Native American Basketry Of Southern California:

Native American Basketry of Southern California Christopher L. Moser, Riverside Municipal Museum, 1993 Southern California Luiseño Indian Baskets Justin Farmer, 2004-12-01 Luiseño Indians are indigenous to the Southern California coastal plains of northern San Diego and western Riverside counties where they are recognized by the US Bureau of Indian Affairs as Mission Indians They are also recognized by Indians and Non Indians alike as weavers of some of the finest baskets perhaps in the entire world In August 2004 the US Postal Service issued a commemorative stamp pane of which one stamp features the image of a basket from the Riverside Municipal Museums extensive collection To celebrate that event the Museum mounted an exhibit featuring most of the Luiseño baskets in the Museums collection That exhibit expanded on a program initiated by the late Dr Christopher Moser who over a 23 year period mounted approximately ten exhibits of Western US Indian baskets Those exhibits made available to the public almost every one of the museums nearly 3 000 Indian baskets an unheard of feat in museum circles Not only did Chris almost single handedly mount the many exhibits he also authored and published four major catalogues on those exhibits which over the last 20 years evolved into the most authoritative documents ever written on Southern California Indian baskets This author was privileged to have worked with Dr Moser on two of those titles It was therefore an honor to be asked by Dr H Vincent Moses the Riverside Municipal Museum Director to prepare this catalogue It is an even greater honor to be able to dedicate this catalogue to Chris whom the author held in such high esteem

Contemporary California Indian Basketry Bev Ortiz, 2008 Baskets have been woven for at least 10 000 years in the area now known as the western United States Originally created by California Indians as utilitarian objects for everyday family use by the late 1800s baskets had become a commodity that provided much needed income Collector interest in baskets resulted in an expanding literature that focused on their collectability promoted their making with largely store bought imported materials and compared their techniques of fabrication While most basketry literature whether scholarly or popular has largely concerned itself with the object form design materials technique and function since 1970 the literature on basketry has begun to shift its focus to the process and the weavers themselves The present study begins by surveying the worldwide literature about basketry with an emphasis on California Indian basketry It recounts the history of the practice of basketry in California which began to decline in the 1930s because of lack of need and interest the economics of the Depression and a desire to not stand out as Indian Attention then shifts to organizational efforts by California Indians since 1940 to reverse this trend By establishing basketry organizations California Indian women sought to gain respect for their cultures within the dominant society while at the same time rebuilding pride among the young Based on 30 years of field research with hundreds of California Indian basketmakers statewide the present study examines the effectiveness of organizational efforts to renew basketry as well as impediments to its continued practice including 1 lack of time to learn and weave and 2 lack of access to properly managed basketry materials growing in safe areas free from chemical contamination After detailing these issues and the solutions that California Indians have devised to resolve them the study illustrates the diverse reasons why California Indians continue to make baskets and the varied ways they learn through the stories of individual weavers including biographies of four elder basketmakers whose influence was widespread The humanity tenacity and resourcefulness of the weavers are highlighted as they continue to find new ways to bring an old practice into the future The Living Web Margaret Susan Mathewson,1998 Native American Basketry Frank Porter,1988-04-27 This bibliography includes more than 1 100 entries from books journals newspaper articles and dissertations concerning North American Indian basketry More general cultural works with some information on basketry are also included and the materials date from early ethnographic work in the late 19th and early 20th centuries to 1987 The introduction offers a good overview of research in Native American basketry and although the annotations vary greatly in thoroughness and length they are generally useful This unique well produced bibliography is recommended for collections supporting programs in anthropology crafts or Native American Studies Choice Interest in Native American basketry dates from the late 1800s when an enthusiastic public together with curators academic collectors and archaeologists first began to appreciate the value and uniqueness of these beautiful hand crafted artifacts This bibliography is the first comprehensive guide to publications on the subject Organized by major cultural areas of North America it offers annotated listings of books journal articles dissertations theses monographs and selected newspaper articles published over the last 100 years In his introductory essay Porter discusses the history of Native American basket making and the findings and views of some of the anthropologists archaeologists and popular writers whose works contribute to our knowledge of the subject The bibliography is divided into eleven sections each dealing with a specific geographical cultural area Entries are cross referenced and a comprehensive index gives convenient access to authors titles and subjects American Indian Basketry of Northern California Christopher L. Wolfe, JoAnn Nevers, Catherine S. Fowler, Darla Garey-Sage, Marvin Cohodas, 2025-03-11 This large scale book presents breathtaking Native American basketry made by the Washoe people who have lived in the Lake Tahoe region of California and Nevada for millennia This book explores fine art and functional basketry made by Washoe weavers who are recognized for their intricate and meticulous weaving techniques and complex designs Drawing inspiration and natural materials from their ancestral homelands Washoe baskets reflect the deep cultural reverence of their makers for the environment particularly the sacred site of Lake Tahoe the surrounding Sierra Nevada and adjacent valleys Among Washoe weavers Louisa Keyser also known as Datsolalee is widely regarded as one of the most innovative important and famous basketmakers in North America The book provides a deeper understanding of the cultural historical and political contexts in which these remarkable baskets were created making it an essential read for anyone interested in Indigenous art and culture

California Indian Basketry Wayne A. Thompson, Alan P. Garfinkel, 2021 This richly illustrated photographic overview captures the beauty and artistry of the remarkable world class Native American Indian baskets of California circa 1895 to 1940 known as the Florescence or Flowering It is a tribute to these artisans and includes biographical snapshots of weavers and portraits of their masterpiece California Indian baskets which today exist in museums and private collections throughout the United States Collecting highly complex and artistic Native American baskets became a successful tourist business in the late 19th and early 20th century tourism in the United States exploded as a result of the expansion of the railway system to hitherto relatively inaccessible locations This new business benefitted both collectors of this art form and the weavers who created them The transition from woven baskets used for utilitarian use to more durable and less expensive metal cookware and storage vessels allowed weavers the time needed to innovate and create baskets specifically catering to tourist interests During this period of Florescence some of the world s most intricate beautiful and artistic baskets were woven particularly by highly talented weavers representing several Native American tribes located throughout California Rods, Bundles & Stitches Raúl A. López, Christopher L. Moser, 1981 American Indian Basketry Otis Tufton Mason, 1988-01-01 The origins of basketry are lost in the mists of prehistory but making baskets is certainly one of the oldest and most nearly universal crafts of mankind In the Americas basket artifacts found in caves in Utah have been dated at 7000 B C while twined baskets said to be at least 5 000 years old have been uncovered in Peru In the American Southwest an entire Indian culture ca 100 700 A D is known as Basket Maker because of the distinctive baskets it produced This exhaustive survey two volumes in one of American Indian basketry perhaps the finest book ever published on the subject documents basketmaking throughout the Americas in Eastern North America Alaska and the Pacific Northwest Western Canada Oregon California and the Interior Basin as well as Mexico Central and South America Spanning a wide range of indigenous cultures Aleutian Tlinkit Shoshonean Athapascam etc the detailed carefully researched discussions in this book offer a wealth of information about woven and coiled basketry watertight basketry materials basketmaking techniques and preparation ornamentation and symbolism as well as the uses of baskets as receptacles in preparing and serving food for gleanings and milling in mortuary customs in religion and social life in trapping carrying water and in many other areas of Indian life An interesting and informative chapter on collectors and collections and the preservation of baskets followed by a helpful biography rounds out the book In addition the author once Curator of Ethnology at the U S National Museum part of the Smithsonian Institution enhanced this encyclopedic study with over 450 excellent photographs and illustrations For collectors preservationists anthropologists students of crafts and culture modern basketmakers this is an indispensable reference a massively rich source of information about baskets the peoples who made them how they were made and their role in native American life and culture
