Making Place Making Self Travel Subjectivity And Sexual Difference:

Making Place, Making Self Inger Birkeland, 2017-03-02 Making Place Making Self explores new understandings of place and place making in late modernity covering key themes of place and space tourism and mobility sexual difference and subjectivity Using a series of individual life stories it develops a fascinating polyvocal account of leisure and life journeys These stories focus on journeys made to the North Cape in Norway the most northern point of mainland Europe which is both a tourist destination and an evocation of a reliable and secure point of reference an idea that gives meaning to an individual's life The theoretical core of the book draws on an interweaving of post Lacanian versions of feminist psychoanalytical thinking with phenomenological and existential thinking where place making is linked with self making and homecoming By combining such ground breaking theory with her innovative use of case studies Inger Birkeland here provides a major contribution to the fields of cultural geography tourism and feminist studies Qualitative Methodologies in Tourism Studies Milka Ivanova, Dorina-Maria Buda, Elisa Burrai, 2022-09-05 Disruptive and creative research methodologies proposed in this book are designed to dismantle neoliberal narratives deployed in tourism studies and wider social sciences Progressing criticality in tourism studies this volume showcases cutting edge contributions ranging from reflexivity subjectivities and dreams to messy emotions in auto ethnographic accounts of fieldwork motherhood capital accessing Inuit communities collective memory work ethnodrama and creative non fiction amongst others Disruption and creativity are the two ideas around which tourism geographers challenge and begin dismantling hegemonic ideologies in tourism studies The chapters in this book provide a vantage point from where to disrupt first before tourism geographers can engender progress and transformation within and outside of the field In tourism studies in general and tourism geography in particular the years of the 2000s have witnessed an emphasis on qualitative methodological research both in terms of the topics addressed and the types of methodological tools In many ways this legitimisation of qualitative work mirrors developments in other areas such as human geography sociology and anthropology in which this book is anchored The authors debate in more depth how tourism studies offer multidimensional multilogical and multi emotional approaches to research design The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the journal Tourism Geographies Envisioning Landscapes, Making Worlds Stephen Daniels, Dydia DeLyser, J. Nicholas Entrikin, Doug Richardson, 2012-03-15 There has been a remarkable resurgence in the past decade of intellectual interplay between geography and the humanities in both academic and public circles Terminology and concepts such as space place landscape mapping and geography are becoming pervasive as conceptual frameworks and core metaphors in recent publications by humanities scholars and well known writers Envisioning Landscapes Making Worlds examines the depth and complexity of human meaning invested in maps attached to landscapes and embedded in the spaces and places of modern life The clashing and blending of cultures caused by globalization and the new technologies that profoundly alter human environmental experience suggest new geographical narratives and representations that are explored here by a multidisciplinary group of authors With contributions from leading scholars this text is essential reading for scholars and students seeking to understand the new synergies and interconnectedness of geography and the humanities

Transnational Perspectives on Feminism and Art, 1960-1985 Jen Kennedy, Trista Mallory, Angelique Szymanek, 2021-04-28 Transnational Perspectives on Feminism and Art 1960 1985 is a collection of essential essays that bring transnational feminist praxis into conversation with histories of feminist art in the 1960s 1970s and early 1980s The artistic practices and processes examined within these pages all centre on gender and sexual politics as they variously intersect with race class sovereignty Indigeneity citizenship and migration at particular historical moments and within specific geopolitical contexts The book's central premise is that reconsidering this period from transnational feminist perspectives will enable new thinking about the critical commonalities and differences across heterogeneous and geographically dispersed practices that have contributed to the complex and multifaceted relationship between feminism and art today The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history cultural studies visual culture material culture and gender studies

Mobility and Place Jørgen Ole Bærenholdt, Brynhild Granås, 2016-04-15 The Northern peripheries of Europe which are covered by this book are associated with remoteness the frontier isolated communities colonialism and resource extraction Recently huge projects in petroleum and hydropower have been located there and the region has become better known as an attractive tourist destination Although these spaces are perceived as being marginal they are inhabited and linked into globalization and international agendas This book examines how people live in such remote spaces in an emerging global world of connectivity interdependency mobility and non linear dynamics The various case studies examine a wide range of experiences ranging from tourists and local settlers to those who migrate for labour in old or new industries or to pursue the hybrid urban rural life of the periphery In this book mobility and place come together The analyses demonstrate how mobility and place mutually constitute each other and how specific relationships between the two aspects are crucial in the making of societies The authors study attempts to reinvent places together with connections and the opening of new spaces in order to sustain businesses municipalities and people's livelihood

Spatial Politics in the Postcolonial Novel Sara Upstone, 2016-04-01 In her innovative study of spatial locations in postcolonial texts Sara Upstone adopts a transnational and comparative approach that challenges the tendency to engage with authors in isolation or in relation to other writers from a single geographical setting Suggesting that isolating authors in terms of geography reinforces the primacy of the nation Upstone instead illuminates the power of spatial locales such as the journey city home and body to enable personal or communal statements of resistance against colonial prejudice and its neo colonial legacies While focusing on the major texts of Wilson Harris Toni Morrison and Salman Rushdie in relation to particular spatial locations Upstone offers a wide range of examples from other postcolonial authors including Michael Ondaatje Keri Hulme J M Coetzee Arundhati Roy Tsitsi Dangarembga and Abdulrazak Gurnah The result is a strong case for what Upstone terms the postcolonial spatial imagination independent of geography though always fully contextualised Written in accessible and unhurried prose Upstone's study is marked by its respect for the ways in which the writers themselves resist not only geographical boundaries but academic categorisation Travel, Discovery, Transformation Gabriel R. Ricci, 2017-09-29 This latest volume in the Culture Civilization series gathers interdisciplinary voices to present a collection of essays on travel and travel narratives The essays span a range of topics from iconic ancient travel stories to modern tourism They discuss travel in the ancient world modern heroic travels the literary culture of missionary travel the intersection of fiction and travel narratives modern literary traditions and visions of Greece personal identity and expatriation Essays also address travel memoirs the re-imagining of worlds through travel transformed landscapes and animals in travel narratives diplomacy English women travel writers and pilgrimage and health in the medieval world The history of travel writing takes in multiple pursuits exploration and conquest religious pilgrimage and missionary work educational tourism and diplomacy scientific and personal discovery and natural history and oral history As a literary genre it has enhanced a wide range of disciplines including geography ethnography anthropology and linguistics Moreover twenty first century interests in travel and travel writing have produced a global framework that promises to expand travel's theoretical reach into the depths of the Internet thus challenging our conventional concept of what it means to travel The fact that travel and travel writing have a prehistory that is embedded in foundational religious texts and ancient narratives of journey like the Odyssey and the Epic of Gilgamesh makes both travel and travel writing fundamental and essential expressions of humanity Travel encourages writing particularly as epistolary and poetic chronicling This is clearly a history and tradition that began with human communication and which has kept pace with our collective development Translating the Female Self across Cultures Eliana Maestri, 2018-01-15 Translating the Female Self across Cultures examines contemporary autobiographical narratives and their Italian and French translations The comparative analyses of the texts are underpinned by the latest developments in Translation Studies that place emphasis on identity construction in translation and the role of translation in moulding various types of identity They focus on how the writers textual personae make sense of their sexual artistic and post colonial identities in relation to the mother and how the mother daughter dyad survives translation into the Italian and French social political and cultural contexts The book shows how each target text activates different cultural literary linguistic and rhetorical frames of reference which cast light on the facets of the protagonists quest for identity the cult of the Madonna humour and irony gender and class mimesis and storytelling performativity and geographical sense of self The book highlights the fruitfulness of studying women's narratives and their translations and the polyphonic dialogue between the translations and the literary and theoretical productions of the French and Italian cultures Socio-Spatial Theory in Nordic Geography Peter Jakobsen, Erik Jönsson, Henrik Gutzon Larsen, 2022-05-30 This open access book is about socio spatial theory in and the nature of Nordic geography From both historical and contemporary perspectives the book engages with theorisations of geography in the Nordic countries Including chapters by geographers from Denmark Finland Iceland Norway and Sweden it reflects how theories about the relations between the social and the spatial have been developed adopted and critiqued in Nordic human geography in relation to a wide range of themes concepts and approaches The book also traces institutional developments distinct geographical traditions and intellectual histories as well as authors own experiences as geographers in and beyond the Nordic area The chapters together introduce and engage with debates and discussions that permeate Nordic geography and allows readers a glimpse of geographical thinking and the role of socio spatial theory in the Nordic countries By providing insights into how geographical ideas emerge travel and are translated and adapted in specific contexts the book contributes to debates about historical geographical situatedness and theorisations of geography

Animism in Contemporary Japan Shoko Yoneyama, 2018-11-09 Postmodern animism first emerged in grassroots Japan in the aftermath of mercury poisoning in Minamata and the nuclear meltdown in Fukushima Fusing critiques of modernity with intangible cultural heritages it represents a philosophy of the life world where nature is a manifestation of a dynamic life force where all life is interconnected This new animism it is argued could inspire a fundamental rethink of the human nature relationship The book explores this notion of animism through the lens of four prominent figures in Japan animation film director Miyazaki Hayao sociologist Tsurumi Kazuko writer Ishimure Michiko and Minamata fisherman philosopher Ogata Masato Taking a biographical approach it illustrates how these individuals moved towards the conclusion that animism can help humanity survive modernity It contributes to the Anthropocene discourse from a transcultural and transdisciplinary perspective thus addressing themes of nature and spirituality whilst also engaging with arguments from mainstream social sciences Presenting a new perspective for a post anthropocentric paradigm Animism in Contemporary Japan will be useful to students and scholars of sociology anthropology philosophy and Japanese Studies
