New Law Of Expropriation:

New Law of Expropriation John A. Coates, Patricia Dakin, Stephen F. Waqué, 1984 Foreign Relations of the United States United States. Department of State, 1965 The Austrian Codification of Administrative Procedure Giacinto della Cananea, Angela Ferrari Zumbini, Otto Pfersmann, 2023 This book explores the development of the Austrian codification of administrative procedure and the subsequent spread of Austrian ideas and institutions across Europe The book thus provides an unprecedented outlook on the emergence of an increasing common core regarding administrative procedure and the consequences it had for other legal systems Second Thoughts Armand de Mestral, 2017-01-30 Criticism Doubts Second thoughts Although investor state arbitration ISA has been included in investment agreements between developed and developing countries since the 1960s and provided foreign investors with a kind of private justice against developing world host states it became increasingly controversial in developed countries when it was included in NAFTA in 1993 creating the possibility of ISA claims between and against two developed countries the United States or Canada as well as claims against and by a developing state Mexico A few years later the OECD s attempt to finalize the Multilateral Agreement on Investment was stymied by concerted civil society protest and opposition to ISA and in recent years each new proposed agreement has sparked fresh rounds of protest What engenders the controversy about ISA While ISA s advantage is that it prevents escalation of international conflict by relieving states from feeling obliged to espouse claims of injured investors against foreign governments it is criticized for creating regulatory chill whereby states are reluctant to make necessary public policy reforms for fear that changes to the investment environment will lead to expensive investor claims Are fears of litigation and expensive payouts well founded Can key modifications to the ISA system such as those added to the Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement satisfy critics and redeem this system of private justice Is ISA really necessary between developed democracies where an independent and professional judiciary can generally be trusted to decide without fear or favour In Second Thoughts Investor State Arbitration between Developed Democracies 16 international investment legal experts have undertaken in depth analyses of ISA s economic political and social impacts when included in agreements between developed democracies This timely volume appears at a critical moment seeking answers to the crucial questions that will determine the next generation of international investment agreements Sustainability, Civil Society and International Governance John J. Kirton, 2017-11-28 How can civil society and global governors come together in new ways to improve links among trade environmental and social values In this important and wide ranging volume an unparalleled array of contributors examines the many new processes of civil society engagement that have been introduced at the local regional and global levels Assessing what more can be done to strengthen the productive partnerships between civil society and global governance the book draws on the extensive inventory of existing practices and community based alternatives to demonstrate how particular mechanisms for civil society participation in global governance have enhanced or impeded the specific economic environmental and political outcomes that many seek to achieve

Country Frameworks for Development Displacement and Resettlement Susanna Price, Jane Singer, 2019-03-28 The problem of escalating population displacement demands global attention and country coordination This book investigates the particular issue of development induced displacement whereby land is seized or restricted by the state for the purposes of development projects Those displaced by these schemes often risk losses to their homes livelihoods food security and socio cultural support for which they are rarely fully compensated Bringing together 22 specialist researchers and practitioners from across the globe this book provides a much needed independent analysis of country frameworks for development induced displacement spanning Asia Africa Central and South America As global competition for land increases public and private sector lenders are lightening their social safeguards shifting the oversight for protecting the displaced to national law and regulations This raises a central question Do countries have effective ways of addressing the risks and lost opportunities for their people who are displaced While many countries remain impervious to the problem the book also shines a light on the few who are pioneering new legislation and strategies intended to address questions such as should the social costs to those displaced help determine whether a project meets the public interest and merits financing Does the modern state need powers of eminent domain How can country laws systems institutions and negotiations be reformed to protect citizens better against disempowering public and private sector development displacement This book will interest those working on forced and voluntary migration property and expropriation law human rights environmental and social impact assessment internal and refugee displacement from conflicts environment change disasters and development practical quality of the information it provides make this book a valuable time saving tool for any practitioner faced with a property related matter Lawyers representing parties with interests in Lithuania will welcome this very useful guide and academics and researchers will appreciate its value in the study of comparative property law Conquest, Constitutionalism and Democratic Contestations Joel M. Modiri, 2020-05-21 Two decades since the enactment of South Africa's present constitution the durability and endurance of past inequalities and injustices illustrate that the new South Africa lauded as a miracle nation with the best constitution in the world can no longer be regarded as an unqualified success The legal and constitutional foundations of post 1994 South Africa are in a process of renegotiation that invites new and alternative perspectives and approaches This comprehensive volume explores this process of renegotiation by engaging political and intellectual contestations circulating in South African academic and public discourse relating to continuities and discontinuities between the colonial apartheid past and the post 1994 constitutional present The authors analyse the moral intellectual and political unravelling of post 1994 South African constitutionalism as legal text and political culture and enquire whether it has been able to respond adequately to the fundamental contradictions generated by colonisation and apartheid They also consider how centring the historical problem of European domination and conquest in Africa and South Africa in particular might provide an alternative frame or lens to theorise and understand contemporary South African realities This book marks out a complex field of contestation involving competing histories locations visions and perspectives that raises multifaceted questions regarding law history and politics It is the outcome of a South African Journal of Human Rights colloquium and was originally published as a special issue of the journal Host Government Agreements and the Law in the Energy Sector Hakan Sahin, 2018-12-12 The energy industry is a key source of growth stimulation for developing states Understandably developing states are eager to enter into petroleum investment contracts with international investors with the expectation that this will benefit their countries The domestic law of some developing states provides a welcoming investment environment in the form of guarantees and stability while other states provide these opportunities by agreeing to investment contracts or treaties drafted by international organisations established to facilitate such agreements This book identifies the political risks particularly of indirect expropriation that arise from the unilateral actions of host governments during the lifespan of energy investment projects Focusing on stabilisation clauses as a political risk management tool this research based study draws on comparative empirical evidence from Turkey and Azerbaijan to determine what influences host states to consent to the insertion of stabilisation clauses in long term host government agreements Proposing a framework for the role to be played by both internal forces and external forces it examines political regimes and state guarantees to foreign investors in Azerbaijan and Turkey from a comparative perspective assessing how effective internal factors in Azerbaijan and Turkey are in facilitating contractual stability in their energy investment projects Providing a comprehensive analysis of stabilisation clauses and the internal and external factors that compel host states to commit to them this book will appeal to practitioners students and scholars in international investment law and energy law The Lawyer and Banker and Central Law Journal Charles Ellewytin George,1911

The Laws and Legal System of a Free-Market Cuba Matias F. Travieso-Diaz,1996-11-25 The re entry of foreign based businesses into Cuba will require a complete overhaul of Cuba s laws and legal institutions It will also require enactment of major new legislation there designed to enable and facilitate modern business transactions Travieso Diaz identifies these necessary legal political and economic changes integrating legal and economic concepts in a way that businesspeople can understand and use in determining when it will be safe for them to reestablish business ties with Cuba An important readable resource for corporate management and their academic colleagues specializing in international business trade and investment Using a practical results oriented approach Travieso Diaz organizes his book into three parts In Part One he discusses the specific political and economic changes that must occur and how U S policy must be modified to permit resumption of commerce between the two countries Part Two covers the main legal concerns of a foreign business entity seeking to invest in Cuba such as the resolution of property confiscation claims by U S and Cuban nationals the enactment of a suitable foreign investment law and the development of a program for the privatization of state owned enterprises Part Three surveys other legal issues important to foreign investors and to others who prefer trade with Cuba rather than investment in it Travieso Diaz also provides checklists of changes that must occur in each area he covers trade investment privatization to provide business decisionmakers with a way of determining when it makes sense to enter the Cuban market He also identifies the laws that the Cuban government must enact and the most favorable form they should take to encourage full participation from other nations

Urbanization and Growth Michael Spence,Patricia Clarke Annez,Robert M. Buckley,2008-11-26 Why is productivity higher in cities Does urbanization cause growth or does growth cause urbanization Do countries achieve rapid growth or high incomes without urbanization How can policy makers reap the benefits of urbanization without paying too high a cost Does supporting urbanization imply neglecting rural areas Why do so few governments welcome urbanization What should governments do to improve housing conditions in cities as they urbanize Are innovations in housing finance a blessing or a curse for developing countries How will governments finance the trillions of dollars of infrastructure spending needed for cities in developing countries First in a series of thematic volumes this book was prepared for the Commission on Growth and Development to evaluate the state of knowledge of the relationship between urbanization and economic growth It does not pretend to provide all the answers but it does identify insights and policy levers to help countries make urbanization work as part of a national growth strategy It examines a variety of topics the relevance and policy implications of recent advances in urban economics for developing countries the role of economic geography in global economic trends and trade patterns the impacts of urbanization on spatial inequality within countries and alternative approaches to financing the substantial infrastructure investments required in developing country cities Written by prominent academics in their fields Urbanization and Growth seeks to create a better understanding of the role of urbanization in growth and to inform policy makers tackling the formidable challenges it poses OECD Investment Policy Reviews: Morocco 2024 (Abridged version) OECD,2024-11-04

This second OECD Investment Policy Review of Morocco assesses Morocco s domestic and foreign investment climate as well as the challenges and opportunities facing the Government of Morocco in its reform efforts The review draws on the OECD Policy Framework for Investment the OECD FDI Qualities Policy Toolkit the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and other instruments under the responsibility of the OECD Investment Committee It explores the trends and impacts of foreign direct investment on Morocco s economy and society It analyses the legal and institutional framework for investment as well as measures to promote responsible business conduct The review also focuses on how investment can support two priority levers of development in Morocco regional development and digitalisation

Chile's Government Embarks on Far-reaching Agrarian Reform Waldo S. Rowan,1968 Cooperatives Confront Capitalism Peter Ranis,2016-08-15

Cooperatives the world over are successfully developing alternative models of decision making employment and operation without the existence of managers executives and hierarchies Through case studies spanning the US Latin America and Europe including valuable new work on the previously neglected cooperative movement in Cuba Peter Ranis explores how cooperatives have evolved in response to the economic crisis Going further yet Ranis makes the novel argument that the constitutionally enshrined principle of eminent domain can in fact be harnessed to create and defend worker cooperatives Combining the work of key radical theorists including Marx Gramsci and Luxemburg with that of contemporary political economists such as Block Piketty and Stiglitz Cooperatives Confront Capitalism provides what is perhaps the most far reaching analysis yet of the ideas achievements and wider historical context of the cooperative movement U.S. AID Operations in Latin America Under the Alliance for Progress United States. Congress. House. Committee on Government Operations. Foreign Operations and Government Information Subcommittee,1969

Redressing Historical Injustice David Gordon,Wanjiru Njoya,2023-03-28 This book offers an alternative to perspectives of distributive justice which fail to resolve economic inequality and exacerbate social problems by ignoring the real causes of inequality The main impact of the book is to highlight the importance of self ownership and private property showing how market participation advances liberty and prosperity The idea that we should pay reparations to disadvantaged racial groups as compensation for historical injustice is deeply contested The debates often focus on the practical implications of paying reparations but overlook more fundamental questions about the meaning of justice What is justice What are the implications of wealth redistribution for individual liberty and the rule of law This book answers these questions through an analysis of classical liberal perspectives in law philosophy and economics The book questions whether economic inequality stems from historical injustice and explores the wider implications of attempting to create equal outcomes through legislative mandates The book argues that free markets resting on libertarian rights are the best way to help disadvantaged members of society and to create the conditions more likely to advance economic equality The book will be of interest to researchers and students of economics law politics and philosophy
