Nationality And Statelessness In International Law:

Nationality and Statelessness in International Law Paul Weis, 1979-12-13 This second revised edition takes into account the decision of the International Court of Justice in the Nottebohm Case which was published just as the first edition was going to press and therefore received only cursory treatment It also of course includes an analysis of international legislation adopted since 1955 including the 1961 UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness the 1957 UN Convention on the Nationality of Married Women and the 1966 International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights The decisions of international tribunals and in particular of the Italian Conciliation Commissions are analysed Finally the author presents legislative judicial and governmental practice during the twenty two years After beginning with a clear definition of terms the author analyses the functions of nationality in international law the relationship between municipal and international law and then the public international law of nationality In this latter part he examines international conventions international custom and the principles of law generally recognized with regard to nationality The book ends with a summary and conclusions dealing with the existing law and future developments
