Nationalism In Colonial Africa:

Nationalism in Colonial Africa Thomas Hodgkin, 1956 Nationalism in Colonial and Post-colonial Africa Festus Ugboaja Ohaegbulam, 1977 Nationalism in Colonial Africa Thomas Lionel Hodgkin, 2003-01-01 A History of Africa: African nationalism and the de-colonisation process Assa Okoth, 2006 Nationalism in Colonial Africa Patrick Suppes, 1957 Nationalism and African Intellectuals Toyin Falola, 2001 This book is about how African intellectuals influenced primarily by nationalism have addressed the inter related issues of power identity politics self assertion and autonomy for themselves and their continent from the mid nineteenth century onward Their major goal was to create a better Africa by connecting nationalism to knowledge The results have been mixed from the glorious euphoria of the success of anti colonial movements to the depressing circumstances of the African condition as we enter a new millennium As the intellectual elite is a creation of the Western formal school system the ideas it generated are also connected to the larger world of scholarship This world is in turn shaped by European contacts with Africa from the fifteenth century onward the politics of the Cold War and the subsequent collapse of the Soviet Union In essence Africa and its elite cannot be fully understood without also considering the West and changing global politics Neither can the academic and media contributions by non Africans be ignored as these also affect the ways that Africans think about themselves and their continent Nationalism and African Intellectuals examines intellectuals ambivalent relationships with the colonial apparatus and subsequent nation state formations the contradictions manifested within pan Africanism and nationalism and the relation of academic institutions and intellectual production to the state during the nationalism period and beyond Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin African Nationalism and Revolution Gregory Maddox, 2019-11-04 The study of African history as an academic discipline is a rather new field and one that still has its detractors both within and outside academics This collection of articles highlights for students and scholars the modern era in African history It brings together published research on the colonial era in Africa an era relatively brief but one that saw dramatic change in African societies In Search of Nationhood Patrick F. Wilmot, 1979 The Palgrave Handbook of African Colonial and Postcolonial History Martin S. Shanguhya, Toyin Falola, 2018-01-28 This wide ranging volume presents the most complete appraisal of modern African history to date It assembles dozens of new and established scholars to tackle the questions and subjects that define the field ranging from the economy the two world wars nationalism decolonization and postcolonial politics to religion development sexuality and the African youth experience Contributors are drawn from numerous fields in African studies including art music literature education and anthropology The themes they cover illustrate the depth of modern African history and the diversity and originality of lenses available for examining it Older themes in the field have been treated to an engaging re assessment while new and emerging themes are situated as the book's core strength The result is a comprehensive vital picture of where the field of modern African history stands today The Rise of Nationalism in Central Africa Robert I. Rotberg, 1965 Detailed study of the political evolution of two independent states of tropical Africa tracing their efforts to achieve self government Pan-Africanism/African Nationalism B. F. Bankie, 2008 The Cambridge History of Africa J. D. Fage, Roland Anthony Oliver, Michael Crowder, 1975 The eighth and final volume of The Cambridge History of Africa covers the period 1940-75 It begins with a discussion of the role of the Second World War in the political decolonisation of Africa Its terminal date of 1975 coincides with the retreat of Portugal the last European colonial power in Africa from its possessions and their accession to independence The fifteen chapters which make up this volume examine on both a continental and regional scale the extent to which formal transfer of political power by the European colonial rulers also involved economic social and cultural decolonisation A major theme of the volume is the way the African successors to the colonial rulers dealt with their inheritance and how far they benefited particular economic groups and disadvantaged others The contributors to this volume represent different disciplinary traditions and do not share a single theoretical perspective on the recent history of the continent a subject that is still the occasion for passionate debate The Postcolonial State in Africa Crawford Young, 2012-11-20 A highly readable sweeping and yet detailed analysis of the African state in all its failures and moments of hope Crawford Young manages to touch upon all the important issues in the discipline and crucial developments in the recent history of the African continent This book will be a classic Pierre Englebert author of Africa Unity Sovereignty and Sorrow Resistance and Colonialism Nuno Domingos, Miguel Bandeira Jerónimo, Ricardo Roque, 2019-08-01 This volume offers a critical re examination of colonial and anti colonial resistance imageries and practices in imperial history It offers a fresh critique of both pejorative and celebratory readings of insurgent peoples and it seeks to revitalize the study of resistance as an analytical field in the comparative history of Western colonialisms It explores how to read and de code these issues in archival documents and how to conjugate documental approaches with oral history indigenous memories and international histories of empire The topics explored include runaway slaves and slave rebellions mutiny and banditry memories and practices of guerrilla and liberation diplomatic negotiations and cross border confrontations theft collaboration and even the subversive effects of nature in colonial projects of labor exploitation Cold War and Decolonization in Guinea, 1946-1958 Elizabeth Schmidt, 2007 Winner of the African Politics Conference Group's Best Book Award In September 1958 Guinea claimed its independence rejecting a constitution that would have relegated it to junior partnership in the French Community In all the French empire Guinea was the only territory to vote No Orchestrating the No vote was the Guinean branch of the Rassemblement Démocratique Africain RDA an alliance of political parties with affiliates in French West and Equatorial Africa and the United Nations trusts of Togo and Cameroon Although Guinea's stance vis vis the 1958 constitution has been recognized as unique until now the historical roots of this phenomenon have not been adequately explained Clearly written and free of jargon Cold War and Decolonization in Guinea argues that Guinea's vote for independence was the culmination of a decade long struggle between local militants and political leaders for control of the political agenda Since 1950 when RDA representatives in the French parliament severed their ties to the French Communist Party conservative elements had dominated the RDA In Guinea local cadres had opposed the break Victimized by the administration and sidelined by their own leaders they quietly rebuilt the party from the base Leftist militants their voices muted throughout most of the decade gained preeminence in 1958 when trade unionists students the party s women s and youth wings and other grassroots actors pushed the Guinean RDA to endorse a No vote Thus Guinea s rejection of the proposed constitution in favor of immediate independence was not an isolated aberration Rather it was the outcome of years of political mobilization by activists who despite Cold War repression ultimately pushed the Guinean RDA to the left The significance of this highly original book based on previously unexamined archival records and oral interviews with grassroots activists extends far beyond its primary subject In illuminating the Guinean case Elizabeth Schmidt helps us understand the dynamics of decolonization and its legacy for postindependence nation building in many parts of the developing world Examining Guinean history from the bottom up Schmidt considers local politics within the larger context of the Cold War making her book suitable for courses in African history and politics diplomatic history and Cold War history

UNESCO General History of Africa, Vol. VII, Abridged Edition Unesco. International Scientific Committee for the Drafting of a General History of Africa, 1990-06-25 This volume reflects how the different peoples of Africa view their civilizations and shows the historical relationships between the various parts of the continent Historical connections with other continents demonstrate Africa s contribution to the development of human civilization The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography Thula Simpson, Immanuel R. Harisch, 2025-05-09 The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography explores history's fortunes in Modern Africa south of the Sahara from the discipline's Golden Age as a handmaiden in struggles against colonialism to difficult decades when its survival has been threatened by capricious political and economic conditions and the uncertain present where the continent's historians struggle to justify their value to frequently sceptical publics In exploring the discipline's practical role in past struggles for African emancipation the volume speaks directly to these challenging but changing circumstances The chapters feature contributions from leading experts on historiographical traditions of different regions of the continent They collectively demonstrate how the process of instrumentalizing the past to advance lay struggles has influenced the choices historians have made regarding sources methodology interpretation audiences and platforms This practical application has strongly shaped the diverse forms that African historiography has assumed as reflected in this book The themes discussed offer a platform for inserting Africa into comparative studies of global historiographical traditions whilst also contributing to contemporary debates on decolonization In offering accessible insights from leading historians this is an essential handbook for students and scholars of African history and historiography as well as all those interested in postcolonial studies
