Shehata,2012-08-06 For over three decades Islamist politics or political Islam has been one of the most dynamic and contentious political forces in the Middle East Although there is broad consensus on the importance of political Islam there is far less agreement on its character the reasons for Islamist s success the role of Islamist movements in domestic and international affairs or what these movements portend for the future This volume addresses a number of central questions in the study of Islamist politics in the Middle East through detailed case studies of some of the region s most important Islamist movements Chapters by leading scholars in the field examine the Egyptian Muslim Brotherhood Hamas Hizbullah Morocco s Justice and Benevolence the Jordanian Muslim Brotherhood the Sunni Insurgency in Iraq and Islamist politics in Turkey and Iran The topics addressed within this volume include social networks and social welfare provision Islamist groups as opposition actors Islamist electoral participation the intersection of Islam and national liberation struggles the role of religion in Islamist politics and Islam and state politics in Iran among other topics All of the contributing authors are specialists with deep knowledge of the subject matter who are committed to empirically based research These scholars take Islamists seriously as modern sophisticated and strategic political players Together their work captures much of the diversity of Islamist politics in the region and will contribute to the scholarship on a topic that continues to be important for the Middle East and the world

Islam and Power Alexander S. Cudsi,E. Hillal Dessouki,2013-07-24 The 1970s witnessed a mushrooming of Islamic movements and ideas which was described variously as Islamic revival Islamic resurgence and Islam on the march Whether as part of the majority or minority whether under capitalist or socialist regimes Muslims have been moved by this reawakening But what really are the causes and nature of this Islamic resurgence Is it a purely religious revival Or is it a social and political movement that must be understood in the context of the Muslim s conditions and milieu Will it really lead to the establishment of an Islamic socio political order or will it end up as an instrument of struggle between Muslim ruling elites and their opposition And what are the foreign policy implications of these developments Do they necessarily lead to a more militant and hostile attitude towards the West These questions and more are tackled by the contributors to Islam and Power First published in 1981

The Princeton Encyclopedia of Islamic Political Thought Gerhard Bowering,Patricia Crone,Mahan Mirza,2013 In 2012 the year 1433 of the Muslim calendar the Islamic population throughout the world was estimated at approximately a billion and a half representing about one fifth of humanity In geographical terms Islam occupies the center of the world stretching like a big belt across the globe from east to west P vii

Islam and Egalitarianism in Colonial Bengal Ananya Dasgupta,2023-03-24 This book is a historical exploration of the social and cultural processes that led to the rise of the ideology of labor as a touchstone of Bengali Muslim politics in late colonial India The book argues that the tremendous popularity of the Pakistan movement in Bengal is to be understood not just in terms of communalization of class politics or even separatist demands of a religious minority living out anxieties of Hindu political majoritarianism but in terms of a distinctively modern idea of Muslim self and culture which gave primacy to production labor as the site where religious moral ethical as well as economic value would be anchored In telling the story of the formation of a modern Muslim identity the book presents the conceptual congruence between Islam and egalitarianism as a distinctively early twentieth century phenomenon and the approach can be viewed as key to explaining the mass appeal of the desire for Pakistan A novel contribution to the study of Bengal and Pakistan s origins the book will be of interest to researchers studying South Asian history the history of colonialism and end of empire South Asian studies including labor studies Islamic Studies and Muslim social and cultural history Islam and Politics (3rd edition) Peter

Asia Southeast Asia and Europe and North America as well as a detailed account of the global jihadist movement Engaging the debate on post Islamism and the aftermath of Arab Uprisings the book also provides a roadmap of possible futures for Islam and politics Subjects covered include history of Islam and politics and an overview of key concepts how political Islam interacts with the nation state and the global economy a wide variety of global case studies profiles of key movements and individuals Fully illustrated throughout featuring maps a glossary and suggestions for further reading this is the ideal introduction to the crucial role of political Islam in the contemporary world Islam in History Bernard Lewis,2011-04-15 From secular minded autocrats like Saddam Hussein to religious fundamentalists like Osama bin Laden powerful voices in the Islamic world have been united by a fierce hatred of the West If we want to know why they think the way they do we have to understand the history of Islam and its continuous interactions with the West This masterly collection of essays by a leading expert on Islam and the Middle East ranges over the whole sweep of Islamic history and Western attempts to comprehend it

Modernity in Islamic Tradition Florian Zemmin,2018-07-23 What does it mean to be modern This study regards the concept of society as foundational to modern self understanding Identifying Arabic conceptualizations of society in the journal al Manar the mouthpiece of Islamic reformism the author shows how modernity was articulated from within an Islamic discursive tradition The fact that the classical term umma was a principal term used to conceptualize modern society suggests the convergence of discursive traditions in modernity rather than a mere diffusion of European concepts

Islam, Democracy and Religious Modernism in Iran, 1953-2000 Forough Jahanbakhsh,2001-01-01 This book discusses the general problematic of Islam and democracy and the ideas of certain Iranian religious modernists on the issue Examining the development of religious intellectualism in post revolutionary Iran it presents Abdolkarim Soroush s novel approach to this pertinent topic

Islam and the Politics of Meaning in Palestinian Nationalism (RLE Politics of Islam) Nels Johnson,2013-06-03 The intention of this book is to explore the relationship between an ideological idiom and the changing social movement in which it operates The basic question is that of what roles an Islamic symbol complex played in different phases of the Palestinian nationalist movement and what were the socio economic factors which help to explain and are themselves partially explained by the appearance of these roles Islam was ideologically appropriate at different stages in the development of the movement and this study examines in what way and why First published in 1982

History of Islamic Philosophy Seyyed Hossein Nasr,Oliver Leaman,2013-03-07 Islamic philosophy has often been treated as being largely of historical interest belonging to the history of ideas rather than to philosophical study This volume successfully overturns that view Emphasizing the living nature and rich diversity of the subject it examines the main thinkers and schools of thought discusses the key concepts of Islamic philosophy and covers a vast geographical area This indispensable reference tool includes a comprehensive bibliography and an extensive index

Islam, Constitutional Law and Human Rights Tommaso Virgili,2021-09-15 This book focuses on Islamic constitutionalism and in particular on the relation between religion and the protection of individual liberties potentially clashing with sharica and the Islamic ethos The analysis goes from general to particular starting with a theoretical overview on constitutionalism human rights and Islam moving to the assessment of the post Arab Spring Constitutions of Egypt and Tunisia and concluding with a specific focus on the rights of sexual minorities and freethinkers Part I provides a theoretical account of the conception of constitutionalism and human rights in Islam compared and contrasted with Western constitutionalism A set of issues where the tension between sharica and human rights is accentuated is analysed against the backdrop of the main Islamic charters of rights Part II conducts a similar assessment based on the Constitutions of Tunisia and Egypt the two main epicentres of the Arab Spring Part III moves to two specific rights in the same countries from the twofold perspective of the Constitutions and international law the freedom from interference in one's intimate life with particular regard to homosexuality and the freedom of holding and expressing nonconventional beliefs deemed unacceptable from the point of view of traditional Islam These issues have been chosen as representative of the most controversial still considered taboo in both legal and social terms hence at the fringes of the debate on individual freedoms Focusing on two overlooked and underexplored issues the work thus pushes the boundaries of the human rights discourse in Muslim contexts

Creating a New Medina Venkat Dhulipala, 2015-02-09 This book examines how the idea of Pakistan was articulated and debated in the public sphere and how popular enthusiasm was generated for its successful achievement especially in the crucial province of UP now Uttar Pradesh in the last decade of British colonial rule in India It argues that Pakistan was not a simply a vague idea that serendipitously emerged as a nation state but was popularly imagined as a sovereign Islamic State a new Medina as some called it In this regard it was envisaged as the harbinger of Islam's renewal and rise in the twentieth century the new leader and protector of the global community of Muslims and a worthy successor to the defunct Turkish Caliphate The book also specifically foregrounds the critical role played by Deobandi ulama in articulating this imagined national community with an awareness of Pakistan's global historical significance

Islamic Britain Philip Lewis, 2002-03-29 From the 1980s Britain's large Muslim community a long established but little noticed group suddenly became visible as controversies involving the education and dress of Muslim schoolgirls the Rushdie affair and the Gulf War excited huge media interest Caricatures and misconceptions began to spread and with political Islam on the march in many Middle Eastern countries fears of British Muslims becoming a bridgehead in the West for the establishment of an Islamic theocracy began to loom in the popular imagination How do British Muslims really think about themselves about their religion and their politics What dilemmas do they face as they give up the myth of return that sustained first generation immigrants and struggle to define a British Islam In this important book the first major study of British Muslims Philip Lewis deals with the reality behind distorted media images through a rich first hand account of the Muslim community in Bradford the city which became the epicentre of British Muslim anger and resistance to The Satanic Verses

Mahathir's Islam Sven Schottmann, 2018-09-30 Mahathir Mohamad's legacy as Malaysia's longest serving prime minister 1981-2003 is deeply controversial. His engagement with Islam, the religion of just over half Malaysia's population, has often been dismissed as partisan maneuvering. Yet his willingness to countenance a more prominent place for Islam in government and society is what distinguished him from other modernist politicians, and his instinct to set Malaysian politics against the backdrop of the wider Muslim world was politically astute. Author Sven Schottnann argues that Mahathir's transformative effect on Malaysia can only be fully appreciated if we also take him seriously as one of the postcolonial Muslim world's most significant political thought leaders. Schottnann sees Mahathir's representations of Islam as a relatively coherent discourse that can legitimately be described as Mahathir's Islam. This discourse contains Mahathir's assessment of the economic, political, and sociocultural problems facing the contemporary Muslim world and the range of solutions and corrective measures that he proposed Muslims should adopt. His ideas are fraught with flaws and contradictions. On the one hand, he emphasized the individualistic, egalitarian, pluralistic, democratic, and dynamic qualities of Islam. On the other, his government enacted legislation and acquiesced in the activities of religious bodies that curtailed religious freedoms of both Muslims and non-Muslims. His ideas contributed to Malaysia's worsening state of interethnic relations, yet his insistence that every Muslim had the right to speak for Islam may have paradoxically prepared the ground for a future democratization of Malaysian politics. Mahathir's Islam is based on rigorous analysis of Mahathir's speeches, interviews, and writings, which the author is able to link to parallel processes elsewhere in the Muslim world: Indonesia, the Middle East, Pakistan, Turkey, and diaspora communities in the West. Mahathir's Islamic discourse, Schottnann suggests, must be read against the wider late twentieth-century resurgence of religion in general and the post-1970s Islamic revival in particular. Balanced in approach and engagingly written, this book will be of interest to scholars and students of political science, religious studies, and others interested in Malaysia, Southeast Asia, or Mahathir himself.

Islam in International Relations Nassef Manabilang Adiong, Raffaele Mauriello, Deina Abdelkader, 2018-11-02. Islam in International Relations: Politics and Paradigms analyses the interaction between Islam and IR. It shows how Islam is a conceptualization of ideas that affect people's thinking and behaviour in their capacity to relate with IR as both discipline and practice. This approach challenges Western-based and defined epistemological and ontological foundations of the discipline and by doing so contributes to worlding IR as a field of study and practice by presenting and discussing a broad range of standpoints from within Islamic civilization. The volume opens with the presentation and discussion of the international thought of a major Muslim leader, followed by a chapter that addresses the ethical practice of IR from traditional pacifism to modern Arab political philosophy. It then switches to applying constructivism as a tool to understand Islam in world affairs and proceeds to address the issue of how the ethnocentric approach of Western academia has hindered our understanding of world affairs. The volume moves on to address the ISIS phenomenon, a current urgent issue in world affairs, and closes with a look at Islamic geopolitics. This comprehensive collection will be of great interest to students, scholars, and policy makers with a focus on the Muslim world.
