexts The authors discuss the process for reaching greater inclusion which begins with an honest appraisal of current local practice Reflective developers in academic institutions and educational administration will appreciate the unique insights provided by this book Students interested in diversity and inclusion academic practices and autobiographical action oriented research will also find the contributions invaluable Making Free Trade Work Peter Morici, 1990 Crisis Management in China Lan Xue, Qiang Zhang, Kaibin Zhong, 2022-05-06 This book describes various crisis situations in transitional China and by analyzing the unique characteristics and backgrounds of emergencies and crisis it argues that crisis management has become a major challenge for the Chinese governments It then discusses the chronology of crisis organizational behaviors and the decision making processes to construct a modern crisis management system in detail to shed light on the creation of a strategic design and institutional framework of crisis management in China In so doing it provides not only insights into the dynamics of crisis decision making and communication but also solutions for possible problems specific to a transitional political regime in China Making Devolution Work for Service Delivery in Kenya Abdu Muwonge, Muratha Kinuthia, Timothy Stephen Williamson, Christine Owuor, 2022-02-23 Kenya adopted a new Constitution and began the process of devolution in 2010 The new Constitution was the institutional response to longstanding grievances over the centralization of state powers and public sector resources and regional disparities in service delivery and development outcomes This radical restructuring of the Kenyan state has three main objectives decentralizing political power public sector functions and public finances ensuring a more equitable spatial distribution of resources between regions and promoting more accountable participatory and responsive government at all levels The first elections under the new Constitution were held in 2013 Alongside the national government 47 new county governments were established Each county government is made up of a County Executive headed by an elected Governor and works under the oversight of an elected County Assembly Seven years after the devolution train left the station this report takes stock of how devolution has affected the delivery of devolved basic services to Kenyan citizens Whereas devolution was driven by political reform the ensuing institutions and systems were expected to deliver greater socioeconomic equity through devolved service delivery The Making Devolution Work for Service Delivery MDWSD study is the first major assessment of Kenya's devolution reform The study was a jointly coordinated effort by the Government of Kenya and the World Bank The study provides key messages with respect to what is working what is not working and what could work better to enhance service delivery based on the currently available data It provides an independent assessment of service delivery performance in five sectors namely health education agriculture urban and water services and includes an in depth review of the main pillars of devolved service delivery namely public financial management intergovernmental finance human resource management politics and accountability
