Politics Of Design In French Colonial Urbanism:

The Politics of Design in French Colonial Urbanism Gwendolyn Wright, 1991 Politics and culture are at once semi autonomous and intertwined Nowhere is this more revealingly illustrated than in urban design a field that encompasses architecture and social life traditions and modernization Here aesthetic goals and political intentions meet sometimes in collaboration sometimes in conflict Here the formal qualities of art confront the complexities of history When urban design policies are implemented they reveal underlying aesthetic cultural and political dilemmas with startling clarity Gwendolyn Wright focuses on three French colonies Indochina Morocco and Madagascar that were the most discussed most often photographed and most admired showpieces of the French empire in the early twentieth century She explores how urban policy and design fit into the French colonial policy of association a strategy that accepted even encouraged cultural differences while it promoted modern urban improvements that would foster economic development for Western investors Wright shows how these colonial cities evolved tracing the distinctive nature of each locale under French imperialism She also relates these cities to the larger category of French architecture and urbanism showing how consistently the French tried to resolve certain stylistic and policy problems they faced at home and abroad With the advice of architects and sociologists art historians and geographers colonial administrators sought to exert greater control over such matters as family life and working conditions industrial growth and cultural memory The issues Wright confronts the potent implications of traditional norms cultural continuity modernization and radical urban experiments still challenge us today

Decolonization and African Society Frederick Cooper, 1996-08-28 This detailed and authoritative volume changes our conceptions of imperial and African history Frederick Cooper gathers a vast range of archival sources in French and English to achieve a truly comparative study of colonial policy toward the recruitment control and institutionalization of African labor forces from the mid 1930s when the labor question was first posed to the late 1950s when decolonization was well under way Professor Cooper explores colonial conceptions of the African worker and shows how African trade union and political leaders used the new language of social change to claim equality and a share of power This helped to persuade European officials that the modern Africa they imagined was unaffordable Britain and France could not reshape African society As they left the continent the question was how they had affected the ways in which Africans could reorganize society themselves

Sex, politics and empire Richard Phillips, 2018-02-01 Colonial governments institutions and companies recognised that in many ways the effective operation of the Empire depended upon sexual arrangements For example nuclear families serving agricultural colonization and prostitutes working for single men who powered armies and plantations mines and bureaucracies For this reason they devised elaborate systems of sexual governance such as attending to marriage and the family However they also devoted disproportionate energy to marking and policing the sexual margins In Sex Politics and Empire Richard Phillips investigates controversies surrounding prostitution homosexuality and the age of consent in the British Empire and revolutionises our notions about the importance of sex as a nexus of imperial power relations The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory C. Greig Crysler, Stephen Cairns, Hilde Heynen, 2012-01-20 Offers an intense scholarly experience in its comprehensiveness its variety of voices and its formal organization the editors took a risk experimented and have delivered a much needed resource that upends the status quo Architectural Histories journal of the European Architectural History Network Architectural theory interweaves interdisciplinary understandings with different practices intentions and ways of knowing This handbook provides a lucid and comprehensive introduction to this challenging and shifting terrain and will be of great interest to students academics and practitioners alike Professor Iain Borden UCL Bartlett School of Architecture In this collection architectural theory expands outward to interact with adjacent discourses such as sustainability conservation spatial practices virtual technologies and more We have in The Handbook of Architectural Theory an example of the extreme generosity of architectural theory It is a volume that designers and scholars of many stripes will welcome K Michael Hays Eliot Noyes Professor of Architectural Theory Harvard University The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory documents and builds upon the most innovative developments in architectural theory over the last two decades Bringing into dialogue a range of geographically institutionally and historically competing positions it examines and explores parallel debates in related fields The book is divided into eight sections Power Difference Embodiment Aesthetics Pleasure Excess Nation World Spectacle History Memory Tradition Design Production Practice Science Technology Virtuality Nature Ecology Sustainability City Metropolis Territory Creating openings for future lines of inquiry and establishing the basis for new directions for education research and practice the book is organized around specific case studies to provide a critical interpretive and speculative enquiry into the relevant debates in architectural theory

Neocolonialism and Built Heritage Daniel E. Coslett, 2019-07-02 Architectural relics of nineteenth and twentieth century colonialism dot cityscapes throughout our globalizing world just as built traces of colonialism remain embedded within the urban fabric of many European capitals Neocolonialism and Built Heritage addresses the sustained presence and influence of historic built environments and processes inherited from colonialism within the contemporary lives of cities in Africa Asia and Europe Novel in their focused consideration of ways in which these built environments reinforce neocolonialist connections among former colonies and colonizers states and international organizations the volume's case studies engage highly relevant issues such as historic preservation heritage management tourism toponymy and cultural imperialism Interrogating the life of the past in the present authors thus challenge readers to consider the roles played by a diversity of historic built environments in the ongoing asymmetrical balance of power and unequal distribution capital around the globe They present buildings maintenance management reuse and re interpretation and in so doing they raise important questions the ramifications of which transcend the specifics of the individual sites and architectural histories they present

troubled relations between Catholic missionaries and a host of republican critics shaped colonial policies Catholic perspectives and domestic French politics in the tumultuous decades before the First World War Interlopers of Empire Andrew Arsan,2014-01-06 This work is the first comprehensive history of the Lebanese migrant communities of colonial French West Africa a vast expanse that covered present day Senegal C te d Ivoire Mali Guinea Benin and Mauritania Where others have concentrated on the commercial activities of these migrants casting them as archetypal middlemen this work reconstructs not just their economic strategies but also their social and political lives Moreover it examines the fraught responses of colonial Frenchmen to the unsettling presence of these interlopers of empire responses which with their echoes of metropolitan racism helped to shape the ways in which Lebanese migrants represented themselves and justified their place in West Africa This is a work which attempts not just to reshape broader understandings of diasporic life of Janus like existences lived in transit between distant locales and de pendent on the constant to and fro of people news and goods but also to challenge the way we think about empires and the relations between their constituent territories and diverse inhabitants The Birth of Vietnamese Political Journalism Philippe M.F. Peycam,2012-05-01 Philippe M F Peycam completes the first ever English language study of Vietnam s emerging political press and its resistance to colonialism Published in the decade that preceded the Communist Party s founding this journalistic phenomenon established a space for public political contestation that fundamentally changed Vietnamese attitudes and the outlook of Southeast Asia Peycam directly links Saigon s colonial urbanization to the creation of new modes of individual and collective political agency To better justify their presence French colonialists implemented a peculiar brand of republican imperialism to encourage the development of a highly controlled print capitalism Yet the Vietnamese made clever use of this new form of political expression subverting colonial discourse and putting French rulers on the defensive while simultaneously stoking Vietnamese aspirations for autonomy Peycam specifically considers the work of Western educated Vietnamese journalists who in their legal writings called attention to the politics of French rule Peycam rejects the notion that Communist and nationalist ideologies changed the minds of alienated Vietnamese during this period Rather he credits colonial urban modernity with shaping the Vietnamese activist journalist and the role of the French even at their most coercive along with the modern public Vietnamese intellectual and his responsibility toward the group Countering common research on anticolonial nationalism and its assumptions of ethno cultural homogeneity Peycam follows the merging of French republican and anarchist traditions with neo Confucian Vietnamese behavior giving rise to modern Vietnamese public activism its autonomy and its contradictory aspirations Interweaving biography with archival newspaper and French police sources he writes from within these journalists changing political consciousness and their shifting perception of social roles Prostitution, Race and Politics Philippa Levine,2013-01-11 In addition to shouldering the blame for the increasing incidence of venereal disease among sailors and soldiers prostitutes throughout the British Empire also bore the burden of the contagious diseases ordinances that the British government passed By studying how British authorities enforced these laws in four colonial sites between the 1860s and the end of the First World War Philippa Levine reveals how myths and prejudices about the sexual practices of colonized peoples not only had a direct and often punishing effect on how the laws operated but how they also further justified the distinction between the colonizer and the colonized The Oxford Handbook of Cities in World

Planning, 1940-1968 W. Brian Newsome, 2009 French Urban Planning 1940 1968 explores the creation and progressive dismantling of France's centralized authoritarian system of urban and architectural planning Established in the wake of World War II to facilitate the reconstruction and expansion of cities this planning program led to the evolution of large suburban housing estates plagued by inter intra family conflict juvenile delinquency and other social difficulties which sociologists connected to poor planning and design Critics began calling for the democratization of planning to remedy design problems and the government of Charles de Gaulle started reforming planning procedures in the late 1950s and early 1960s This book moves beyond technical and political issues to explore forces of religion gender and class that affected planning practices Key critics and state officials emerged from the Catholic Left Some were women from working class backgrounds and they manipulated gender stereotypes to insert working and middle class women into the design process Sometimes in opposition but often together these reformers initiated the most significant change of architectural and urban planning until the introduction of François Mitterrand's decentralization reforms in the 1980s French Urban Planning 1940 1968 will appeal to scholars and students interested in architectural urban and social trends in twentieth century France

Modernism and the Middle East Sandy Isenstadt, Kishwar Rizvi, 2011-03-01 This provocative collection of essays is the first book length treatment of the development of modern architecture in the Middle East Ranging from Jerusalem at the turn of the twentieth century to Libya under Italian colonial rule postwar Turkey and on to present day Iraq the essays cohere around the historical encounter between the politics of nation building and architectural modernism's new materials methods and motives Architecture as physical infrastructure and as symbolic expression provides an exceptional window onto the powerful forces that shaped the modern Middle East and that continue to dominate it today Experts in this volume demonstrate the political dimensions of both creating the built environment and subsequently inhabiting it In revealing the tensions between achieving both international relevance and regional meaning Modernism in the Middle East affords a dynamic view of the ongoing confrontations of deep traditions with rapid modernization Political and cultural historians as well as architects and urban planners will find fresh material here on a range of diverse practices A Critical History of Contemporary Architecture Elie G. Haddad, David Rifkind, 2016-12-05 1960 following as it did the last CIAM meeting signalled a turning point for the Modern Movement From then on architecture was influenced by seminal texts by Aldo Rossi and Robert Venturi and gave rise to the first revisionary movement following Modernism Bringing together leading experts in the field this book provides a comprehensive critical overview of the developments in architecture from 1960 to 2010 It consists of two parts the first section providing a presentation of major movements in architecture after 1960 and the second a geographic survey that covers a wide range of territories around the world This book not only reflects the different perspectives of its various authors but also charts a middle course between the aesthetic histories that examine architecture solely in terms of its formal aspects and the more ideological histories that subject it to a critique that often skirts the discussion of its formal aspects Modernity and Nostalgia Romy Golan,1995-01-01 Golan argues that reactionary issues such as anti urbanism the return to the soil regionalism corporatism xenophobia and doubts about the new technology became central to cultural and art historical discourse Focusing on the overlap of avant garde and middle of the road production she investigates the import of these issues not only in painting sculpture and architecture concentrating on the work of Leger Picasso Le Corbusier Ozenfant Derain the Surrealists and the so called naifs but also in the decorative arts in the spectacle of world and colonial fairs and in literature Throughout she finds evidence that artists turned from the aesthetics of the machine age toward a more organic naturalistic art This leads her to ask whether the famous and momentous shift of the avant garde from Paris to New York in 1939 did not in fact begin two decades earlier in 1918

Cities and the Making of Modern Europe, 1750-1914 Andrew Lees,Lynn Hollen Lees,2007-12-13 A survey of urbanization and the making of modern Europe from the mid eighteenth century to the First World War Streets Zeynep Celik,Diane Favro,Richard Ingersoll,2023-11-15 This collection of twenty one essays written by colleagues and former students of the architectural historian Spiro Kostof 1936 1991 presents case studies on Kostof s model of urban forms and fabrics The essays are remarkably diverse the range includes pre Columbian Inca settlements fourteenth century Cairo nineteenth century New Orleans and twentieth century Tokyo Focusing on individual streets around the world and from different historical periods the collection is an inviting overview of the street as an urban institution The theme of the volume is that the street presents itself as the basic structuring device of a city s form and also as the locus of its civilization Each essay is a detailed investigation of a single urban street with unique historical conditions The authors shared concern regarding anthropological political and technical aspects of street making coalesce into a critical discourse on urban space A fitting tribute to Spiro Kostof this collection will be greatly admired by scholars and general readers alike This collection of twenty one essays written by colleagues and former students of the architectural historian Spiro Kostof 1936 1991 presents case studies on Kostof s model of urban forms and fabrics The essays are remarkably diverse the range inclu
