Making Mice Karen Rader, 2018-06-05 Making Mice blends scientific biography institutional history and cultural history to show how genetically standardized mice came to play a central role in contemporary American biomedical research Karen Rader introduces us to mouse fanciers who bred mice for different characteristics to scientific entrepreneurs like geneticist C C Little and to the emerging structures of modern biomedical research centered around the National Institutes of Health Throughout Making Mice Rader explains how the story of mouse research illuminates our understanding of key issues in the history of science such as the role of model organisms in furthering scientific thought Ultimately genetically standardized mice became icons of standardization in biomedicine by successfully negotiating the tension between the natural and the man made in experimental practice This book will become a landmark work for its understanding of the cultural and institutional origins of modern biomedical research It will appeal not only to historians of science but also to biologists and medical researchers

A Mouse in a Cage Carrie Friese, 2025-06-24 Questions the treatment of laboratory animals in biomedical research Laboratory animals are often used to develop medical treatments vaccines antibiotics and organ transplants have all relied upon animal testing to ensure safety and success for human benefit Yet the relationship between the scientific community's dependence on laboratory animals and the recognition of the need to treat these animals with respect and compassion has given rise to a profound tension As animals are increasingly understood to have rights and autonomy Carrie Friese posits that while care and compassion for a distant other who suffers are central to humanitarianism the idea of a distant other itself which has shaped work with laboratory animals both historically and today has enacted forms of highly problematic paternalism creating a double bind Focusing on the lives of laboratory mice and rats in the United Kingdom and on the people who take care of and often kill these animals Friese gives the name of more than human humanitarianism to contradictory practices of suffering and compassion killing and sacrifice and compassion and consent that she witnessed in a variety of animal facilities and laboratories Friese proposes a new approach to the treatment of laboratory animals that recognizes the interconnectedness of all species and how human actions impact the welfare of other species and the planet as a whole A Mouse in a Cage is an essential contribution to the ongoing conversation about the ethical treatment of animals

Made to Order Margaret E. Derry, 2022-03-01 Animal breeding has been complicated by persisting factors across species cultures geography and time In Made to Order Margaret E Derry explains these factors and other breeding concerns in relation to both animals and society in North America and Europe over the past three centuries Made to Order addresses how breeding methodology evolved what characterized the aims of breeding and the way structures were put in place to regulate the occupation Illustrated by case studies on important farm animals and companion species the book presents a synthetic overview of livestock breeding as a whole It gives considerable emphasis to genetics and animal breeding in the post 1960 period the relationship between environmental and improvement breeding and regulation of breeding as seen through pedigrees In doing so Made to Order shows how studying the ancient human practice of animal breeding can illuminate the ways in which human thinking theorizing and evolving characterize our interactions with all natural processes The Oxford Handbook of Animal Organization Studies Linda Tallberg,Lindsay Hamilton,2022 This interdisciplinary book lays out the contours of a new academic discipline Animal Organization Studies thus answering timely calls for more attention to nonhuman life in traditionally human centred fields in social science Art and Science in Breeding Margaret Derry,2012-01-21 Chickens are now the most scientifically engineered of livestock How have the methods used by geneticists differed from those employed by domestic breeders over time Art and Science in Breeding details the relationship between farm practices and agricultural genetics in poultry breeding from 1850 to 1960 Margaret E Derry traces the history and organization of chicken breeding in North America from craft approaches and breeding as an art to the conflicts that had emerged between traditional and scientific methods by the 1940s Derry assesses links between the scientific revolution of chicken farming and the development of corporate breeding as a modern international industry Using poultry as a case study for the wider narrative of agricultural genetics Art and Science in Breeding adds considerable knowledge to a rapidly growing field of inquiry The Routledge Companion to Animal-Human History Hilda Kean,Philip Howell,2018-09-03 The Routledge Companion to Animal Human History provides an up to date guide for the historian working within the growing field of animal human history Giving a sense of the diversity and interdisciplinary nature of the field cutting edge contributions explore the practices of and challenges posed by historical studies of animals and animal human relationships Divided into three parts the Companion takes both a theoretical and practical approach to a field that is emerging as a prominent area of study Animals and the Practice of History considers established practices of history such as political history public history and cultural memory and how animal human history can contribute to them Problems and Paradigms identifies key historiographical issues to the field with contributors considering the challenges posed by topics such as agency literature art and emotional attachment The final section Themes and Provocations looks at larger themes within the history of animal human relationships in more depth with contributions covering topics that include breeding war hunting and eating As it is increasingly recognised that nonhuman actors have contributed to the making of history The Routledge Companion to Animal Human History provides a timely and important contribution to the scholarship on animal human history and surrounding debates Oceans Under Glass Samantha Muka,2022-12-08 Aquarium Craft Replicating Oceans under Glass Photography Tanks Viewing Oceans under Glass Kreisel Tanks Crafting Movement under Glass Reef Tanks Building Ecosystems under Glass Breeding Tank Systems Closing the Cycle under Glass Conclusion You Are the Ocean Scaling Up Oceans under Glass Multi-Species Dementia Studies Nicholas Jenkins,Anna Jack-Waugh,Louise Ritchie,2025-01-30 Dementia is one of the greatest challenges facing humanity in the 21st century Responding to the global dementia challenge however affects more than humans alone We live in a multi species world but often think about dementia in mono species ways From the lab to the living room other beings are on the scene and our relations with them affect how we understand experience and respond to dementia Drawing on cutting edge work across the social and biological sciences this book offers readers the tools to respond to dementia in multi species ways By exploring a range of topics from pathology to personhood contributors highlight how thinking about dementia as a more than human phenomenon may enable new ways of responding to our global dementia challenge

Forces of Nature Anna Reser, Leila McNeill, 2021-05-11 From the ancient world to the present women have been critical to the progress of science yet their importance is overlooked their stories lost distorted or actively suppressed Forces of Nature sets the record straight and charts the fascinating history of women s discoveries in science In the ancient and medieval world women served as royal physicians and nurses taught mathematics studied the stars and practiced midwifery As natural philosophers physicists anatomists and botanists they were central to the great intellectual flourishing of the Scientific Revolution and the Enlightenment More recently women have been crucially involved in the Manhattan Project pioneering space missions and much more Despite their record of illustrious achievements even today very few women win Nobel Prizes in science In this thoroughly researched authoritative work you will discover how women have navigated a male dominated scientific culture showing themselves to be pioneers and trailblazers often without any recognition at all Included in the book are the stories of Hypatia of Alexandria one of the earliest recorded female mathematicians Maria Cunitz who corrected errors in Kepler s work Emmy Noether who discovered fundamental laws of physics Vera Rubin one of the most influential astronomers of the twentieth century Jocelyn Bell Burnell who helped discover pulsars

Animal Models of Human Disease Sara Green, 2024-04-30 The crucial role of animal models in biomedical research calls for philosophical investigation of how and whether knowledge about human diseases can be gained by studying other species This Element delves into the selection and construction of animal models to serve as preclinical substitutes for human patients It explores the multifaceted roles animal models fulfil in translational research and how the boundaries between humans and animals are negotiated in this process The book also covers persistent translational challenges that have sparked debates across scientific philosophical and public arenas regarding the limitations and future of animal models Among the are persistent tensions between standardization and variation in medicine as well as between strategies aiming to reduce and recapitulate biological complexity Finally the book examines the prospects of replacing animal models with animal free methods The Element demonstrates why animal modeling should be of interest to philosophers social scientists and scientists alike
