Women and the Nineteenth-Century Lied Aisling Kenny, Susan Wollenberg, 2016-03-03 This book bridges a gap in existing scholarship by foregrounding the contribution of women to the nineteenth century Lied Building on the pioneering work of scholars in recent years it consolidates recent research on women s achievements in the genre and develops an alternative narrative of the Lied that embraces an understanding of the contributions of women and of the contexts of their engagement with German song and related genres Lieder composers including Fanny Hensel Clara Schumann Pauline Viardot Garcia and Josephine Lang are considered with a stimulating variety of analytical approaches In addition to the focus on composers associated with history and theory of the Lied the various chapters explore the cultural and sociological background to the Lied s musical environment as well as engaging with gender studies and discussing performance and pedagogical contexts The range of subject matter reflects the interdisciplinary nature of current research in the field and the energy it generates among scholars and performers Women and the Nineteenth Century Lied aims to widen readers perception of the genre and help promote awareness of women s contribution to nineteenth century musical life through critical appraisal of the cultural context of the Lied encouraging acquaintance with the voices of women composers and the variety of their contributions to the repertoire book includes a bibliography and discography covering the work of ninety composers A Rebecca Clarke Reader Liane Curtis, 2005 Analytical Essays on Music by Women Composers: Concert Music, 1960-2000 Laurel Parsons, Brenda Ravenscroft, 2016-03-18 Over the past 30 years musicologists have produced a remarkable new body of research literature focusing on the lives and careers of women composers in their socio historical contexts But detailed analysis and discussion of the works created by these composers are still extremely rare This is particularly true in the domain of music theory where scholarly work continues to focus almost exclusively on male composers Moreover while the number of performances broadcasts and recordings of music by women has unquestionably grown these works remain significantly underrepresented in comparison to music by male composers Addressing these deficits is not simply a matter of rectifying a scholarly gender imbalance the lack of knowledge surrounding the music of female composers means that scholars performers and the general public remain unfamiliar with a large body of exciting repertoire Analytical Essays on Music by Women Composers Concert Music 1960 2000 is the first to appear in a groundbreaking four volume series devoted to compositions by women across Western art music history Each chapter opens with a brief biographical sketch of the composer before presenting an in depth critical analytic exploration of a single representative composition linking analytical observations with questions of meaning and sociohistorical context Chapters are grouped thematically by analytical approach into three sections each of which places the analytical methods used in the essays that follow into the context of late twentieth century ideas and trends Featuring rich analyses and critical discussions many by leading music theorists in the field this collection brings to the fore repertoire from a range of important composers thereby enabling further exploration by scholars teachers performers and listeners The Palgrave Macmillan Dictionary of Women's Biography J. includes an exploration of formal procedures an issue much discussed by contemporary sources The individual composers reactions to the debate instigated by the Society of Women Musicians on the future of women s music is considered in relation to their lives careers and the chamber music itself As the composers in this study were not a cohesive group creatively or ideologically the book draws on primary sources as well as the writings of contemporary commentators to assess the legacy of the chamber works produced
