The Change Toward Cooperation in the George W. Bush Administration's Nuclear Nonproliferation Policy Toward North Korea Jonas Schneider, 2010 This book offers a case study in foreign policy change It examines why the Bush administration suddenly redirected its nuclear nonproliferation policy toward North Korea in the aftermath of North Korea's first nuclear test in October 2006 abandoning its former confrontational approach in favor of a more accommodating line Existing explanations of this course reversal draw on the security implications of a growing crisis on the Korean Peninsula U S domestic politics and changing decision making dynamics within the Bush administration Employing before after comparison the study refutes these accounts and it offers an alternative explanation The Bush administration altered its nonproliferation policy toward North Korea toward a cooperative course because after the nuclear test it perceived fundamentally improved prospects for fruitful cooperation on North Korea's denuclearization National Nuclear Security Administration United States.
