Science Education in Canada Christine D. Tippet, Todd M. Milford, 2019-07-01 This book offers a meso level description of demographics science education and science teacher education Representing all 13 Canadian jurisdictions the book provides local insights that serve as the basis for exploring the Canadian system as a whole and function as a common starting point from which to identify causal relationships that may be associated with Canada's successes The book highlights commonalities consistencies and distinctions across the provinces and territories in a thematic analysis of the 13 jurisdiction specific chapters Although the analysis indicates a network of policy and practice issues warranting further consideration the diverse nature of Canadian science education makes simple identification of causal relationships elusive Canada has a reputation for strong science achievement However there is currently limited literature on science education in Canada at the general level or in specific areas such as Canadian science curriculum or science teacher education This book fills that gap by presenting a thorough description of science education at the provincial territorial level as well as a more holistic description of pressing issues for Canadian science education      Citizenship Education around the World John Petrovic, Aaron Kuntz, 2014-04-24 Though certainly not a new idea citizenship education manifests in unique and often unpredictable ways in our contemporary neoliberal era The question of what it means to be a productive and recognized citizen must now be understood simultaneously along both global and local lines This edited volume offers an international perspective on citizenship education enacted in specific socio political contexts Each chapter includes a pointed conceptualization of citizenship education a philosophical framework that is then applied to specific national cases across Europe Asia Canada and more Chapters emphasize how such frameworks are implemented within local contexts encouraging particular pedagogical curricular practices even as they constrain others Chapters conclude with suggestions for productive change and how educators might usefully engage contemporary contexts through citizenship education      Global Youth Migration and Gendered Modalities Bonifacio, Glenda, 2019-04-17 Youth migration is a global phenomenon and it is gendered This collection presents original studies on gender and youth migration from the 19th century onwards from international and interdisciplinary perspectives An international group of contributors explore the imperial histories of youth migration their identities and sexualities the impact of education policies and practices and the roles contribution and challenges of young migrants in certain industries and services as well as in communities These cross disciplinary themes include cases from Albania Bangladesh Canada Ethiopia France Hungary Italy Philippines Senegal Syria Turkey the United Kingdom and the United States      World Yearbook of Education 2006 Jenny Ozga, Terri Seddon, Thomas S. Popkewitz, 2013-01-11 This volume considers the ways in which educational research is being shaped by policy across the globe Policy effects on research are increasingly influential as policies in and beyond education drive the formation of a knowledge based economy by supporting increased international competitiveness through more effective evidence based interventions in schooling education and training systems What consequences does this increased steering have for research in education How do transnational agencies make their influence felt on educational research How do national systems and traditions of educational research and relations with policy respond to these new pressures What effects does it have on the quality of research and on the freedom of researchers to pursue their own agendas The 2006 volume of the World Yearbook of Education explores these issues focusing on three key themes globalising policy and research in education steering education research in national contexts global local politics of education research The 2006 volume has a truly global reach incorporating transnational policy perspectives from the OECD and the European Commission alongside national cases from across the world in contrasting contexts that include North and South America Canada France Singapore China Russia and New Zealand The range of contributions reflect how pervasive these developments are how much is new in this situation and to what extent evidence based policy pressures on research in education build on past relationships between education and policy This book considers the impact of the steering processes on the work and identities of individual researchers and considers how research can be organised to play a more active role in the politics of the knowledge economy and learning society

Faith, Rights, and Choice James Farney, Clark Banack, 2023-02-27 The Canadian provinces have evolved quite different ways of responding to the policy problems posed by religious schools Seeking to understand this peculiar reality Faith Rights and Choice articulates the ways in which the provincial governance regimes developed for religious schools have changed over time Covering nearly three centuries the book begins with the founding of schooling systems in New France and continues into a variety of present day conflicts that emerged over the question of religion in schools James Farney and Clark Banack employ a method of process tracing drawing on 88 semi structured interviews with key policy insiders They also reference archival material documenting meetings political speeches and legislative debates related to government decisions around issues of religious education Relying on the theoretical foundations of both historical institutionalism and Canadian political development Faith Rights and Choice presents a new analytic framework to help make sense of the policy divergence witnessed across Canada

Thomas, 2017-06-07

Religion is usually thought of as inconsequential to contemporary Canadian politics Religion and Canadian Party Politics takes a hard look at just how much influence faith continues to have in federal provincial and territorial political arenas Drawing on case studies from across the country this book explores three important axes of religiously based contention in Canada Early on there were the denominational distinctions between Catholics and Protestants that shaped party oppositions Since the 1960s a newly politicized divide opened between religious conservatives and political reformers Then from the 1990s on sporadic controversy has centred on the recognition of non Christian religious minority rights Although the extent of partisan engagement with each of these sources of conflict has varied across time and region this book shows that religion still matters in shaping party politics This detailed look at the play of religiously based conflict and accommodation in Canada fills a large gap and pulls us back from overly simplified comparisons with the United States More broadly this book also compares the role of faith in politics in Canada to that of other Western industrialized societies International Summit

International Handbook of Comparative Education Robert Cowen,Andreas M. Kazamias,2009-08-22 A big project like this Handbook means that you incur debts and not only to your authors and your publisher As editors we along with our colleague Elaine Unterhalter who edited the section on postcolonialism would like to thank most warmly those authors who delivered on time and who did not fuss but just got on and did a r rate job We would also like to thank all authors who did deliver which was almost everyone we asked We know that some of our authors worked in very dif cult private circumstances as they were nishing their chapters and we hope the publication of the Volumes will later be for them a happy reminder of dif culties and disasters overcome The only sad theme is that some very close colleagues with whom we were wo ing and for whom we had the greatest respect and liking became very ill and died while the volumes were being prepared We decided to ask for copyright permissions to publish something of theirs These permissions were graciously given by two major journals and with the agreement also of our publishers Springer Rolland Paulston and Terry McLaughlin have examples of their writing in this Handbook
