Home in British Working-Class Fiction Nicola Wilson, 2016-03-09 Home in British Working Class Fiction offers a fresh take on British working class writing that turns away from a masculinist work based understanding of class in favour of home gender domestic labour and the family kitchen As Nicola Wilson shows the history of the British working classes has often been written from the outside with observers looking into the world of the inhabitants Here Wilson engages with the long cultural history of this gaze and asks how home is represented in the writing of authors who come from a working class background Her book explores the depiction of home as a key emotional and material site in working class writing from the Edwardian period through to the early 1990s Wilson presents new readings of classic texts including The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists Love on the Dole and Saturday Night and Sunday Morning analyzing them alongside works by authors including James Hanley Walter Brierley Lewis Grassie Gibbon Buchi Emecheta Pat Barker James Kelman and the rediscovered ex mill girl novelist Ethel Carnie Holdsworth Wilson s broad understanding of working class writing allows her to incorporate figures typically ignored in this context as she demonstrates the importance of home s role in the making and expression of class feeling and identity

Re-hybridizing Transnational Domesticity and Femininity

Stacey Weber-Fève, 2010-01-05 Re hybridizing Transnational Domesticity and Femininity examines the problems of voicing the personal when considering the role and place of women in the home Analyzing a collection of first person cinematic and literary narratives by Assia Djebar Annie Ernaux Simone de Beauvoir Raja Amari Coline Serreau Le la Sebbar and Yamina Benguigui Weber Fève explores the transnational processes of identity formation gender performance and construction of culture and society Through a closer look at contemporary representations of French Algerian and Tunisian women on the page and on the screen this study discusses the ways in which homemaking nation and gender are intricately bound to one another and situated in personal history Working within as well as beyond so called national systems of visual and written representation these women artists challenge inherited and monolithic performances definitions and discourses of femininity In doing so they create re hybridized subjects that begin to recognize and embrace the differences within themselves The authors and filmmakers in this study through their female protagonists the protagonists homes and homemaking acts and the investigative lens of the interrogation of the personal are interested in exploring how the process of uncovering or articulating new and other identities and subjectivities ushers in new and re hybridized ways of seeing knowing and being female

Home Bound Yen Le Espiritu, 2003-05-05 Filipino Americans who experience life in the United States as immigrants colonized nationals and racial minorities have been little studied though they are one of our largest immigrant groups Based on her in depth interviews with more than one hundred Filipinos in San Diego California Yen Le Espiritu investigates how Filipino women and men are transformed through the experience of migration and how they in turn remake the social world around them Her sensitive analysis reveals that Filipino Americans confront U S domestic racism and global power structures by living transnational lives that are shaped as much by literal and symbolic ties to the Philippines as they are by social economic and political realities in the United States Espiritu deftly weaves vivid first person narratives with larger social and historical contexts as she discovers the meaning of home community gender and intergenerational relations among Filipinos Among other topics she explores the ways that female sexuality is defined in contradistinction to American mores and shows how this process becomes a way of opposing racial subjugation in this country She also examines how Filipinos have integrated themselves into the American workplace and looks closely at the effects of colonialism

Spatiality and Symbolic Expression Bill Richardson, 2015-07-22 In this volume scholars from a wide range of fields within the humanities explore the links between space and place and their relation to cultural expression This collection shows that a focus on the spatial can help elucidate important facets of symbolic expression and cultural production whether it be literature music dance films or art

Identity, Diaspora and Return in American Literature

Maria Antònia

Oliver-Rotger,2014-09-19 This volume combines literary analysis and theoretical approaches to mobility diasporic identities and the construction of space to explore the different ways in which the notion of return shapes contemporary ethnic writing such as fiction ethnography memoir and film Through a wide variety of ethnic experiences ranging from the Transatlantic Asian American Latino a and Caribbean alongside their corresponding forms of displacement political exile war trauma and economic migration the essays in this collection connect the intimate experience of the returning subject to multiple locations historical experiences inter subjective relations and cultural interactions They challenge the idea of the narrative of return as a journey back to the untouched roots and home that the ethnic subject left behind Their diacritical approach combines on the one hand a sensitivity to the context and structural elements of modern diaspora and on the other an analysis of the individual psychological processes inherent to the experience of displacement and return such as nostalgia memory and belonging In the narratives of return analyzed in this volume space and identity are never static or easily definable rather they are in process and subject to change as they are always entangled in the historical and inter subjective relations ensuing from displacement and mobility This book will interest students and scholars who wish to further explore the role of American literature within current debates on globalization migration and ethnicity Remaking Holocaust

Memory Liat Steir-Livny,2019-04-18 Since the late 1990s in Israel third generation Holocaust survivors have become the new custodians of cultural memory and the documentary films they produce play a major role in shaping a societal consensus of commemoration In Remaking Holocaust Memory a pioneering analysis of third generation Holocaust documentaries in Israel Liat Steir Livny co recipient of the 2019 Young Scholar Award given jointly by the Association of Israel Studies and the Israel Institute investigates compelling films that have been screened in Israel Europe and the United States appeared in numerous international film festivals and won international awards but have yet to receive significant academic attention Steir Livny s comprehensive investigation reveals how the absolute truths that appeared in the majority of second generation films are deconstructed and disputed in the newer films which do not dismiss their cinematic parents approach but rather rethink fixed notions extend the debates and pose questions where previously there had been exclamation marks Steir Livny also explores the ways in which the third generation s perspectives on Holocaust memory govern cinematic trends and aesthetic choices and how these might impact the moral recollection of the past Finally Remaking Holocaust Memory serves as an excellent reference tool as it helpfully lists all of the second and third generation films available as well as the festival screenings and awards they have garnered Re-imagining Ukrainian Canadians Jim Mochoruk,James David

Mochoruk,Rhonda L. Hinthner,2011-01-01 The Canadian Social History Series is devoted to in depth studies of major themes in our history exploring neglected areas in the day to day existence of Canadians The emphasis of this innovative series is on increasing the general appreciation of our past and opening up new areas of study for students and scholars The editor of the series is Gregory S Kealey Provost Professor of History and Vice President Research University of New Brunswick A leading historian of the Canadian working class Dr Kealey was the founding editor of Labour Le Travail Ukrainian immigrants to Canada have often been portrayed in history as sturdy pioneer farmers cultivating the virgin land of the Canadian west The essays in this collection challenge this stereotype by examining the varied experiences of Ukrainian Canadians in their day to day roles as writers intellectuals national organizers working class wage earners and inhabitants of cities and towns Throughout the contributors remain dedicated to promoting the study of ethnic hyphenated histories as major currents in mainstream Canadian history Topics explored include Ukrainian Canadian radicalism the consequences of the Cold War for Ukrainians both at home and abroad the creation and maintenance of ethnic memories and community discord embodied by pro Nazis Communists and criminals Re Imagining Ukrainian Canadians uses new sources and non traditional methods of analysis to answer unstudied and often controversial questions within the field Collectively the essays challenge the older essentialist definition of what it means to be Ukrainian Canadian Rhonda L Hinther is the Western Canadian History curator at the Canadian Museum of Civilization Jim Mochoruk is a professor in the Department of History at the University of North Dakota Home, Maison, Casa Erica L. Johnson, 2003 The book is concerned with homes maisons and case English French and Italian words which refer to a similar idea yet which reveal together that the notion of being at home a la maison or a case pivots on the axis of material dwelling places as well as the more abstract concept of being at home or chez soi

Found in Transition Yiu-Wai Chu, 2018-10-16 Presents an updated account of Hong Kong and its culture two decades after its reversion to China In Found in Transition Yiu Wai Chu examines the fate of Hong Kong s unique cultural identity in the contexts of both global capitalism and the increasing influence of China Drawing on recent developments especially with respect to language movies and popular songs as modes of resistance to Mainlandization and different forms of censorship Chu explores the challenges facing Hong Kong twenty years after its reversion to China as a Special Administrative Region Highlighting locality and hybridity along postcolonial lines of interpretation he also attempts to imagine the future of Hong Kong by utilizing Hong Kong studies as a method Chu argues that the study of Hong Kong the place where the impact of the rise of China is most intensely felt can shed light on emergent crises in different areas of the world As such this book represents a consequential follow up to the author s Lost in Transition and a valuable contribution to international area and cultural studies This is a wide ranging and worthy sequel to Chu s Lost in Transition By juxtaposing a series of critical issues urban development self writing language education and cultural production among others that have confounded those who care deeply about this former British colony Chu offers his readers an intelligent and sensitive guide to connect and make sense of the various debates and he places the conundrums Hong Kong faces in the contexts of both the limits of neoliberal capitalism and the Age of China Leo K Shin author of The Making of the Chinese State Ethnicity and Expansion on the Ming Borderlands Moving Home Sandra Gunning, 2021-09-13 Sandra Gunning draws on nineteenth century African diasporic travel writing to explore the conditions and possibilities of race gender sex and class that early black Atlantic travel enabled

The Contemporary British Novel Philip Tew, 2007-06-26 Second edition of this guide for students studying contemporary British writing written by one of the key academics in the field of modern fiction studies What Women Lose María Cristina Rodríguez, 2005 This book examines novels by women from the anglophone francophone and hispanophone Caribbean that focus on marginalized female characters who migrate to metropolitan centers The novels studied require cultural historical sociological anthropological and geographic readings to fully explore the complexity of the characters as they confront the varied and changing challenges hardships and pleasures of the diaspora The critical approach focuses on the characters attempts to hold on to acceptable realities by assuming the appropriate interpersonal social and cultural masks that allow them to find a sense of significance in their interior domestic and community lives Object Medleys Daisy Pillay, Kathleen Pithouse-Morgan, Inbanathan Naicker, 2017-11-13 How do we get at the meanings of everyday and not so everyday objects and how might these meanings enrich educational research The study of objects is well established in fields such as archaeology art history communications fine arts museum studies and sociology but is still developing in education Object Medleys Interpretive Possibilities for Educational Research brings together 37 educational researchers from wide ranging contexts and multiple knowledge fields to a dialogic space in which subjects and objects living and nonliving entangle as medleys to open up understandings of connections made with between and through objects Object Medleys offers diverse innovative modes and lenses for representing interpreting and theorising object studies The book is distinctive within scholarship on object inquiry in that much of the research has been conducted within Southern African educational contexts This is complemented by contributions from scholars based in Canada and the United Kingdom The original research represented in each peer reviewed chapter expands academic conversations about what counts as data and analysis in educational research Overall Object Medleys illuminates the applied and theoretical usefulness of objects in response to pressing educational and societal questions Object Medleys is a rich and fascinating exploration of new possibilities with potential for research teaching and learning that seems almost unlimited This book is a rich assembly of affordances for exploring and widening the role of objects in educational research It relocates attention from language and text towards embodied and material storytelling practices where new and marginalised ways of expression can find their ways into classrooms thereby opening completely new avenues of teaching and learning Kenneth M Ibjerg J rgensen Professor Aalborg University Denmark In a time when materiality is being brought at the centre of critical inquiry in the social sciences and humanities this edited collection offers unique insights into the relationship between objects subjectivities and learning Beautifully written and cogently argued the book breaks new ground by casting a critical spotlight on artefacts that might appear mundane at first sight but on closer inspection reveal complex patterns of educational potential Tommaso M Milani Associate Professor University of the Witwatersrand Johannesburg South Africa Interdependence HyeRan Kim-Cragg, 2018-05-31 This book calls attention to an urgent need for postcolonial feminist approaches to practical theology

It not only advocates for the inclusion of colonialism as a critical optic for practical theology but also demands a close look at how colonialism is entangled with issues of race ethnicity gender class disability and sexual orientation Seeking to highlight the importance of the interdependence of life the author challenges and contests the notion of independence as the desirable goal of the human being Lifting up the experiences of overlooked groups including children at adult centered worship queer and interracial youth in heterosexual and white normative family discourse and non human species in human centered academic and theological realms the book contributes to expanding the concerns of practical theology in ways that create healthy community for all human beings and non human fellow creatures It also takes up issues of multiple religious belonging and migration that practical theology has not sufficiently explored These illuminating new possibilities promise to renew and even transform church communities through the inclusion of often neglected groups with whom God is already present

Spectres from the Past Portia Owusu,2019-11-22 Spectres from the Past The History of Slavery in West African and African American Narratives examines the merit of the claim that West African writers in comparison to African Americans authors deliberately expunge the history of slavery from literary narratives The book explores slavery in contemporary West African and African American literature by looking at the politics of history and memory It interrogates notions of History and memory by considering the possibility that shared traumas such as West African and African American experiences of slavery can be remembered and historicised differently according to critical factors such as socio economic realities cultural beliefs and familial traditions At the heart of the book are compelling and new readings of slavery in six literary narratives that draws on cultural philosophies musicology and linguistics to demonstrate diverse and unusual ways that Black writers in West Africa and North America write about slavery in literature
