International Peacekeeping Boris Kondoch,2017-05-15 Peacekeeping has been the technique most frequently used by and associated with the United Nations to end conflicts and to preserve peace In addition international and regional organizations have also performed peacekeeping functions Since the establishment of the first UN peacekeeping mission UNEF I in 1956 international lawyers have raised questions about the legal aspects of these operations Traditionally they analyzed the constitutional basis for peacekeeping and tried to allocate the authority under the UN Charter for peacekeeping among the Security Council the General Assembly and the Secretary General They discussed the use of force by peacekeepers the applicability of international humanitarian law as well as the responsibilities and liabilities of peacekeepers Since the end of the cold war peacekeeping operations have become more complex In the first forty years peacekeepers functioned mainly as buffer zones between warring parties and monitored cease fires Nowadays they are increasingly engaged in internal rather than international conflicts and perform a multitude of tasks Among others they act as civilian administrators oversee elections and monitor human rights These changes have raised new legal problems Which human rights obligations exist for peacekeepers Do peacekeepers have to intervene if they witness war crimes and acts of genocide How are they protected under international law What is the legal framework of UN administrations like in Kosovo and East Timor In order to enhance a better understanding of these legal issues arising from peacekeeping operations a collection of articles written by the leading experts in the field have been compiled in the volume International Peacekeeping
