Unlocking the Prehistory of America Frank Joseph, 2013-12-15 This volume with more than twenty four noted contributors offers possible evidence of ancient immigrants lost technologies and places of power in ancient America long before the voyages of Christopher Columbus While digging out basements near Los Angeles homeowners unearth a 3 000 year old Phoenician altar A treasure hunter in Ohio finds more than he expected when his metal detector locates an eastern Mediterranean pendant from 1000 BCE Two caches of coins minted in Imperial Rome surface along the Ohio River These are just a few of the examples that illustrate theories that there were foreign influences shaping the prehistory of the Americas

Therapeutic Nations Dian Million, 2013-09-26 Self determination is on the agenda of Indigenous peoples all over the world This analysis by an Indigenous feminist scholar challenges the United Nations based human rights agendas and colonial theory that until now have shaped Indigenous models of self determination Gender inequality and gender violence Dian Million argues are critically important elements in the process of self determination Million contends that nation state relations are influenced by a theory of trauma ascendant with the rise of neoliberalism Such use of trauma theory regarding human rights corresponds to a therapeutic narrative by Western governments negotiating with Indigenous nations as they seek self determination Focusing on Canada and drawing comparisons with the United States and Australia Million brings a genealogical understanding of trauma against a historical filter Illustrating how Indigenous people are positioned differently in Canada Australia and the United States in their articulation of trauma the author particularly addresses the violence against women as a language within a greater politic The book introduces an Indigenous feminist critique of this violence against the medicalized framework of addressing trauma and looks to the larger goals of decolonization Noting the influence of humanitarian psychiatry Million goes on to confront the implications of simply dismissing Indigenous healing and storytelling traditions Therapeutic Nations is the first book to demonstrate affect and trauma s wide ranging historical origins in an Indigenous setting offering insights into community healing programs The author s theoretical sophistication and original research make the book relevant across a range of disciplines as it challenges key concepts of American Indian and Indigenous studies
