Highland Indians and the State in Modern Ecuador A. Kim Clark, Marc Becker, 2007-08-26 Highland Indians and the State in Modern Ecuador chronicles the changing forms of indigenous engagement with the Ecuadorian state since the early nineteenth century that by the beginning of the twenty first century had facilitated the growth of the strongest unified indigenous movement in Latin America Built around nine case studies from nineteenth and twentieth century Ecuador Highland Indians and the State in Modern Ecuador presents state formation as an uneven process characterized by tensions and contradictions in which Indians and other subalterns actively participated It examines how indigenous peoples have attempted sometimes successfully to claim control over state formation in order to improve their relative position in society The book concludes with four comparative essays that place indigenous organizational strategies in highland Ecuador within a larger Latin American historical context Highland Indians and the State in Modern Ecuador offers an interdisciplinary approach to the study of state formation that will be of interest to a broad range of scholars who study how subordinate groups participate in and contest state formation

Gendered Paradoxes Amy Lind, 2007-08-09 Since the early 1980s Ecuador has experienced a series of events unparalleled in its history Its free market strategies exacerbated the debt crisis and in response new forms of social movement organizing arose among the country s poor including women s groups Gendered Paradoxes focuses on women s participation in the political and economic restructuring process of the past twenty five years showing how in their daily struggle for survival Ecuadorian women have both reinforced and embraced the neoliberal model yet also challenged its exclusionary nature Drawing on her extensive ethnographic fieldwork and employing an approach combining political economy and cultural politics Amy Lind charts the growth of several strands of women s activism and identifies how they have helped redefine often in contradictory ways the real and imagined boundaries of neoliberal development discourse and practice In her analysis of this ambivalent and unfinished cultural project of modernity in the Andes she examines state policies and their effects on women of various social sectors women s community development initiatives and responses to the debt crisis and the roles played by feminist issue networks in reshaping national and international policy agendas in Ecuador and in developing a transnationally influenced locally based feminist movement

Gallegos-Anda, 2020-11-23 Ecuador's Good Living Crises Discourse and Law by Gallegos-Anda presents a critical approach towards the concept of Buen Vivir that was included in Ecuador's 2008 Constitution Due to its apparent legal novelty this normative formula received much praise from multiple civil society and academic circles by forging what some argued to be a new development paradigm based on Andean epistemologies Gallegos-Anda theorizes this important phenomenon through an inductive analysis of context and power relations Through a masterful navigation through epistemological fields the author offers a critical theory of Buen Vivir that focuses on changing citizenship regimes a retreating state politicised ethnic cleavages discursive democracy and the emergence of an empty signifier Gallegos-Anda is the first to situate Buen Vivir in a theoretical context grounded in international human rights law
