expectations from both audiences and the musical press Christopher Fifield who has a conductor's intimacy with the repertoire looks in turn at the five decades between the mid 1820s and mid 1870s He deals only with non programmatic works leaving the programme symphony to travel its own route to the symphonic poem Composers who lead to Brahms himself a reluctant symphonist until the age of 43 in 1876 are frequently dismissed as epigones of Beethoven Mendelssohn and Schumann but by investigating their symphonies Fifield reveals their respective brands of originality even their own possible influence upon Brahms himself and in so doing shines a light into a half century of neglected nineteenth century German symphonic music
