

A COUPLE OF SHIFTLESS, CHEATIN', GOOD FOR NUTHIN' WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Over 50% of those on welfare are children and another 13% are mothers. And they are hungry. So who's cheating whom?

We've all heard them—the welfare myths. About those lazy black folks cashing in their checks and driving off in Cadillacs.

The truth is more dramatic.

For example, the remaining 37% of welfare recipients are chiefly the old, disabled and blind. Less than 1% are able-bodied men. And about 55% are white.

Another thing, with sub-poverty allowances, welfare parents often must choose between feeding their kids and clothing them. Which leaves precious little for housing or medical care. (¼ of all children, ages 5-14, have never seen a dentist. At least half suffer from some form of malnutrition.)

You see, it's the children who concern us the most. It's they who suffer the most, by being locked into a life of guaranteed annual poverty.

It's why we support the Children's March For Survival and its objectives:

• The defeat of HR 1 (Nixon's Family Assistance Plan) a repressive bill. It could cut benefits to most welfare recipients, undermine their rights and force parents to work at below minimum wage.

• Expanded food programs to end hunger and malnutrition. (Try feeding your child on 18½¢ a meal.) Also free school lunches for the poor. Only half of those eligible receive them.

• Community controlled child care centers. 10 million children are waiting. Many mothers could work and get off welfare, if such facilities were available. Yet, Nixon vetoed the Child Development Bill, because it would destroy the American family. His logic escapes us.

• Tax reform to weed out "rich welfare recipients" whose tax breaks cheat the U.S. out of 20 times what it spends on welfare. (Some millionaires don't pay any income tax.)

• Improved education and health care for children.

• An end to the Indochina war for the sake of Asian children as well as our own.

Please, won't you help us by:

1) Writing your Senators to Vote No on HR 1.

2) Joining us in Washington on the 25th. (There'll be free medical exams and tours for kids, a rally, a Children's Festival and Art Fair, and issue workshops.)

3) Contributing what you can toward the costs of the March.

Consider it an investment in the future of millions of children. If they don't have a decent future, neither have we.

Politics Of Childrens Survival:

The Politics of Children's Survival George Kent, 1991 The central concern of this pioneering study is the high rate of child mortality worldwide and the prospects for its reduction Taking as his major focus socioeconomic factors and their effect on children s survival George Kent asks not only what technical interventions might be undertaken within meager health budgets but also why are those budgets so inadequate He examines the social and political roots of child mortality around the world and finds that the problem arises from widespread powerlessness in the populations of less developed countries Thus he argues remedies should center on strategies of empowerment designed in such a way that their benefits persist long after the intervention has ended Following an introductory chapter which describes overall patterns of children s mortality the author examines the individual and household factors which contribute to the problem and the programmatic responses associated with these factors Subsequent chapters explore child survival in relation to larger societal issues discussing in turn food poverty war repression and population as they affect child mortality Kent then turns his attention to strategies for child survival that are sensitive to these social factors Separate chapters address alternative designs of social systems the idea of viewing children as a form of human capital the problem of motivating the politically powerful to support child survival work rethinking the meaning of national development and the challenge of planning for children s survival in concrete site specific situations Finally Kent discusses the potential of national and international law and institutions for improving children s prospects An ideal supplemental text for courses in economic development and political economy this book is also essential reading for policymakers and relief organization managers concerned with the widespread problem of child mortality

The Politics of Child Support in America Jocelyn Elise Crowley, 2003-08-25 Political observers have long since struggled with understanding how new ideas are placed on the public agenda In their studies most social scientists have relied on biographical sketches and intensive case studies to explore the intricacies of innovation Researchers have had much more difficulty however in moving from these individual success stories to more generalizable theories of entrepreneurship This book builds such a theory by focusing on the critical issue of child support enforcement in the United States Covering over a 100 year period this book tracks the evolution of multiple sets of political entrepreneurs as they grapple with the child support problem charity workers with local law enforcement in the nineteenth century social workers throughout the 1960s conservatives during the 1970s women s groups and women legislators in the 1980s and fathers rights groups in the 1990s and beyond

Children in the International Political Economy G. Kent, 1995-09-13 The first line of responsibility for children lies with their parents but what if the parents fail to look after their children Who else is involved and what should they do Children in the International Political Economy examines the moral responsibilities of different individuals and agencies towards children and argues that some responsibilities should be codified as concrete legal duties If all else fails children must look to the international community for help Thus international agencies should recognize specific obligations to look after the well being of children around the world The Politics of Child Protection Nigel Parton, 2014-03-24 From Every Child Matters and the Munro Review to changing shifts in thinking from Coalition government the child protection system has seen dramatic political and policy developments over recent years This book brings you a critical analysis of these developments from a leading writer and commentator It begins by exploring the origins of present day arrangements locating English policy and practice in both a wider British and international context It examines tragic cases such as Baby P and Maria Colwell considering their impact on public and professional attitudes and in turn the implications for the child protection system Looking to the future of child protection Nigel Parton considers the current state of the system and argues that we need to address wider social and political issues including poverty class and inequality Original authoritative and up to date The Politics of Child Protection is an important book for all students practitioners and researchers interested in safeguarding and child protection The Politics of International Health William A. Muraskin, 1998-01-01 Tracing the history of the Children s Vaccine Initiative CVI this book examines its successes and failures in promoting the development of both new and improved vaccines for the Third World The CVI has achieved many successes including making vaccination a top international public sector priority Most of its failures have stemmed from the often bitter competition between the fledgling Initiative and the notoriously turf conscious and inefficient World Health Organization WHO over their respective roles in championing vaccines Vaccines are the most inexpensive means of improving the health and lowering the mortality of people in the Third World where infectious diseases kill millions of children every year As a result of the biotechnology revolution it is possible that a whole array of new vaccines can be created for diseases which are not yet preventable What has stood in the way of this major medical breakthrough has been that vaccine product development has been in the hands of commercial companies whose activities are dominated by the need for maximizing profit which the Third World poor cannot generate Handbook of Politics Kevin T. Leicht, J. Craig Jenkins, 2009-11-28 Political sociology is the interdisciplinary study of power and the intersection of personality society and politics The field also examines how the political process is affected by major social trends as well as exploring how social policies are altered by various social forces Political sociologists increasingly use a wide variety of relatively new quantitative and qualitative methodologies and incorporate theories and research from other social science cognate disciplines The contributors focus on the current controversies and disagreements surrounding the use of different methodologies for the study of politics and society and discussions of specific applications found in the widely scattered literature where substantive research in the field is published This approach will solidly place the handbook in a market niche that is not occupied by the current volumes while also covering many of the same theoretical and historical developments that the other volumes cover The purpose of this handbook is to summarize state of the art theory research and methods used in the study of politics and society This area of research encompasses a wide variety of perspectives and methods that span social science disciplines The handbook is designed to reflect that diversity in content method and focus In addition it will cover developments in the developed and underdeveloped worlds Feminism and the Politics of Childhood Rachel Rosen,Katherine Twamley,2018-02-22 Feminism and the Politics of Childhood offers an innovative and critical exploration of perceived commonalities and conflicts between women and children and more broadly between various forms of feminism and the politics of childhood This unique collection of 18 chapters brings into dialogue authors from a range of geographical contexts social science disciplines activist organisations and theoretical perspectives The wide variety of subjects include refugee camps care labour domestic violence and childcare and education Chapter authors focus on local contexts as well as their global interconnections and draw on diverse theoretical traditions such as poststructuralism psychoanalysis posthumanism postcolonialism political economy and the ethics of care Together the contributions offer new ways to conceptualise relations between women and children and to address injustices faced by both groups Praise for Feminism and the Politics of Childhood Friends or Foes This book is genuinely ground breaking Val Gillies University of Westminster Feminism and the Politics of Childhood Friends or Foes asks an impossible question and then casts prismatic light on all corners of its impossibility Cindi Katz CUNY This provocative and stimulating publication comes not a day too soon Gerison Lansdown Child to Child A smart innovative and provocative book Chandra Talpade Mohanty Syracuse University This volume raises and addresses issues so pressing that it is surprising they are not already at the heart of scholarship Ann Phoenix UCL The Domestic Politics of Foreign Aid Erik Lundsgaarde,2013 This book explains the choices that states make concerning the volume of development aid they provide and what types of priorities are supported with this assistance The core argument of the book is that aid choices are a product of domestic politics in donor countries which involve a variety of actors that differ in character across the donor community The Oxford Handbook of Global Health Politics Colin McInnes,Kelley Lee,Jeremy R. Youde,2020 Controlling a major infectious disease outbreak or reducing rising rates of diabetes worldwide is not just about applying medical science Protecting and promoting health is inherently a political endeavor that requires understanding of who gets what where and why The Oxford Handbook of Global Health Politics presents the most comprehensive overview of how and why power lies at the heart of global health determinants and outcomes The chapters are written by internationally recognized experts working at the intersection of politics and global health The wide ranging chapters provide key insights for understanding how advances in global health cannot be achieved without attention to political actors processes and outcomes Population, Gender and Politics Roger Jeffery,Patricia Jeffery,1997-07-13 Roger and Patricia Jeffery are well known for their work on religion and gender in South Asia In their latest book a study of the demographic processes of two castes in rural north India they ask why fertility levels are higher among the Muslim Sheikhs than the Hindu Jats They conclude that explanations can only partially be attributed to gender relationships and religion and it is the economic and political interests of both groups which are the defining factors Their marginal economic position provides little incentive for the Sheikhs to raise small families while the Jats who are locally dominant are encouraged to use birth control and educate their children The authors go on to demonstrate the significance of this analysis for a wider understanding of the problems of population and politics in India generally The book will be invaluable for students of South Asia and for anyone interested in the demography of developing countries International Conference on Political Economy of Water Purnima George, Elvis Thomas, Meghna Vesvikar, 2016-05-11 Access to water is a fundamental right of all human beings given that it significantly affects quality of life and enables people especially the poor to live with dignity A significant number of organisations and governments throughout the world are working on this challenge and developing sustainable intervention models There are several community driven approaches which attempt to bring water within the reach of people and to help establish people's ownership and rights over it The social work profession with its commitment to working with the marginalised and the underprivileged cannot be immune to the challenges posed by the scarcity of water and must inevitably join the various efforts made the world over to tackle this problem head on This book examines specific nuances of water scarcity and develops viable social work intervention strategies based on the experiences of successful intervention models

The Political Life of Children Robert Coles, 1986 Robert Coles one of the most eminent child psychiatrists in the world spent over a decade researching this book and its companion volume The Moral Life of Children Coles visits children all over the world listening with willing ears and he captures their thoughts and feelings with remarkable sympathy As Coles demonstrates in this fascinating work children learn much more than we think they do about political issues While we have always taken it for granted that parents teach their children about language religion and morality Coles shows how mothers and fathers also instill a strong understanding of political life in their offspring which children's lives should be safe from adult concerns tends to situate them categorically outside the political. Thus understood, children become political agents when they reach maturity and eligibility to formal participation. Alternatively, political skills and competences may be seen to develop gradually through political socialization. Both views are challenged in recent scholarship on youthful politics beyond the formal adult-centered political world. This book considers politics as it appears and unfolds in children and young people's everyday lives. The collection problematizes several key concepts in the research field and introduces a relational reading of youthful political agency based on social, spatial, and political theorization. The chapters engage with youthful realities in Sri Lanka, Palestine, Sweden, New Zealand, the US, and the UK, revealing a variety of ways in which children and youth are important political actors in their own right. The book also includes an extensive literary review on the study of children and young people's politics in the past decade. This book was originally published as a special issue of Space and Polity. Women of Color Political Elites in the U.S. Nadia E.

Brown, Christopher J. Clark, Anna Mitchell Mahoney, 2023-03-31. This volume presents a detailed and in-depth examination of women of color political elites in the United States in varying levels of office and non-elected positions. Through innovative data, novel theoretical frameworks, and compelling arguments, the chapters in this book explore how women of color political elites are changing, challenging, or upending the status quo in American politics. Beyond an additive approach of either race or gender, the authors in this volume employ an intersectional lens to explore the complexities of governing, running for office, and adjudicating in a diversifying America. This book will be of great value to upper-level students, researchers, and academics of political science interested in women's and gender studies, political leadership, as well as race and ethnic studies. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Journal of Women Politics and Policy. Women and Politics Worldwide Barbara J. Nelson, Najma Chowdhury, Nājamā Caudhurī, 1994-01-01. This is the first book to analyse the complexities of women's political participation on a cross-national scale and from a feminist perspective. Surveying forty-three countries chosen to represent a variety of political systems, regions, and levels of economic development, questions of women's status, power, means, and methods of reform are addressed on a global scale. Includes chapters on the following countries: Argentina, Australia, Bangladesh, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, former Egypt, France, Germany, Ghana, Great Britain, Greece, Hong Kong, Hungary, India, Israel, Japan, Kenya, Korea, Republic of South Korea, Mexico, Morocco, Nepal, The Netherlands, Nigeria, Norway, Palestine, Papua New Guinea, Peru, The Philippines, Poland, Puerto Rico, South Africa, Spain, Sudan, Switzerland, Turkey, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, former United States, Uruguay. Gender and Crisis in Global Politics Laura Sjoberg, 2018-02-02. The global political arena is again in a time of crisis. Different sources pay attention to different crises: the Global Financial Crisis, the Debt Crisis, the Crisis of ISIL, Daesh in Iraq, and Syria, the Crisis of Israel and Palestine, and the Iran Nuclear Crisis have gotten significant attention in media coverage of global politics. But those are not the only crises that scholars and practitioners discuss. Environmentalists warn of ecological crisis, health scholars warn of disease crises cyber security experts suggest a coming information crisis and migration experts warn of population crises Feminist work on global politics has addressed many of these crises historical and contemporary in crisis language and without it as well as a number of the non crises that looking for women and gender in the international arena draws into focus That work however had generally not explicitly theorized the conceptualization of crisis its gendered dimensions and or gender based crises as such Across this book feminist conversations about crisis in global politics suggests that a single feminist approach to definition of or politics of crisis is impossible to find That same variety of work though makes a strong case that paying attention to crises in the world and to the manufacture of crisis rhetoric alongside events in global politics is not only generally important but an important place for feminist scholarship feminist political activism and direct attention This book was previously published as a special issue of the International Feminist Journal of Politics
