implementation of the new legislation was the Orange Free State White farmers took the cue from the Land Act to begin expelling black peasants from their land as squatters while the police began to rigorously enforce the pass laws which registered the employment of Africans and prescribed their residence and movement rights Native Life in South Africa Sol T Plaatje, 2020-01-26 Native Life in South Africa was written by one of South Africa's most talented early twentieth century black leaders and journalists Sol Plaatje's pioneering book arose out of an early African National Congress campaign to protest against the discriminatory 1913 Natives Land Act. A work of impassioned political propaganda exposing the plight of black South Africans under the whites only government. Native Life in South Africa Sol T Plaatje, 2020-06-28 I am Black but comely O ye daughters of Jerusalem as the tents of Kedar as the curtains of Solomon Look not upon me because I am black because the sun hath looked upon me my mother's children were angry with me they made me the keeper of the vineyards but mine own vineyard have I not kept The Song of Songs. Awakening on Friday morning June 20 1913 the South African Native found himself not actually a slave but a pariah in the land of his birth. The 4 500 000 black South Africans are domiciled as follows One and three quarter millions in Locations and Reserves over half a million within municipalities or in urban areas and nearly a million as squatters on farms owned by Europeans. The remainder are employed either on the public roads or railway lines or as servants by European farmers qualifying that is by hard work and saving to start farming on their own account. A squatter in South Africa is a native who owns some livestock and having no land of his own hires a farm or grazing and ploughing rights from a landowner to raise grain for his own use and feed his stock. Hence these squatters are hit very hard by an Act which passed both Houses of Parliament during the session of 1913 received the signature of the Governor General on June 16 was gazetted on June 19 and forthwith came into operation. It may be here mentioned that on that day Lord Gladstone signed no fewer than sixteen new Acts of Parliament some of them being rather voluminous while three days earlier His Excellency signed another batch of eight of which the bulk was beyond the capability of any mortal to read and digest in four days. But the great revolutionary change thus wrought by a single stroke of the pen in the condition of the Native was not realized by him until about the end of June. As a rule many farm tenancies expire at the end of the half year so that in June 1913 not knowing that it was impracticable to make fresh contracts some Natives unwittingly went to search for new places of abode which some farmers ignorant of the law quite as unwittingly accorded them It was only when they went to register the new tenancies that the law officers of the Crown laid bare the cruel fact that to provide a landless Native with accommodation was forbidden under a penalty of 100 Pounds or six months imprisonment Then only was the situation realized Other Natives who had taken up fresh places on European farms under verbal contracts which needed no registration actually founded new homes in spite of the law neither the white farmer nor the native tenant being aware of the serious penalties they were exposed to by their verbal contracts
