National Youth Service A Democratic Institution For The 21st Century:

National Youth Service ,1991 Teenagers and Community Service Maureen Kenny,Laura A.

Gallagher,2003-08-30 Community service is increasingly recognized as an important vehicle for promoting positive development among adolescents This book provides teenagers parents teachers professionals and concerned adults with current and useful information Included are resources for middle school high school and college students Those organizing and running programs will find a wealth of material for development and improvement including An examination of the characteristics of effective programs the young people who engage in service and those who benefit Practical strategies for those looking to start programs A look at current controversies such as mandatory service A chronology provides the historical context for understanding the current status of community service completing this practical and accessible guide to understanding and implementing good community service programs National Service, Citizenship, and Political Education

Eric B. Gorham,1992-09-01 This book analyzes the issues surrounding civilian national service policy from a fresh and original perspective The author connects national service programs to the political theories of civic republicanism and communitarianism assesses the practical consequences of these theories and examines past youth service programs such as the CCC and Peace Corps to see if they are appropriate models or ideals for a national program Gorham engages the issue of compulsory versus voluntary service and questions whether service tasks can instill a sense of citizenship in young people as defenders of the program claim Using the work of Michel Foucault Charles Taylor Carole Pateman and others he suggests that national service as presently planned will not create the citizen so much as a post industrial and gendered subject In the concluding chapters he presents an argument for a democratic national service and offers an alternative program for policymakers to consider Serving Country and Community Peter Frumkin,JoAnn Jastrzab,2010-06 Who benefits from AmeriCorps VISTA and National Civilian Community Corps Frumkin and Jastrzab make important recommendations on how to improve the programs and resolve some of the political and administrative issues which have plagued these initiatives in the past two decades James Youniss Catholic University of America National Service and AmeriCorps ,1997-01-14 This reference work provides sources on national service and AmeriCorps from a wide range of perspectives and disciplines including education public policy political science and public administration Part 1 deals with background information on national service from the 1960s to 1992 including the 1992 presidential campaign The crucial year 1993 when national service legislation was proposed and passed and AmeriCorps was named is covered in Part 2 The implementation of the National Community Service Trust Act in 1994 is covered in Part 3 Part 4 covering 1995 reflects a reassessment of the program by the new Republican majority in Congress Each section of the work includes books dissertations government documents and primarily serial literature A brief appendix accessing resources on the Internet is also included Licensing Parents

Jack C. Westman,2007-10-12 Licensing Parents addresses the relationship between poverty unemployment and other socio economic issues to competent parenting in a unique and creative manner Examines why the current generation of children and youth is the first in our nation s history to be less well off psychologically socially and morally than their parents were at the same age Growing Civil Society Jon Van Til,2000 The third space is not independent from society s major institutions but exists in dynamic interdependence with them linking individuals in their home bases of family and community to the larger governmental and economic structures within which all citizens workers and consumers learn to seek their way in modern society BOOK JACKET Green Paper on National Youth Service South Africa.
