New Horizons In Tourism Strange Experiences And Stranger Practices:

Critical Debates in Tourism Tej Vir Singh, 2012-08-14 In this volume tourism experts collectively discuss and debate some intriguing questions that the tourism industry poses such as the relevance of mass tourism the dilemma of authenticity whether small tourism is beautiful whether volunteer tourism is benign whether tourism contributes to climate change as well as many others The book brings together the expertise of 35 renowned international scholars of tourism to examine these perplexing issues Multidisciplinary in its content it touches upon anthropology sociology geography climatology biosciences and planning and development aspects of tourism The book provides a dialogue for an academic discussion which challenges research conservatism and stereotypes in tourism studies It will encourage scholars to test the consistency of critical notions whose heuristic value is often taken for granted The book will benefit graduates research scholars and those involved in organizing the industry sustainably

Asian Tourism Janet Cochrane, 2008 Tourism in Asia is growing faster than anywhere else in the world Despite the significance of the tourism industry in this area it is under researched This book addresses this imbalance by providing an edited collection of chapters which explore the domestic and intraregional tourism in Asia

Critical Theories in Dark Tourism Nitasha Sharma, Annaclaudia Martini, Dallen J. Timothy, 2024-12-02 This book facilitates a critical investigation of gaps in theorizing and framing dark tourism by navigating through some onto epistemological issues theoretical entanglements future possibilities and the application of critical theoretical perspectives related to affect and emotions human animal studies postcolonialism feminism trauma studies posthumanism power and identity In doing so it advances the need to connect critical theory pragmatism and contemporary issues of social and global relevance Given the growing body of critical research within tourism studies dark tourism has somewhat lagged behind For example critical tourism researchers have been examining postcolonialism for two decades but dark tourism research has only sporadically engaged with this topic Similarly the issue of gender has been curiously neglected within dark tourism In addition dark tourism research has tended to shy away from the big challenges facing contemporary societies Through its engagement with a range of critical theories this volume not only addresses gaps in the existing dark tourism literature but also moves the debate forward in exciting new directions This volume is well placed to demonstrate to other disciplines and fields that dark tourism research can be critical theoretically grounded and transformative

Cultural Heritage and Tourism Dallen J. Timothy, 2011-08-03 One of the most salient forms of modern day tourism is based on the heritage of humankind The majority of all global travel entails some element of the cultural past as hundreds of millions of people visit cultural attractions heritage festivals and historic places each year The book delves into this vast form of tourism by providing a comprehensive examination of its issues current debates concepts and practices It looks at the social physical and economic impacts which cause destinations site managers and interpreters to consider not only how to plan and manage resources but also how to portray the past in ways that are acceptable accurate accessible and politically relevant In the process however the depth of heritage politics the authenticity and inauthenticity of place and experience and the urgent need to protect living and built cultures are exposed The book explores these and many other current issues surrounding the management of cultural resources for tourism In order to help students relate concepts to real world situations it combines theory and practice is student learning oriented is written accessibly for all readers and is empirically rich

The Footprint of Polar Tourism Ricardo Mariano Roura,2011 This thesis aims to describe and interpret the effects of tourism on historic sites in Antarctica and Svalbard also known as Spitsbergen and to assess the implications for management Explorers whalers seal hunters scientists and others have left many material remains in the Polar Regions that are significant because they tell the history of the exploration and exploitation of these regions Contemporary polar tourism represents a new phase in this exploration and exploitation of the Polar Regions The potential for the transformation of historic sites has increased following the substantial expansion of polar tourism in recent decades Key cultural heritage sites are regularly included in standard tourist itineraries and are also the subject of specialized tourism In this context the central research question of this thesis is What are the effects of tourism on polar historic sites and what are the implications of this for the management of tourism and these historic sites

Liminality in Tourism Robert S. Bristow,Ian Jenkins,2021-09-05 Liminality is not typically associated with tourism even though it can be viewed as an intrinsic element of the social cultural experiences of tourism Liminality in Tourism Spatial and Temporal Considerations aims to build upon the tradition of liminality as expounded in social and anthropological disciplines elaborating on the theoretical principles and concepts found within certain aspects of the tourist journey and tourist product The emergence of post modern society has impelled a change in the tourist gaze towards a more experiential and adventuresome globalised experience An important aspect of the tourist phenomenon of liminality is where a transformative experience is triggered by entering a liminoid tourist space leaving the tourist permanently psychologically transformed before returning to normalised society The narrative provides a new perspective on the tourist experience with a provocative examination into the multidimensional aspects of tourism by exploring tourism within the spatial and temporal aspects of liminal landscapes Covid 19 has further changed the rubric of tourism Until the current pandemic tourism has basically been a fun experience In a post pandemic world however the tourist is now facing an unknown future which will almost certainly affect tourism liminality This book presents the reader with a wealth of examples and case studies closely illustrating the association between tourism and liminal experiences The geographical perspectives explore the more subconscious outcomes of destination and tourist product consumption The book should be a useful reader to tourism geography where the theory of liminality can be synthesized into tourist experiences The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Tourism Geographies

Issues in Cultural Tourism Studies Melanie K. Smith,2015-10-14 The third edition of Issues in Cultural

Tourism Studies provides a vital framework for analysing the complexity of cultural tourism and its increasing globalization in existing as well as emergent destinations of the world. It focuses in particular on the need for even more creative tourism strategies to differentiate destinations from each other using a blend of localized cultural products and innovative global attractions. The book explores many of the most pertinent issues in heritage arts festivals indigenous ethnic and experiential cultural tourism in urban and rural environments alike. Since the second edition of this book there have been many important developments in this field and this third edition has been completely revised and updated to include New content on demand and motivation for cultural tourism sustainable cultural tourism and ethnic cultural tourism. New and updated case studies from an even wider global perspective. A revised up to date framework for global cultural tourism studies in the light of recent research publications and industry developments. New pedagogical features within the text to aid understanding and critical thinking including questions at the end of case studies and a further reading section. At the interface between the global and the local a sustainable and people centred approach to cultural tourism planning and development is advocated to ensure that benefits are maximized for local areas a sense of place and identity are retained and the tourist experience is enhanced to the full. The text is unique in that it provides a summary and a synthesis of all of the major issues in global cultural tourism which are presented in an accessible way using a diverse range of international case studies. It is essential and valuable reading for all tourism students.

Dark Tourism Anukrati Sharma, Shruti Arora, Parag Shukla, 2024-10-30. Dark Tourism has seen a surge in popularity in the last decade as people seek a richer travel experience choosing to meaningfully engage with humankind's more troubling heritage rather than opting for merely escapist vacations.

Battlefield Tourism Chris Ryan, 2007-08-15. Through a series of case studies that involve past conflict in China the United States The South Pacific and Europe the nature of battlefield sites as tourist locations are explored. As places of past conflict and individual acts of heroism these sites are places of story telling. How are these stories told? And for what purposes are the stories told? The acts and modes of interpretation are many ranging from a discourse conducted through silences to the more complex nuanced story telling told through re enactments of past battles. The book also asks where is the battle field as case studies relate to conflicts that ranged over several hundreds of miles to on the other hand acts of local civil disturbance that subsequently achieved mythic values in a history of national identity. The book is divided into acts these being Acts of Resource Management Acts of Silence Acts of Discovery and Rediscovery Acts of Imagination and Acts of Remembrance and embrace examples as diverse as an re enactment of past battles on a New Zealand rural town cricket pitch to the towering strength of the aircraft carrier USS Yorktown and from the Straits of Taiwan to the centre of Canada.

Codes of Ethics in Tourism David A. Fennell, David Cruise Malloy, 2007-01-01. With ethics fast becoming a mainstay in tourism studies and the tourism industry in general this volume provides a timely and intensive look at the theory and practice of codes of ethics in tourism. While the book includes a broad overview of what has been done to date in tourism studies in the area of code development and implementation it ranges much more widely to incorporate theoretical work from outside the tourism field This interdisciplinary approach serves two essential purposes First it furnishes the study of tourism codes of ethics with a theoretical foundation which up to the present has been lacking Second it affords tourism scholars the opportunity to investigate codes in tourism from a multiplicity of perspectives with direct relevance to the industry at many levels

Journeys of Discovery in Volunteer Tourism Kevin D. Lyons, Stephen Wearing, 2008 The fast growing phenomenon of volunteer tourism encompasses a diverse range of activities from conserving environments to working with host communities to alleviate poverty However understanding the complex relationship between volunteering and tourism requires a wide analytical framework Theoretical and empirical case studies from leading researchers in the field explore the experiences of the volunteer tourist and the power relationships between volunteers and host communities and commercial non commercial and government entities involved in developing and supporting volunteer tourism Providing an insight into how volunteer tourism is growing and developing this volume will be essential to those interested in sustainable tourism and community and social development as well as commercial operators non government organizations and volunteer management organizations

Book Jacket Tourism, Tourists and Society Richard Sharpley, 2018-05-01 Tourism Tourists and Society provides a broad introduction to the inter relationship between tourism and society making complex sociological concepts and themes accessible to readers from a non sociological academic background It provides a thorough exploration of how society influences or shapes the behaviours motivations attitudes and consumption of tourists as well as the tourism impacts on destination societies The fifth edition has been fully revised and updated to reflect recent data concepts and academic debates New content on mobilities paradigm and the emotional dimension of tourist experiences New chapter Tourism and the Digital Revolution looking at the ways in which the Internet and mobile technology transform both tourist behaviour and the tourist experience New end of chapter further reading and discussion topics Accessible yet critical in style this book offers students an invaluable introduction to tourism tourists and society Tourism as a Pathway to Hope and

Happiness Tej Vir Singh, Richard Butler, David A. Fennell, 2022-12-05 Tourism is often viewed as a phenomenon that brings out the worst in human nature Self interest overuse of resources injustice and cultural erosion are but a few examples This book explores the contrasting view that tourism can be a pathway to hope and happiness The chapters address areas including wellbeing positive psychology hopeful tourism mindfulness peace responsible tourism and spirituality The volume examines the role of tourism in preserving natural wonders and architectural masterpieces bringing out the best in tourists and locals and adding economic value if planned developed and managed sustainably It will be a useful resource for students and researchers in tourism psychology and philosophy Tourism Strategies and Local Responses in Southern Africa Petri Hottola, 2009 This book discusses tourism development in Namibia It consists of 12 major chapters Chapter 2 explores the opportunities and challenges of implementing a national tourism policy in Namibia as perceived by tourism entrepreneurs
