Leibniz's New Essays John Dewey, 2015-11-26 He who knows me only by my writings does not know me said Leibniz These words true indeed of every writer but true of Leibniz in a way which gives a peculiar interest and charm to his life must be our excuse for prefacing what is to be said of his New Essays concerning the Human Understanding with a brief biographical sketch Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz was born in Leipzig June 21 1646 His father who died when Leibniz was only six years old was a professor in the university and a notary of considerable practice From him the future philosopher seems to have derived his extraordinary industry and love of detail Such accounts as we have of him show no traces of the wonderful intellectual genius of his son but only a diligent plodding faithful and religious man a thoroughly conscientious husband jurist and professor Nor in the lines of physical heredity can we account for the unique career of Leibniz by his mother s endowments The fact however that she was patient in all trial living in peace with her neighbors anxious for unity and concord with all people even with those not well disposed to her throws great light upon the fundamental trait of Leibniz s ethical nature As in so many cases it is the inherited moral characteristics which form the basis of the intellectual nature The love of unity which was a moral trait in Leibniz s mother became in him the hunger for a harmonious and unified mental world the father s devotion to detail showed itself as the desire for knowledge as minute and comprehensive as it was inter related
