Politics Of Reproduction Beyond The Slogans:

The Politics of Reproduction Rebecca M. Albury, 1999-01-01 In both public and private life women's fertility is always the focus of strong passions Why are some women willing to undergo invasive medical treatment in order to become pregnant Why are others willing to use backyard abortionists if clinics are not available Why is everyone else so quick to judge them Rebecca Albury looks beyond the slogans that dominate the debate to explore the contexts in which women make decisions about fertility and raising children Drawing on the experiences of younger and older women she looks at the changing ways women have negotiated fertility contraception adoption abortion assisted reproduction and motherhood She analyses the ways in which the media the medical profession public policy and the law constrain and shape women's experiences She examines the role of the women's movement and argues that we need to look beyond commonsense understandings of motherhood heterosexuality and family formation which shape policy debates The Politics of Reproduction is compelling reading for anyone interested in debates around reproduction

Advances in the Visual Analysis of Social Movements Nicole Doerr, Alice Mattoni, Simon Teune, 2013-03-14 This special issue is a key text in the current study of social movements It introduces new analytical concepts for understanding visuals in social movements and examines case studies from across the globe such as analysis of the symbols used in the Egyptian uprising and contested images from anti-surveillance protests in Europe

The Australian Study of Politics R. Rhodes, 2009-11-11 The Australian Study of Politics provides the first comprehensive reference book on the history of the study of politics in Australia whether described as political studies or political science It focuses on Australia and on developments since WWII also exploring the historical roots of each major subfield

Foucault and Family Relations Malcolm Voyce, 2019-05-14 Foucault and Family Relations Governing from a Distance in Australia analyzes how notions of property ownership were instrumental in maintaining family stability and continuity in rural Australia outlining how inheritance and divorce laws functioned to govern the internal relationships of families to assist the state to rule from a distance Using a selection of Foucault's ideas on the family sexuality race space and economics this book shows how property operated as a disciplinary device which was underpinned by technical ideas such as surveying and cartography This book uses legal judgments as a form of ethnography to show how property as a socio-technical device allowed a degree of local freedom for owners This aspect of property allowed the state to stimulate ideas of local freedom to assist in ruling from a distance demonstrating how the rural family as a domestic unit became a key field of intervention for the state as the family represented a bridge to larger relationships of power

A History of Abortion and Contraception in Queensland, Australia, 1960-1989 Cassandra Byrnes, 2024-06-03 This book looks at the recent history of sex contraception and abortion in Australia's most conservative state Queensland In western nations there has largely been a consistent increase in available contraception and access to abortion from the 1960s onwards yet there are a few geographical exceptions that resisted this trend including Queensland Cassandra Byrnes highlights the multifarious ways sexuality and reproduction were continually constructed and challenged during the second half of the twentieth century and follows the responses of key groups to changing laws and attitudes in a time of local and global sexual and social revolutions She explores interactions between identities of gender sexuality class age marital status and geography to illustrate how specific sexed bodies became liminal sites for legal and medical debate This Queensland case study is contextualised within international debates concerning women s reproductive rights and will be of interest to students and scholars interested in the history of reproductive rights gender and sexuality

Biology and Manners Regina Yung Lee,Una McCormack,2020-06-17 This volume of essays continues the establishment of Lois McMaster Bujold as an important author of contemporary science fiction and fantasy It argues persuasively that Bujold s corpus spans the distance between two full arcs of US feminism and has anticipated or responded to several of its current concerns in ways that invite or even require theoretical exploration The fourteen essays collected here provide wide ranging scholarly analyses of Bujold s work and worlds so far covering not only the science fiction and fantasy series but taking into account the wealth of ancillary material inspired by her works such as fan fiction and role playing games Examining the major series through a range of perspectives including feminist readings queer theory and disability studies this volume aims to establish beyond doubt the seriousness of intent behind Bujold s various artistic projects and provide a set of rich readings of this engaging experimental playful and popular author

Abortion and Nation Lisa Smyth,2017-03-02 Abortion politics are contentious and divisive in many parts of the world but nowhere more so than in Ireland Abortion and Nation examines the connection between abortion politics and hegemonic struggles over national identity and the nation state in the Irish Republic Situating the abortion question in the global context of human rights politics as well as international social movements Lisa Smyth analyses the formation and transformation of abortion politics in Ireland from the early 1980s to the present day She considers whether or not the shifting connections between morality rights and nationhood promise a new era of gender equality in the context of nation state citizenship The book provides a new sociological framework through which the significance of conflict over abortion and reproductive freedom is connected to conflict over national identity It also offers a distinctive in depth consideration of the connection between gender and nationhood particularly in terms of its impact on women s status as citizens within the nation state within the European Union and as members of a global civil society

Copula Robyn Ferrell,2012-02-01 How will the ability to manipulate human reproduction change our social world and the relationship between the sexes Taking an explicitly interdisciplinary approach to gender and reproductive technology Robyn Ferrell examines this question in the light of feminist theories of sexual equality and sexual difference arguing that technology itself can be seen as a kind of reproduction Invoking a concept of reproduction that understands it as generic Ferrell asserts that in any reproduction something is produced of a kind that was there before and yet that is also new Technology is therefore generically reproductive since it produces new matter of the same kind In addition to key figures in

French feminism Ferrell draws from psychoanalysis and contemporary continental thinkers ranging from Heidegger to Haraway

Restructuring Family Policies Maureen Baker, 2006-01-01 Recent years have seen significant changes in the social policies of many liberal welfare states this is especially true of social programs for families with children Increasingly governments are making family policy trade offs reducing support for some families but improving it for others Why are such trade offs occurring and how do governments differ in their approach to family social policy This study addresses these questions by examining the political demographic and socio economic factors influencing the restructuring of family related programs in OECD countries Adopting a feminist political economy approach Maureen Baker shows that while some governments encourage their citizens to see children as future resources and promote strong support for reproductive health programs child welfare services women s refuges subsidized childcare and pay equity others make these claims while simultaneously reducing family incomes through the deregulation of labour markets and restrictions on income support Ultimately Baker demonstrates that nation states with the best outcomes for families offer a variety of social supports which are increasingly important as global markets reduce economic security for some families while improving the financial situation of others This study also explores strategies employed by states to incorporate or resist international pressures and the reasons why some states tenaciously defend their family policy traditions while others restructure according to international guidelines Drawing from nation based research cross national studies and international data bases Restructuring Family Policies successfully integrates mainstream academic debates about restructuring welfare states with feminist research findings and current policy concerns

IVF and Assisted Reproduction Sarah Ferber, Nicola J. Marks, Vera Mackie, 2020-12-17 This is the first transnational history of IVF and assisted reproduction It is a key text for scholars and students in social science history science and technology studies STS cultural studies and gender and sexuality studies and a resource for journalists policymakers and anyone interested in assisted reproduction IVF was seen as revolutionary in 1978 when the first two IVF babies were born in the UK and India Assisted reproduction has now contributed to the birth of around ten million people The book traces the work of IVF teams as they developed new techniques and laid the foundations of a multi billion dollar industry It analyses the changing definitions and experience of infertility the markets for eggs and children through surrogacy cross border reproductive treatment and the impact of regulation Using interviews with leading IVF figures archives media reports and the latest science it is a vital addition to the field of reproduction studies This pathbreaking account of the global forces behind the rapid rise of the fertility industry is the first to offer such a truly comprehensive overview of this hugely important topic Sarah Franklin Chair of Sociology University of Cambridge In this compelling overview of one of the most significant technological and social interventions ever developed the cultural and scientific imaginaries of assisted reproduction meet the obdurate histories of laboratory experiments biological materials and personal quests It is an indispensable read for anyone interested in IVF and assisted reproduction Andrea Whittaker Professor of Anthropology Monash University Knowledge as Resistance Stevienna de Saille, 2017-11-27 This book presents a historicised account of the Feminist International Network of Resistance to Reproductive and Genetic Engineering FINRRAGE a coordinated effort during the 1980s and 1990s by an international group of women to create and disseminate feminist knowledge about the then new field of reproductive technologies Bringing insights from science and technology studies together with social movements and feminist theory it seeks to examine larger questions about knowledge and expertise in activist engagements with rapidly developing technologies as well as explore an important and neglected episode of feminist history Its findings will be relevant to scholars in science studies gender and women s studies and social movements as well as to anyone with an interest in reproductive technologies and the history of feminist activism

The Regulation of Medical Products Penny Gleeson, 2024-12-31 This book develops a theoretical framework for examining and assessing the regulatory arrangements for medical products Since the first half of the 20th century the regulation of pharmaceuticals medical devices and more recently biologicals have been controlled in many jurisdictions by specific regulatory regimes and agencies Their regulatory mandates are similar to ensure the quality safety and efficacy of medical products This book provides a timely and relevant assessment of the complexities of medical regulatory regimes by drawing on a particular theory of political legitimacy In this respect the book adopts a dialogic approach according to which a shared set of normative beliefs and values are formulated as a theoretical tool to identify deficiencies in the regulatory arrangements for medical products Drawing on several Australian cases studies characterised by divergent normative perspectives the book develops its dialogic approach in order to challenge the usual legitimization of regulatory regimes from the perspective of science alone Specifically it maintains that such regimes need to embrace a normative pluralism that admits a diversity of types and sources of knowledge This evaluation of the increasingly influential domain of medical regulation will appeal to a range of scholars and practitioners working in law public health politics and science and technology studies

Families, Labour and Love Maureen Baker, 2020-07-29 We think of our family life as very personal but in fact it is shaped by influences well beyond our control Families Labour and Love identifies the ways in which family and personal life in three settler societies Australia New Zealand and Canada has been shaped by colonisation immigration globalisation demographic changes law and policy Baker shows that these three countries each a former colony developed similar family trends and similar family policies Strongly gendered patterns of paid and unpaid work played a major role in family life The family practices of indigenous people were largely overlooked as were those of recent immigrant groups However local conditions also produced significant differences in family experiences among the three countries Richly illustrated with examples comparative data and textual sources Families Labour and Love provides a broad ranging analysis of the family which will appeal to students researchers and policy makers Maureen Baker outlines with great clarity the diversity of families and the way in which they are shaped by historical and cultural forces The focus on Australia New Zealand and Canada is not only refreshing but throws into sharp relief the impact on contemporary families of the colonial experience industrialisation large scale immigration and globalisation David de Vaus La Trobe University Australians Thomas Keneally,2017-11-14 The third volume of Thomas Keneally's history of the Australian people Australians Flappers to Vietnam chronicles the lives and deeds of Australians both known and unknown during the 20th century Entering an age of consumerism media and communism Australia underwent radical change in the hands of two less remembered prime ministers the stoic Stanley Melbourne Bruce of the Melbourne Establishment and the humbler Irishman Jim Scullin of the Labor Party Keneally examines the Great Crash the rise of fascism the reasons why Australia entered the Second World War through the massive unemployment that arrived later in the century With a compassionate lens and rich storytelling Flappers to Vietnam presents history in a fresh and vivid way

Abortion Care is Health Care Barbara Baird,2023-10-03 In Abortion Care is Health Care Barbara Baird tells the history of the provision of abortion care in Australia since 1990 Against the backdrop of a reticent public sector Baird describes a system of predominantly private provision which has excluded women already marginalised by poverty rural and remote residency lack of Medicare entitlement racism and other factors Tracing changes in the private sector the long struggle to make medical abortion available and the nationwide decriminalisation of abortion since 2002 Baird introduces readers to the large cast of champions and everyday healthcare workers and activists who have persisted in their commitment to make abortion care available when governments and the medical profession have so often failed Drawing on oral history interviews conducted nationwide with abortion providing doctors nurses counsellors and managers women's health workers academics and community activists Baird brings a critical feminist analysis to create a sophisticated historical narrative of abortion provision over the last thirty years

The Web as History Niels Brügger,Ralph Schroeder,2017-03-06 The World Wide Web has now been in use for more than 20 years From early browsers to today's principal source of information entertainment and much else the Web is an integral part of our daily lives to the extent that some people believe if it's not online it doesn't exist While this statement is not entirely true it is becoming increasingly accurate and reflects the Web's role as an indispensable treasure trove It is curious therefore that historians and social scientists have thus far made little use of the Web to investigate historical patterns of culture and society despite making good use of letters novels newspapers radio and television programmes and other pre digital artefacts This volume argues that now is the time to ask what we have learnt from the Web so far The 12 chapters explore this topic from a number of interdisciplinary angles through histories of national web spaces and case studies of different government and media domains as well as an introduction that provides an overview of this exciting new area of research
