Minahan, 2000-07-30 Dominating world politics since 1945 the Cold War

created a fragile peace while suppressing national groups in the Cold War s most dangerous theater Europe Today with the collapse of Communism the European Continent is again overshadowed by the specter of radical nationalism as it was at the beginning of the century Focusing on the many possible conflicts that dot the European landscape this book is the first to address the Europeans as distinct national groups not as nation states and national minorities It is an essential guide to the national groups populating the so called Old World groups that continue to dominate world headlines and present the world community with some of its most intractable conflicts While other recent reference books on Europe approach the subject of nations and nationalism from the perspective of the European Union and the nation state this book addresses the post Cold War nationalist resurgence by focusing on the most basic element of any nationalism the nation It includes entries on nearly 150 groups surveying these groups from the earliest period of their national histories to the dawn of the 21st century In short essays highlighting the political social economic and historical evolution of peoples claiming a distinct identity in an increasingly integrated continent the book provides both up to date information and historical background on the European national groups that are currently making the news and those that will produce future headlines The New Crusades

Emran Qureshi, Michael A. Sells, 2003-11-26 Not since the Crusades of the Middle Ages has Islam evoked the degree of fear hostility and ethnic and religious stereotyping that is evident throughout Western culture today As conflicts continue to proliferate around the globe the perception of a colossal unyielding and unavoidable struggle between Islam and the West has intensified These numerous conflicts both actual and ideological have revived fears of an ongoing clash of civilizations an intractable and irreconcilable conflict of values between Western cultures and an Islam that is portrayed as hostile and alien The New Crusades takes head on the idea of an emergent Cold War between Islam and the West It explores the historical political and institutional forces that have raised the specter of a threatening and monolithic Muslim enemy and provides a nuanced critique of much received wisdom on the topic particularly the clash of civilizations theory Bringing together twelve of the most influential thinkers in Middle Eastern and religious studies including Edward Said Roy Mottahedeh and Fatema Mernissi this timely collection confronts such depictions of the Arab Islamic world showing their inner workings and how they both empower and shield from scrutiny Islamic radicals who operate from similar paradigms of inevitable and absolute Challenging Conceptions gathers together an interdisciplinary and international roster of scholars. They include professors and doctoral students in the fields of anthropology, gender studies, history, law, transitional justice, social work, and sociology among others. Some of these practitioners and scholars as they explain in their chapters are also themselves women who gave birth to children born of wartime sexual violence. The exchange of their voices and perspectives shines through in this collection to produce new and cutting edge knowledge on children born of war time sexual violence.

Unwanted Childbearing and Child Nutritional Status in the Western Balkan Roma Communities Jelena Čvorović, 2025-05-19

This book investigates the relationship between maternal investment, unwanted births, and child nutritional outcomes in five poor communities of the Western Balkan Roma. Based on an evolutionary approach, the book directly assesses variability in Roma mothers' parental care using data from UNICEF Multiple Indicator Cluster Surveys 5 and 6 for the Roma settlements in Serbia, Montenegro, Kosovo, Macedonia, and Bosnia and Herzegovina. The book includes useful information about Roma communities in the Western Balkans and their history and sufferings in the region. It reviews this history against the data on unwanted childbearing globally and in low and middle income countries. It addresses concerns related to Roma people's integration into European society despite their longstanding presence in Europe. The book analyses the existence of health differentials among Roma children themselves, suggesting that some children are especially vulnerable. Therefore, it critically assesses how multiple levels of vulnerabilities affect differential Roma parental investment in children. This book is a useful resource for researchers interested in Roma studies, children's well-being, wellbeing of marginal groups, social work, and social justice.
