Land and Loyalty Tomas Larsson, 2012-06-01

Domestic and international development strategies often focus on private ownership as a crucial anchor for long term investment the security of property rights provides a foundation for capitalist expansion In recent years Thailand's policies have been hailed as a prime example of how granting formal land rights to poor farmers in low income countries can result in economic benefits But the country provides a puzzle Thailand faced major security threats from colonial powers in the nineteenth century and from communism in the twentieth century yet only in the latter case did the government respond with pro development tactics In Land and Loyalty Tomas Larsson argues that institutional underdevelopment may prove under certain circumstances a strategic advantage rather than a weakness and that external threats play an important role in shaping the development of property regimes Security concerns he finds often guide economic policy The domestic legacies legal and socioeconomic resulting from state responses to the outside world shape and limit the strategies available to politicians While Larsson's extensive archival research findings are drawn from Thai sources he situates the experiences of Thailand in comparative perspective by contrasting them with the trajectory of property rights in Japan Burma and the Philippines

Philippine Politics Lynn White III, 2014-12-17 Philippine political history especially in the twentieth century challenges the image of democratic evolution as serving the people and does so in ways that reveal inadequately explored aspects of many democracies In the first decades of the twenty first century the Philippines has nonetheless shown gradual socioeconomic progress This book provides an interpretive overview of Philippine politics and takes full account of the importance of patriotic Philippine factors in making decisions about future political policies It analyses whether regional and local politics have more importance than national politics in the Philippines Discussing cultural traditions of patronism it also examines how clan feuds localize the state and create strong local policies These conflicts in turn make regional and family run polities collectively stronger than the central state institution The book goes on to explore elections in the Philippines and in particular the ways in which politicians win democratic elections the institutionalized role of public money in this process and the role that media plays Offering a new interpretive overview of Philippine progress over many decades the author notes recent economic and political changes during the current century while also trying to advance ideas that might prove useful to Filipinos Presenting an in depth analysis of the problems and possibilities of politics and society in the Philippines the book will be of interest to those researching Southeast Asian Politics Political History and Asian Society and Culture      State Structure, Policy Formation, and Economic Development in Southeast Asia Antoinette R.

Raquiza, 2013-06-17 Why do some small developing countries industrialize and others don't? What factors account for different economic performance among states that are vulnerable to external shocks, crony capitalism and political instability? This book argues that the answer lies in the structuring of state power, specifically the way different sets of governing elites, political leaders and economic technocrats are embedded in political organisations and state institutions and the way these elites relate to each other in the economic development policy process. Conducting a comparative historical analysis of Thailand and the Philippines, the book argues that the institutional settings of governing elites influence economic outcomes. In Thailand, political power traditionally connects to state institutions in ways that has limited the impact of political turnovers and global downturns conducive to long term industrial activities. In contrast, Philippine state power derives from family networks that merge social and political power suited to fast moving short term commercial interests. In focusing on this political and institutional story, the author analyses the current development dilemmas of countries weighed down by historical legacies of unstable regimes, dependency and social conflict and how they are likely to develop in the future.

Civil Society and Corruption Michael Johnston, 2005 Strong civil societies play a major role in controlling corruption in many societies and reformers agree that citizens both individual and organized should be involved in reform. But accomplishing that goal has proven difficult. Some civil societies are weak, divided and impoverished. In others, undemocratic regimes dominate through intimidation. And in still others, development difficulties, international debt and misguided aid efforts stop reform before it can begin. Too often, anti corruption campaigns do not engage social values or attack corruption as people experience it every day. This volume, based on a yearlong series of events sponsored by Colgate University's Center for Ethics and World Societies, analyzes civil society and corruption from several perspectives and in several parts of the world. One section considers corruption as a fact of everyday life, a second analyzes techniques and incentives involved in mobilizing civil society and a third provides a unique guide to information resources on corruption and reform.

Southeast Asian Security in the New Millennium Richard J. Ellings, Sheldon W. Simon, 2016-09-16 Assessing trends toward creating innovative forms of political, economic and security co-operation in Southeast Asia, this text discusses the international dynamics of Southeast Asian security and its impact on such external factors as the US, China and Japan.      □□□□□□, 1995

Southeast Asia: A Ten Nation Region Ashok K. Dutt, 2012-12-06 This book introduces the ten nation region of Southeast Asia. The main themes of the book are diversity, differential development and changing socio-economic and political settings affecting these characteristics in the 1990s. The nations of Southeast Asia have different languages, three dominant religions, Buddhism, Islam and Christianity, varied levels of economic development that range from bare agricultural subsistence to highly urbanized and highly developed. The historically based core areas of these countries have evolved on their own. Moreover, the effects of Indian, Chinese, Islamic and Western cultures have been experienced differently in different nations at different times in their histories This book is intended to be understood by all those who want an initial introduction to Southeast Asia As many aspects of the book are the result of an in depth research carried out by the contributing authors it is also a valuable reference The contributing authors have portrayed the basic spatial aspects of the region as well as their relevance in the 1990s based in novel ways and through original interpretations All first and some second authors of chapters are professors All but one have Ph Os Most contributing authors are geographers but with different sub specialties

Kyōto Daigaku. Tōnan Ajia Kenkyū Sentā, 1999      Culture and Society in the Asia-Pacific Colin Mackerras, Richard Maidment, 2005-07-28 This important new text examines the crucial social and cultural factors associated with the rise of the Asia Pacific region at the end of the Twentieth Century It takes a close look at those areas which have affected the everyday life of the people most directly These include the family gender relations and the position of women religion the arts with specific reference to film ethnic relations and population migration education and the images of the Asia Pacific The authors discuss real tensions between tradition and modernity in different nations of the Asia Pacific exploring the effects that economic growth has on powerful traditional cultures      Contemporary Issues in Business and Economics Chia-Lin Chang, Duc Hong Vo, 2020-07-01 This book is a collection of high impact papers accepted and presented at the 2019 Vietnam s Business and Economics Research Conference VBER2019 organised by Ho Chi Minh City Open University held on 18th 20th July 2019 The Special Issue is associated with a broad coverage of the contemporary issues in Business and Economics in Vietnam and other emerging markets reflecting a key theme of VBER2019 Vietnam s Place in the Asia Pacific Region A total of 14 papers were published from more than the 120 submissions to the VBER2019 Conference Published papers had been undergone a rigorous reviewing process conducted by the Journal of Risk and Financial Management The papers incorporated in this book address contemporary issues in business and economics from Vietnam and other emerging markets in the Asian region from various angles such as economics finance and statistics to management science At the time of writing this note some of the papers have attracted more than 1000 downloads in 3 months In particular a paper on Foreign Direct Investment and Economic Growth from Developing Countries in the Short Run and Long Run by Trang Thi Huyen Dinh and her team has attracted almost 6000 downloads in 3 months These statistics indicate that the papers published in this Special Issue have attracted the wide interest of readers Among these 14 published papers three main areas of important contemporary issues in Business and Economics in the Asian region can be identified First a block of papers deals with various important and fundamental issues in the emerging markets the Asian region from exchange rate regime financial inclusion and financial development to energy consumption and environmental degradation On the issue of CO2 emissions energy consumption and economic growth in the ASEAN Vo Vo and Le utilized various time series econometrics approaches Key findings from this paper indicate that there are no long run relationships among carbon dioxide CO2 emissions energy consumption renewable energy population growth and economic growth in the Philippines and Thailand but a relationship does exist in Indonesia Myanmar and Malaysia Loo in his paper on financial inclusion for the ASEAN concluded that advancing internet capability and availability present investors an opportunity to offer financial technology or Fintech to meet the need for financial services in this digital era Second a challenge in quantitative studies for a single country such as Vietnam with limited data is generally noted However various empirical studies on Vietnam s business and economics issues have been conducted Nguyen Quan and Pham examined the cultural distance and entry mode of foreign direct investment in Vietnam A key finding from their paper is that when there is a great cultural difference between Vietnam and their home country foreign invested firms prefer wholly owned subsidiaries over equity joint ventures Within the Vietnamese market Pham Vo Ho and McAleer conducted a study on the issue of corporate financial distress The authors conclude that the corporate financial distress prediction model which includes accounting factors with macroeconomic indicators performs much better than alternative models In addition the evidence confirms that the global financial crisis GFC had a damaging impact on each sector with the Health Education sector demonstrating the most impressive recovery post GFC and the utilities sector recording a dramatic increase in bankruptcies post GFC At another extreme of the spectrum Van and Nguyen considered that competitive context social influences the understanding of managers about corporate social responsibility CSR and the internal environment of companies are the four drivers of CSR The authors also argued that in the four drivers competitive context has the strongest impact on adopting CSR Third last but not least various papers focus on an important aspect of public finance For an example Pham Pham and Ly documented the effect of double taxation treaties on the bilateral trade of Vietnam with ASEAN member states thereby making an extensive comparison with its EU partner countries Their findings indicate the significant contributions of the tax treaties to Vietnam's trade performance not exclusively with ASEAN but also with EU partner countries In addition regarding public finance for Vietnam Nguyen Vo Ho and Vo investigated the contribution of fiscal decentralisation to economic growth across provinces in Vietnam For the first time in Vietnam the fiscal decentralisation index together its two subcomponents including fiscal importance and fiscal autonomy are developed Findings from this paper indicate that while fiscal importance and an overall level of fiscal decentralisation have provided negative impact on provincial economic growth fiscal autonomy has a positive impact on economic growth across provinces in Vietnam Asia 2030 Wg Cdr Ajey Lele ,Dr Namrata Goswami,Brig Rumel Dahiya ,2014-01-13 The Malay-Muslim Insurgency in Southern Thailand Peter Chalk,2008 Current unrest in the Malay Muslim provinces of southern Thailand has captured growing national regional and international attention due to the heightened tempo and scale of rebel attacks the increasingly jihadist undertone that has come to characterize insurgent actions and the central government's often brutal handling of the situation on the ground This paper assesses the current situation and its probable direction State Building and Development Keijiro Otsuka,Takashi Shiraishi,2014-02-03 Why does a huge income gap still exist between developed and developing countries Plausible causes on the surface may be the difference in technology the quality of human resources and economic institutions but on the deeper level the gap reflects the success and failure of state building which is vital for economic development This book provides cutting edge knowledge on state building economic development and democratization based on case studies of Japan ASEAN South Asia and selected countries in sub Saharan Africa The book examines the interaction between land policies and the state building in sub Saharan Africa It also pays special attention to corruption which affects the relationship between the state and the development and decentralization which exerts influences on the contentious politics Finally the book also sheds new light on the failure and success of industrial policies based on a literature review and a case study of the rapidly growing pharmaceutical industry in Bangladesh This book is one of the few studies which squarely addresses state building and economic development and will be of use to those interested in this subject development practitioners and policymakers in developing countries Do Young People Know ASEAN? Eric C Thompson,2016-05-18 In 2007 a survey the first of its kind was carried out to gauge young people's awareness of and attitudes towards ASEAN following the decision by ASEAN heads of state and government to accelerate the date for accomplishing an integrated ASEAN Community by 2015 Views and attitudes from university undergraduates in the ten ASEAN member states who participated in the survey indicated a nascent sense of identification as citizens of the region as well as their priorities for important aspects of regional integration An update to the 2007 survey was carried out in 2014 15 among the same target population but with an expanded scope of twenty two universities and institutes of higher learning across the ten member states In the updated survey we found that there are more ASEAN positive attitudes region wide but there are also increases in ASEAN ambivalent attitudes at country level in some ASEAN members Young people s priorities for important aspects of regional integration have also shifted away from economic cooperation to tourism and development cooperation New questions in the latest survey also allow us to demonstrate the descriptive vocabulary and cognitive maps students hold for the region and its nations This book details the key findings of the updated survey compared to the earlier survey These include nation by nation results and a summary of region wide trends as well as what they suggest for the prospects of ASEAN integration beyond 2015 These are assessed in a chapter providing broad recommendations for policymakers and educators in the ASEAN member states
