Roughing it in the Suburbs Valerie J. Korinek,2000-01-01 Korinek shows that rather than promoting domestic perfection Chatelaine did not cling to the stereotypes of the era but instead forged ahead providing women with a variety of images ideas and critiques of women s role in society Sex and Race in the Black Atlantic Daniel McNeil,2010-01-27 This is the first book to place the self fashioning of mixed race individuals in the context of a Black Atlantic Drawing on a wide range of sources and a diverse cast of characters from the diaries letters novels and plays of femme fatales in Congo and the United States to the advertisements dissertations oral histories and political speeches of Black Power activists in Canada and the United Kingdom it gives particular attention to the construction of mixed race femininity and masculinity during the twentieth century Its broad scope and historical approach provides readers with a timely rejoinder to academics artists journalists and politicians who only use the mixed race label to depict prophets or delinquents as new national icons for the twenty first century Weapons of Mass Persuasion Paul Rutherford,2004-12-15 With nearly sixty percent of Americans initially against a pre emptive war without sanction from the United Nations and even higher anti war numbers in most other nations of the world the 2003 war against Iraq quickly became an enormous public relations challenge for the George W Bush administration The subject of Weapons of Mass Persuasion is a war in which American patriotism became so mired in commercial jingoism that the demarcations between entertainment and political conduct disappeared completely In this engaging and disturbing book Paul Rutherford shows how the marketing campaign for the war against Iraq was constructed and carried out. He argues that not only was the campaign a new chapter in the presentation of real time war as pop culture but that its deeper implications have now come to constitute part of the history of modern democracy. Situating the war against Iraq within an existing tradition of war as narrative spectacle and more broadly commodity, Rutherford offers a brief overview of the history of civic advertising and propaganda then examines in detail the different dimensions of three weeks of war presented to North Americans as it became a branded conflict processed and cleansed to appeal to the well established tastes of veteran consumers of popular culture. Including incisive analyses of visual material, speeches, editorial cartoons and media political commentary but particularly news reports of such sound bite events as the bombing of Baghdad, the toppling of the Hussein statue and the rescue of captured soldier Private Jessica Lynch as well as extensive polling data from around the world and interviews with the actual consumers of war. Weapons of Mass Persuasion chronicles the making of a Hollywood war, fast paced and heroic, pitting the forces of good against the forces of evil to achieve a triumphant, sanitized and commodified outcome. Not since Naomi Klein's No Logo have the gods of marketing and the art of commercialism been so thoroughly disrobed. Electronic Format Disclaimer: Images removed at the request of the rights holder.

Brewed in the North Matthew J. Bellamy, 2019-10-10 For decades the name Labatt was synonymous with beer in Canada but no longer. Brewed in the North traces the birth, growth and demise of one of the nation's oldest and most successful breweries. Opening a window into Canada's complicated relationship with beer, Matthew Bellamy examines the strategic decisions taken by a long line of Labatt family members and professional managers from the 1840s when John Kinder Labatt entered the business of brewing in the Upper Canadian town of London to the globalization of the industry in the 1990s. Spotlighting the challenges involved as Labatt executives adjusted to external shocks, the advent of the railway, Prohibition, war, the Great Depression, new forms of competition and free trade, Bellamy offers a case study of success and failure in business. Through Labatt's lively history from 1847 to 1995, this book explores the wider spirit of Canadian capitalism, the interplay between the state's moral economy and enterprise and the difficulties of creating popular beer brands in a country that is regionally, linguistically and culturally diverse. A comprehensive look at one of the industry's most iconic firms, Brewed in the North sheds light on what it takes to succeed in the business of Canadian brewing.

Conspiracies and Conspiracy Theories in American History Christopher R. Fee, Jeffrey B. Webb, 2019-05-24 This up to date introduction to the complex world of conspiracies and conspiracy theories provides insight into why millions of people are so ready to believe the worst about our political, legal, religious and financial institutions. Unsupported theories provide simple explanations for catastrophes that are otherwise difficult to understand, from the U.S. Civil War to the Stock Market Crash of 1929 to the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center in New York. Ideas about shadowy networks that operate behind a cloak of secrecy, including real organizations like the CIA and the Mafia and imagined ones like the Illuminati, additionally provide a way for people to criticize prevailing political and economic arrangements while for society's disadvantaged and forgotten groups conspiracy theories make their suffering and alienation comprehensible and provide a focal point for their economic or political frustrations These volumes detail the highly controversial and influential phenomena of conspiracies and conspiracy theories in American society Through interpretive essays and factual accounts of various people organizations and ideas the reader will gain a much greater appreciation for a set of beliefs about political scheming covert intelligence gathering and criminal rings that has held its grip on the minds of millions of American citizens and encouraged them to believe that the conspiracies may run deeper and with a global reach
