New Leaders Leadership Diversity In America:

The New Leaders Ann M. Morrison, 1996-01-18 By the year 2000 white males will represent less than one third of the American workforce In this universally praised work Ann Morrison co author of Breaking The Glass Ceiling becomes the first to offer companies practical strategies for moving tomorrow's new leaders white women and people of color into the executive ranks Using personal interviews with nearly 200 managers in organizations noted for their model diversity programs Morrison presents a very definite step by step action plan that will prove invaluable to leaders looking to guide their businesses into the next century

The New Leaders Ann M. Morrison, 1992-09-01 The Leader's Companion: Insights on Leadership Through the Ages J. Thomas Wren, 2013-07-30 This book serves as a guided introduction to the richly diverse perspectives on leadership throughout the ages and throughout the world Each of the selections introduced by the editor presents enlightening thoughts on a different aspect of leadership Writings by Plato Aristotle Lao tzu and others demonstrate that the challenges of leadership are as old as civilization Machiavelli Tolstoy Ghandi and W E B Du Bois provide a wide range of insights into the eternal practice and problems of leadership Modern masters of leadership such as James MacGregor Burns John Kotter and Warren Bennis join such leading practitioners as Max De Pree and Roger B Smith in discussing contemporary issues in leadership theory and practice

African American Female Leadership in Major Motion Pictures Tracy L.F. Worley, 2024-02-09 This book explores the factors contributing to the under representation of African American female directors in mainstream cinema leadership It also unmask the potential strategies African American female film directors might pursue to reduce this inequity Author Tracy L F Worley draws on research around ethics to conclude that there are specific consequences of the male gaze on women in cinema leadership especially African American female directors of box office cinema Combining extensive analysis of ethics and ethical stance relative to the motion picture industry with perspectives from working African American female directors the text discusses the ethical considerations and historical inequities including the male gaze and uses those findings to define how the inequities can be opportunities The efficacy model for cinematic leadership is presented as a mechanism for viewing obstacles through the lenses of gender ethnicity and culture so they become drivers for African American women to achieve success Ideal for students of directing and filmmaking as well as aspiring professional filmmakers wishing to gain a better understanding of the industry as it stands today

Managing Diversity in Corporate America Jefferson P. Marquis, Nelson Lim, Lynn M. Scott, Margaret C. Harrell, Jennifer Erin Kavanagh, 2008-01-08 Develops a fact based approach to modeling diversity management in U S corporations analyzes the strategies pursued by 14 large U S companies recognized for their diversity or human resource achievements and compares a number of company characteristics Firms recognized for diversity are distinguished by a core set of motives and practices but best practices per se may not enable a company to achieve a high level of diversity

set of dynamics unique to being African American in a traditionally white male dominated world In this landmark book authors Ancella Livers and Keith Caver co facilitators of the Center for Creative Leadership s African American Leadership Program for the past five years explain how the leadership experience for blacks is radically different from the experiences of their white colleagues These differences of which most white managers are unaware can lead to miscues and distortions in communication and ultimately get in the way of effective performance and optimal productivity for organizations In Leading in Black and White the authors not only clearly explain how things go wrong they also provide sensible solutions for both the white manager and the black manager on how to make them right

To Look Like America Katherine C. Naff, 2018-03-05 To Look Like America is designed to contribute a unique perspective to those interested in the challenges presented to public sector organizations particularly in the federal sector by an increasingly diverse workforce Current projections are that the American workforce will become more and more diverse over the next decade forcing employers to respond to real or perceived barriers to the participation and advancement of women and minorities in their organizations This book provides a means for identifying and taking steps to dismantle such barriers It shows how empirical measures can identify the extent to which such barriers exist The measures are applied to a broad cross section of the federal civil service through the use of employment focus group and interview data as well as responses to surveys administered to representative samples of federal employees The analysis examines the consequences that result when barriers are left unaddressed and concludes with an assessment of interventions that can be effective in dismantling barriers and promoting true participation Diversity's Promise for Higher Education Daryl G. Smith, 2015-06-01 Daryl G Smith has devoted her career to studying and fostering diversity in higher education She has witnessed and encouraged the evolution of diversity from an issue addressed sporadically on college campuses to a reality of the modern university experience In Diversity's Promise for Higher Education Smith brings together scholarly and field research relevant to the next generation of diversity work The book argues that achieving excellence in a diverse society requires increasing the institutional capacity for diversity while simultaneously working to understand how diversity is tied to better leadership positive change research in virtually every field student success accountability and more equitable hiring practices To become more relevant to society the nation and the world while remaining true to their core missions colleges and universities must continue to see diversity like technology as central not parallel to their work In Diversity's Promise for Higher Education Smith proposes a set of clear and realistic practices that will help colleges and universities locate diversity as a strategic imperative and pursue diversity efforts that are inclusive of the varied and growing issues apparent on campuses without losing focus on the critical unfinished business of the past In this edition which is aimed at administrators faculty researchers and students of higher education Smith emphasizes a transdisciplinary approach to the topic of diversity drawing on an updated list of sources from a wealth of literatures and fields The tables have been refreshed to include data on faculty diversity over a twenty year period and the book includes new information about gender identity stereotype threat student success the growing role of chief diversity officers the international emergence of diversity issues faculty hiring and implicit bias

Race and Ideology Arthur Kean Spears, 1999 Race and Ideology proposes an understanding of racism as a divide and conquer mechanism Race and Ideology reveals how various strands of racial thinking and behavior are crucial for maintaining the unequal distribution of wealth that is more pronounced in the U S than in any other advanced industrial country Though primarily concerned with the U S this collection contains chapters on other societies in order to highlight commonalities and the global nature of the race color problem This book proposes a new understanding of racism by examining a variety of issues that show how racism and colorism along with other forms of oppression are interconnected and maintained by language symbolism and popular culture It includes such topics as how blackness is the symbolic bottom of the U S social structure how the teaching of language and culture can be a tool for understanding inequality and how the media contribute to the dissemination of stereotypes of people of color Race and Ideology offers provocative ideas that must be confronted if we are to construct an understanding of racism that can be useful for social change

Corporation on a Tightrope John G. Sifonis, Beverly Goldberg, 1996-05-23 Business is no longer business as usual The global market is in constant flux as some nations come together other fall apart trading blocs emerge and formerly closed doors reopen At home leadership roles and organizational structure have seen a sea change with the vertically integrated tightly knit organization seemingly headed for oblivion And the changes keep happening faster and faster For a firm to succeed in this highly complex environment executives need a better understanding of the deep philosophic and extensive physical adaptations needed to reshape and prepare their company for an uncertain future To provide this deeper understanding John G Sifonis a business consultant and Beverly Goldberg a think tank executive who together have decades of hands on experience visited dozens of companies conducted numerous interviews and then traveled to the Santa Fe Institute to discuss their conclusions about practical applications of complexity theory to business The result of their study is Corporation on a Tightrope a brilliant blend of complexity theory and hard earned business sense that will help executives lead their organizations into the highly uncertain future Sifonis and Goldberg show that the flexible organization of the future will be a complex adaptive system that responds to the effects of market driven changes on its three critical components governance technology and leadership It will be an organization capable of self renewal constantly reshaping itself to seize opportunities as they emerge and quickly shrink when the market changes yet again To help executives create this flexible firm the authors provide seven practical tools principles that when carefully put in place create a solid foundation for the future an organization must set unwavering ethical standards establish a social contract maintain a lean organization based on core competencies develop leadership skills at every level be open to learning encourage experimentation and be innovative avoid restructuring when it should be regoverning and ensure connectivity The authors illustrate each of these principles with fascinating examples taken from actual corporations such as the ethical dilemma faced by Levi's whose move overseas brought up the problem of lost American jobs and foreign child labor the innovative arrangement between insurance company Allmerica Financial and DST Systems a developer of automated business solutions and the leadership of executives such as Herb Kelleher of Southwest Airlines who projects enthusiasm and friendliness to the media and has his workforce reflect the same image Readers will find other instructive anecdotes on companies such as Boeing Texas Instruments Shell and Intel Spiced with pithy quotations from prominent executives and business experts such as Peter Drucker Edward Filene Charles Handy and Sam Walton plus top people at Johnson Johnson Unilever and other major corporations this is a sweeping visionary book that will transform the way business leaders take their companies into the future

Rethinking the "L" Word in Higher Education: The Revolution of Research on Leadership Adrianna Kezar, Rozana Carducci, Melissa Contreras-McGavin, 2011-10-19 In these times of change and challenge in higher education pleas for leadership have become frequent However the type of leadership required within this new context of globalization demographic changes technological advancement and questioning of social authority may call for different skills requiring a re education among campus stakeholders if they want to be successful leaders In the past twenty years there has been a revolution in the way that leadership is conceptualized across most fields and disciplines Leadership has moved away from being leader centered individualistic hierarchical focused on universal characteristics and emphasizing power over followers Instead a new vision has emerged leadership that is process centered collective context bound non hierarchical and focused on mutual power and influence processes This volume summarizes research and literature about new conceptualizations of leadership to inform practice This is volume 31 number 6 of the ASHE Higher Education Report a bi monthly journal published by Jossey Bass See our entire list of ASHE Higher Education Report titles for a wide variety of critical issues facing Higher Education today

Careers In and Out of Organizations Douglas T. Hall, 2002 Careers In and Out of Organizations provides an overview of the changing context of careers and describes the role of interpersonal relationships as influences on development of a person s identity and learning The author examines the nature of the new career contract and the different approaches that have been taken to studying career decision making He explores how career choices are made the developmental stages people pass through during the course of their working lives in organizations and the factors related to career effectiveness including integrating career and personal life The latter third of the book turns from research to the practical issues involved in applying theory including a look at how an understanding of career dynamics can be employed to make careers work better for individuals and for the work communities where they are employed

Beyond Bias and Barriers Institute of Medicine, National Academy of Engineering, National Academy of Sciences, Committee on Science, Engineering, and Public Policy, Committee on Maximizing the Potential of Women in Academic Science and Engineering, 2007-06-04 The United States economy relies on the productivity entrepreneurship and creativity of its people To maintain its scientific and engineering leadership amid increasing economic and educational globalization the United States must aggressively pursue the innovative capacity of all its people women and men However women face barriers to success in every field of science and engineering obstacles that deprive the country of an important source of talent Without a transformation of academic institutions to tackle such barriers the future vitality of the U S research base and economy are in jeopardy Beyond Bias and Barriers explains that eliminating gender bias in academia requires immediate overarching reform including decisive action by university administrators professional societies federal funding agencies and foundations government agencies and Congress If implemented and coordinated across public private and government sectors the recommended actions will help to improve workplace environments for all employees while strengthening the foundations of America s competitiveness

Designing for Diversity Kathryn H. Anthony, 2021-08-18 A powerful statement about the repercussions of discrimination and the benefits of diversity in architecture Providing hard data for trends that many perceive only vaguely and some deny altogether Designing for Diversity reveals a profession rife with gender and racial discrimination and examines the aspects of architectural practice that hinder or support the full participation of women and persons of color Drawing on interviews and surveys of hundreds of architects Kathryn H Anthony outlines some of the forms of discrimination that recur most frequently in architecture being offered added responsibility without a commensurate rise in position salary or credit not being allowed to engage in client contact field experience or construction supervision and being confined to certain kinds of positions typically interior design for women government work for African Americans and computer aided design for Asian American architects Anthony discusses the profession s attitude toward flexible schedules part time contracts and the demands of family and identifies strategies that have helped underrepresented individuals advance in the profession especially establishing a strong relationship with a mentor She also observes a strong tendency for underrepresented architects to leave mainstream practice either establishing their own firms going into government or corporate work or abandoning the field altogether Given the traditional mismatch between diverse consumers and predominantly white male producers of the built environment plus the shifting population balance toward communities of color Anthony contends that the architectural profession staves off true diversity at its own peril Designing for Diversity argues convincingly that improving the climate for nontraditional architects will do much to strengthen architecture as a profession Practicing architects managers of firms and educators will learn how to create conditions more welcoming to a diversity of users as well as designers of the built environment
