The Politics of Globalisation and Polarisation Maurice Mullard, 2004-01-01 This book deals with the nature of contemporary globalisation Maurice Mullard aims to show that globalisation is not an inescapable unstoppable process somehow beyond human control rather that it represents and is being shaped by a series of deliberate policy choices and policy decisions The emphasis of this fascinating work is on how these policy choices are creating new forms of economic inequalities and also political elites that distort the democratic process

Global Politics Anthony G. McGrew, Paul Lewis, 2013-05-02 This innovative new text is derived from a highly successful Open University course of the same title It takes as a dominant theme the contested issue of globalization the apparent intensification of global patterns of inter dependence and its implications for the autonomy of the modern nation state Following a conceptual introduction which critically examines the theoretical debates framing the study of world politics the work is structured around four key processes of globalization which the authors identify as being the central determinants of contemporary global politics These key processes are the global impact of great power relations the globalizing tendencies of technological innovation the existence of a global economy and the globalizing force of modernity Reflecting this structure the text is organized into four discrete sections Each section explores both theoretically and empirically one of the four processes of globalization Throughout particular attention is paid both to a critical evaluation of these globalizing processes as well as to their consequences for the sovereignty and autonomy of the modern nation state Moreover the authors combine a lucid treatment of theoretical debates with topical case study material to produce a text which is extremely accessible to undergraduate students studying international relations and politics and to those readers with little prior knowledge of world affairs
