World Yearbook of Education 2012 Gita Steiner-Khamsi, Florian Waldow, 2012-03-12 The phenomenon of travelling reforms has become an object of great professional interest and intensive academic scrutiny The fact that the same set of educational reforms is transferred from one country to another made scholars wonder whether policy transfer has increased as a result of globalization But also the fact that policy makers increasingly import best practices and international standards and use them as a tool to accelerate reform has captured the imagination of many that deal with policy studies An international comparative perspective is key for understanding why reforms travel from one corner of the world to another Not surprisingly the study of policy borrowing and lending constitutes one of the core research topics of comparative policy studies a new area of research that links comparative education with policy studies The World Yearbook of Education 2012 brings together a diverse range of perspectives on education policy through contributions from internationally renowned authors It reflects on the way policy borrowing and lending is reconfiguring the world of education and offers a new collection of insights into the changes occurring across the world It particularly focuses on The political and economic reasons for policy borrowing The agencies international networks and regimes that instigate policy change The process of borrowing and lending The impact of these systems agendas and institutions on indigenous settings This book will prove invaluable to researchers of globalization and to policy experts especially those interested in comparative and international educational studies It is also essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students and anyone involved in the sociology economy or history of education Gita Steiner Khamsi is Professor of Comparative and International Education at Teachers College Columbia University New York US Florian Waldow is Research Director at the University of Münster Germany

The Dynamics and Social Outcomes of Education Systems J. Janmaat, M. Duru-Bellat, P. Méhaut, A. Green, 2013-08-27 Some scholars argue that education systems across the western world are becoming increasingly similar due to the influence of transnational discourses and organizations Others believe that education is the panacea for all problems of social cohesion After all aren't the well educated usually more tolerant civically engaged and trusting than the poorly educated This book critically examines both claims It finds that western countries still differ markedly on key aspects of their education systems and that these differences reflect distinct political traditions and different responses to a set of competing normative and political principles The findings further suggest that raising the average education level is unlikely to be an effective strategy for promoting social cohesion Instead more promising are policies targeting the opposite ends of the lifelong learning continuum universalizing pre school education and care and promoting adult education with a pronounced second chance character

Poverty Reduction, Education, and the Global Diffusion of Conditional Cash Transfers Michelle Morais de Sá e

Silva, 2017-07-19 This book explores Conditional Cash Transfers programs within the context of education policy over the past several decades Conditional Cash Transfer programs CCTs provide cash to poor families upon the fulfillment of conditions related to the education and health of their children Even though CCTs aim to improve educational attainment it is not clear whether Departments or Ministries of Education have internalized CCTs into their own sets of policies and whether that has had an impact on the quality of education being offered to low income students Equally intriguing is the question of how conditional cash transfer programs have been politically sustained in so many countries some of them having existed for over ten years In order to explore that this book will build upon a comparative study of three programs across the Americas Opportunity NYC Subsidios Condicionados a la Asistencia Escolar Bogota Colombia and Bolsa Familia Brazil The book presents a detailed and non official account on the NYC and Bogota programs and will analyze CCTs from both a political and education policy perspective
