policy issues Postcolonialism Meets Economics S. Charusheela, Eiman Zein-Elabdin, 2013-04-15 In the last half century economics has taken over from anthropology the role of drawing the powerful conceptual worldviews that organize knowledge and inform policy in both domestic and international contexts Until now however the colonial roots of economic theory have remained relatively unstudied This book changes that The wide array of contributions to this book draw on the rapidly growing body of postcolonial studies to critique both orthodox and heterodox economics This book addresses a large gap in postcolonial studies which lacks the type of sophisticated analysis of economic questions that it displays in its analysis of culture The intellectual and disciplinary terrain covered within this book spans economics history anthropology philosophy literary theory political science and women's studies Nature in the History of Economic Thought Nathaniel Wolloch, 2016-10-04 From antiquity to our own time those interested in political economy have with almost no exceptions regarded the natural physical environment as a resource meant for human use Focusing on the period 1600 1850 and paying particular attention to major figures including Adam Smith T R Malthus David Ricardo and J S Mill this book provides a detailed overview of the intellectual history of the economic consideration of nature from antiquity to modern times It shows how even someone like Mill who was clearly influenced by romantic notions regarding the spiritual need for contact with pristine nature ultimately regarded it as an economic resource Building on existing scholarship this study demonstrates how the rise of modern sensitivity to nature from the late eighteenth century in particular was in fact a dialectical reaction to the growing distance of modern urban civilization from the natural environment As such the book offers an unprecedentedly detailed overview of the intellectual history of economic considerations of nature whilst underlining how the history of this topic has been remarkably consistent Refugees American Academy of Political and Social Science, Francis James Brown, 1939
