Natos New Strategic Concept And Peripheral Contingencies The Middle East:

NATO's New Strategic Concept and Peripheral Contingencies Shahram Chubin, F. Stephen Larrabee, 1999 On July 15 16 1999 RAND's Center for Middle East Public Policy and the Geneva Center for Security Policy held a workshop on the likelihood of out of area roles for NATO with emphasis on the Middle East The 25 attendees explored NATO's role in operations beyond its borders European capabilities for power projection Western policy toward the Middle East and the Gulf the Arab Israel area and external power intervention and external intervention and the Persian Gulf There was a general consensus that any military action required in the Gulf or Middle East would probably be carried out by a coalition of willing NATO members rather than NATO as an institution The gap between U S power projection capabilities and those of Europe is particularly striking in modern and transport aircraft and in smart weapons The disparity was particularly evident in the Kosovo conflict Considerable attention was given to Turkey's role in Middle East affairs particularly the NATO and the Middle East Mohammed Moustafa Orfy, 2010-10-04 This book examines the role of NATO in the Middle East It reviews the strategic importance of the region and why it has become a source of instability looks at US and international initiatives to counteract this instability and charts the development of NATO in this context NATO's New Strategic Concept and Peripheral Contingencies Shahram Chubin, 1999 America's Challenges in an Unstable World Frances K. Scott, 2002

Countering the Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction Thanos P. Dokos, 2020-07-24 As counter proliferation is expected to become the central element in the new national security policy of the US such actions will constitute a central element of every major international conflict in the first decades of the 21st century One of the most important geostrategic phenomena of the past decade has been the extraordinary diffusion of war making capabilities from the developed North to the developing South In the eyes of some proliferant states possessing nuclear biological and chemical NBC weapons would not only add to their regional stature but would also offer an asymmetrical counter to the West's massive superiority in conventional forces In the Eastern Mediterranean and the Middle East a number of countries are assumed to possess varying levels of NBC weapons capabilities Reasons for concern include the fact that such weapons have been used in the past the region's geographic proximity to Europe and the vital interests of the West which is prepared under certain circumstances to use force to protect them the multiplicity of conflicts and other security problems and the general instability in the region including the spread of religious extremism This important and timely book assesses in detail the accuracy of predictions and perceptions about a possible military threat from the Southern Mediterranean Muslim world and their impact on NATO's political and military posture Thanos P. Dokos presents an assessment of the Alliance's options for dealing with the problem This book represents an invaluable topical resource for researchers and policy makers The Common European Security and Defense Policy (ESDP) Edward G. Gunning, 2001 As the United States continues to adjust to its role in the post Cold War world the transatlantic partnership remains fundamental to US security concerns Commander Gunning alpha s paper is a wake up call suggesting that Europe is concerned about US intransigence when it comes the security partnership with Europe While the United States has often encouraged the Europeans to improve capabilities and take on a greater share of the defensive burden their recent efforts to do so have often been viewed as paradoxical to US concerns Policymakers on this side of the Atlantic worry that Europe in some ways is moving towards going it alone with the development of the European Security and Defense Policy ESDP Still US desires for increased burdensharing need to be reconciled with ESDP Commander Gunning highlights these differences and spells out how in his opinion it is possible for the United States to remain engaged in Europe and to allow the European Union to develop its own defense identity The differences of opinion between the two sides are more speed bumps than road blocks and some disagreement and frustration is to be expected The conclusion here is that security interests on both sides of the Atlantic will be served in the long run by encouraging the development of a more autonomous European defense capability and through American patience as that process unfolds

Forward Security and Environment in the Mediterranean Hans Günter Brauch, Peter H. Liotta, Antonio Marquina, Paul F. Rogers, Mohammad El-Sayed Selim, 2012-12-06 In this volume security specialists peace researchers environmental scholars demographers as well as climate desertification water food and urbanisation specialists from the Middle East and North Africa Europe and North America review security and conflict prevention in the Mediterranean They also analyse NATO s Mediterranean security dialogue and offer conceptualisations on security and perceptions of security challenges as seen in North and South The latter half of the book analyses environmental security and conflicts in the Mediterranean and environmental consequences of World War II the Gulf War the Balkan wars and the Middle East conflict It also examines factors of global environmental change population growth climate change desertification water scarcity food and urbanisation issues as well as natural disasters Furthermore it draws conceptual conclusions for a fourth phase of research on human and environmental security and peace as well as policy conclusions for cooperation and partnership in the Mediterranean in the 21st century

The Common European Security and Defense Policy (ESDP) , Globalization and Environmental Challenges Hans Günter Brauch, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Czeslaw Mesjasz, John Grin, Pál Dunay, Navnita Chadha Behera, Béchir Chourou, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, P. H. Liotta, 2008-01-23 Put quite simply the twin impacts of globalization and environmental degradation pose new security dangers and concerns In this new work on global security thinking 91 authors from five continents and many disciplines from science and practice assess the worldwide reassessment of the meaning of security triggered by the end of the Cold War and globalization as well as the multifarious impacts of global environmental change in the early 21st century

Defending Europe J. Howorth, J. Keeler, 2003-04-18 Defending Europe seeks to clarify the competing ambitions the contrasting visions and the trans Atlantic tensions related to the recent quest by Europe for autonomy in the sphere of security and defense Scholars from both sides of the Atlantic explore the development of ESDI within NATO the revival of the WEU and the launch of the EU s Common European Security and Defense Policy Among the issues discussed are the Euro American capabilities gap concerns regarding decoupling discrimination and duplication and the complications posed by NATO EU enlargement Two contrary conclusions debate whether ESDP is more likely to strengthen or undermine the Atlantic Alliance This informative foray into the trans Atlantic security and defense issues is a crucial addition to the ongoing dialogue concerning this shifting and evolving relationship Special Bibliography Series,1957 Euro-Mediterranean Security: A Search for Partnership Sven Biscop,2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2003 This work provides a clearer understanding of the EU s approach towards security in the Mediterranean After examining the EU s interests and the potential threats to security in the region it analyzes EU security policy towards the region as a whole through the Euro Mediterranean Partnership and towards all disputes and conflicts in the area It recommends opening up the European Security and Defence Policy to Mediterranean participation in order to establish a deep and equitable security partnership between both shores The book argues that this way the EU could implement its innovative comprehensive and co operative approach to security Rather than focusing on the military aspect alone this approach takes into account all dimensions of security political socio economic cultural and ecological and is based on partnership rather than confrontation It therefore contrasts quite sharply with the policies advocated in the US National Security Strategy 2003, /((□□□□-□□□□)□□□□□□□□ □□□□ □□□□□□ □□□□□□ □□□□□□□□□□□□ Index of Conference Proceedings British Library. Mariano,2007 The purpose of this paper is to untangle the capabilities portion of NATO s transformation initiatives and analyze their contribution to international security The key questions asked are What does NATO transformation entail is it effective and what is its future The conclusion concedes a measure of progress but identifies several shortfalls The paper then makes a general recommendation for improving NATO s transformational capabilities NATO s transformation efforts are balancing unsteadily between political will and military commitment Foreign and defense ministers generally support transformation initiatives but find their best intentions side lined by fierce competition for domestic budgets As can be expected from an international institution with a dual political and military identity NATO s transformational work is proceeding in an uneven political military manner The bottom line however is that the political decisions on Prague Capability Commitment programs are disconnected from NATO s other military programs Research was conducted using a
