Politics Of Indigeneity In The South Pacific:

Politics of Indigeneity in the South Pacific Hermann Mückler, Erich Kolig, 2000 Politics of Indigeneity in the South Pacific Erich Kolig, Hermann Mückler, 2002 This book contributes to a field of growing interest in socio political and anthropological circles indigeneity as a form of selfrepresentation and resistance against existing forms of state dominance Developments in indigenous minorities over recent decades in the interpretation of their own traditional history as a source of self confidence form the core of the discussion Revival of tradition re tribalization and the loss of confidence in national governments are causing increasing problems The South Pacific including Australia is on the eve of a new era the 21st Century is opening chances to overcome deep rooted obstacles and prejudices At the same time dangers are emerging in societies where democratic values are often interpreted by indigenous groups as foreign influences which should be replaced by traditional modes of representation With examples drawn from Australia New Zealand Fiji and New Caledonia the book provides a comprehensive overview of a region in transi Public Policy and Ethnicity Roger Openshaw, 2006-10-10 Has ethnicity become institutionalized as a political category Drawing on international studies including New Zealand the book shows that this process of public policymaking creates artificial divisions that can become permanent and detrimental as well as being at odds with the social fluidity of modern societies Preface by Jonathan Friedman The Politics of Indigeneity Roger Maaka, Augie Fleras, 2005 Indigenous peoples are increasingly uniting around a commonality of concerns needs and ambitions In both New Zealand and Canada these politics challenge the colonial structures that social and political systems are built upon Both countries have accomplished much in their management of indigenous issues New Zealand has begun to right historical wrongs through treaty settlements and to implement bicultural strategies Canada is experimenting with self government for aboriginal peoples Yet there are still many issues to be addresses with recent statistics showing indigenous peoples in bother these countries struggling to balance functioning in everyday life with preserving their cultures This book casts light on the constitutional politics in both countries that are redefining the relationship of indigenous peoples to the state A unique and timely discussion Narrating Indigenous Modernities Michaela Moura-Koçoğlu, 2011 Preliminary Material Things are not exactly black or white in Aotearoa The Many Facets of Kiwi Identity Fragmentation Reconsidered Transcultural Identities in the Making Narratives of Be Longing M ori Literary Voices Advancing Narratives of Un Belonging Unmasking Cleavage Cleaving to Identities Transcultural Readings Recombining Repertoires Navigating Transcultural Currents Stories of Indigenous Modernities Works Cited Index State of Suffering Susanna Trnka, 2011-05-02 How do ordinary people respond when their lives are irrevocably altered by terror and violence Susanna Trnka was residing in an Indo Fijian village in the year 2000 during the Fijian nationalist coup The overthrow of the elected multiethnic party led to six months of nationalist aggression much of which was directed toward Indo Fijians In State of Suffering Trnka shows how Indo Fijians lives were overturned as waves of turmoil and destruction swept across Fiji Describing the myriad social processes through which violence is articulated and ascribed meaning including expressions of incredulity circulation of rumors narratives and exchanges of laughter and jokes Trnka reveals the ways in which the community engages in these practices as individuals experience and try to understand the consequences of the coup She then considers different kinds of pain caused by political chaos and social turbulence including pain resulting from bodily harm shared terror and the distress precipitated by economic crisis and social dislocation Throughout this book Trnka focuses on the collective social process through which violence is embodied articulated and silenced by those it targets Her sensitive ethnography is a valuable addition to the global conversation about the impact of political violence on community life

Shifting Images of Identity in the Pacific Toon van Meijl,2021-10-25 This book examines how identities emerge persist and change in various Pacific societies The shifting images of identity are explored in pre colonial colonial as well as post colonial circumstances All the essays in this volume address both continuity and discontinuity in the construction of identities in the rapidly changing Pacific region A region increasingly characterized by state formation processes and global influences The introduction provides a theoretical analysis of the changing paradigm in the study of identity over recent decades This is exemplified with a comparative overview of the emergence of a constructivist approach of culture tradition and identity in Pacific studies Nine ethnographic contributions subsequently address the central question from a variety of different angles Some chapters focus on classic topics such as migration and myth while others deal with indigenous peoples in modern nation states tourism economic development global consumerism or electronic communication The societies in question range from relatively isolated groups to communities living dispersed around the globe Each chapter provides valuable insights into the processes of identity in the Pacific over time An epilogue provides a comparative reading of the different theoretical solutions that have been proposed to make sense of the shifting images of identity in the contemporary increasingly transnational Pacific Urban

Indigeneities Dana Brablec, Andrew Canessa, 2023-09-19 Today a majority of Indigenous peoples live in urban areas they are builders and cleaners teachers and lawyers market women and masons living in towns and cities surrounded by the people and pollution that characterize life for most individuals in the twenty first century Despite this basic fact the vast majority of studies on Indigenous peoples concentrate solely on rural Indigenous populations Aiming to highlight these often overlooked communities this is the first book to look at urban Indigenous peoples globally and present the urban Indigenous experience not as the exception but as the norm The contributing essays draw on a wide range of disciplines including sociology anthropology architecture land economy and area studies and are written by both Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars The analysis looks at Indigenous people across the world and draws on examples not usually considered within the study of indigeneity such as Fiji Japan and Russia Indigeneity is often seen as being authentic when it is practiced in remote rural areas but these essays show that a vigorous vibrant and meaningful indigeneity can be created in urban spaces too The book challenges many of the imaginaries and tropes of what constitutes the Indigenous and offers perspectives and tools to understand a contemporary Indigenous urban reality As such it is a must read for anyone interested in the real lives of Indigenous people today Contributors Aiko Ikemura Amaral Chris Andersen Giuliana Borea Dana Brablec Andrew Canessa Sandra del Valle Casals Stanislav Saas Ksenofontov Daniela Peluso Andrey Petrov Marya Rozanova Smith Kate Stevens Kanako Uzawa Tradition and Agency Ton Otto, Poul Pedersen, 2005-12-31 The publication of the anthology The Invention of Tradition two decades ago generated an intensive productive and sometimes confusing debate about issues of cultural politics and continuity This new book follows up on the debate in two ways In a substantive introduction the editors disentangle some of the conceptual knots and assess the relevance of the scholarship on invented traditions for an understanding of the relationship between culture and agency In addition nine chapters exemplify and develop different aspects of the theoretical discussions through selected case studies from five different regions Europe Africa Indonesia Australia and the Pacific The Future of Christianity John Stenhouse, Brett Knowles, Antony Wood, 2004 This book written by a group of New Zealand scholars theologians historians and lawyers examines the question of New Zealand's Western culture and Christianity The contributors explore recent debates over secularisation exploring its merits and explanatory power while also showing its limitations Native on the Net Kyra Landzelius, 2004-11-01 Exploring the influence of the Internet on the lives of indigenous and diasporic peoples Kyra Landzelius leads a team of expert anthropologists and ethnographers who go on site and on line to explore how a diverse range of indigenous and transnational diasporic communities actually use the Internet From the Taino Indians of the Caribbean the Uwa of the Amazon rainforest and the Tunomans and Assyrians of Iraq to the Tingas and Zapatistas Native on the Net is a lively and intriguing exploration of how new technologies have enabled these previously isolated peoples to reach new levels of communication and community creating new communities online confronting global corporations or even challenging their own native traditions Featuring case studies ranging from the Arctic to the Australian outback this book addresses important recurrent themes such as the relationship between identity and place community traditional cultures and the nature of the indigenous Native on the Net is a unique contribution to our knowledge of the impact of new global communication technologies on those who have traditionally been geographically politically and economically marginalised

Interdisciplinary Research for Sustainable Business Beate Sjøfjell, Roseanne Russell, Maja Van der Velden, 2022-10-26 This volume brings together contributions from women business scholars from a range of disciplines and countries The starting point was a collaborative research meeting organised by Daughters of Themis International Network of Female Business Scholars in June 2017 The volume highlights the difficulties and the possibilities that lie in working together across disciplines with the aim of achieving corporate sustainability The volume is written from the perspective of women business scholars thereby offering outside viewpoints in fields that still are very much dominated by men and fresh insights and innovative ideas In three main parts the authors address the need for interdisciplinarity in research to identify ways to ensure the contribution of business to sustainability showcasing a number of theoretical and applied approaches for researching sustainable business The volume's introductory chapter situates the volume in discourses of sustainability and corporate sustainability It presents the Daughters of Themis Network and provides a short description of the successive eleven chapters In Part I Reflections contributors discuss the significance of interdisciplinary research how to work across disciplines as well as the challenges of doing so In Part II Theory contributors discuss theoretical and methodological aspects of interdisciplinary research Part III presents the Practice of interdisciplinary research In the introductory chapter the editors reflect on the insights that can be drawn out of the contributions and discuss the potential for future developments of interdisciplinary research for sustainability as well as how interdisciplinary research can be communicated The book is intended for business scholars and will particularly appeal to those working in law accountancy and finance management and organization studies

Changing Properties of Property Franz von Benda-Beckmann, Keebet von Benda-Beckmann, Melanie Wiber, 2009 As an important contribution to debates on property theory and the role of law in creating disputing defining and refining property rights this volume provides new theoretical material on property systems as well as new empirically grounded case studies of the dynamics of property transformations The property claimants discussed in these papers represent a diverse range of actors including post socialist states and their citizens those receiving restitution for past property losses in Africa Southeast Asia and in eastern Europe collectives corporate and individual actors The volume thus provides a comprehensive anthropological analysis not only of property structures and ideologies but also of property and its politics in action The Neoliberal State, Recognition and Indigenous Rights Deirdre Howard-Wagner, Maria Bargh, Isabel Altamirano-Jiménez, 2018-07-25 The impact of neoliberal governance on indigenous peoples in liberal settler states may be both enabling and constraining This book is distinctive in drawing comparisons between three such states Australia Canada and New Zealand In a series of empirically grounded interpretive micro studies it draws out a shared policy coherence but also exposes idiosyncrasies in the operational dynamics of neoliberal governance both within each state and between them Read together as a collection these studies broaden the debate about and the analysis of contemporary government policy The individual studies reveal the forms of actually existing neoliberalism that are variegated by historical geographical and legal contexts and complex state arrangements At the same time they present examples of a more nuanced agential bottom up indigenous governmentality Focusing on intense and complex matters of social policy rather than on resource development and land rights they demonstrate how indigenous actors engage in trying to govern various fields of activity by acting on the conduct and contexts of everyday neoliberal life and also on the conduct of state and corporate actors Tourism in Pacific Islands Stephen Pratt, David Harrison, 2015-02-20 Pacific Island Countries have been shown to be especially vulnerable to such external influences as natural disasters political unrest and downturns in the global economy and their tourism industries have been notably affected In particular they typically have a narrow resource base and a fragile and often vulnerable natural environment While there is some research on islands and small states there is a dearth of information on the South Pacific and very little research is being undertaken in the region compared to other geographical regions in the world This volume brings together current work in Pacific Island tourism In this collection three main themes arise Images of the South Pacific Socio economic Impacts of Tourism and Pacific Island Countries and the Outside World The first focus is on the question of image namely stereotypes of a destination held by tourists and potential tourists the extent to which residents for their part really welcome visitors and the role tourism might play in changing pre established images The second theme is tourism s impacts notably the economic and socio cultural effects of international tourism s intrusion in the region which though often hotly debated have attracted relatively little empirical research The third focus is on the challenges of how PICs articulate with their external geo political and physical environment These involve existing relations with formal colonial centres geographical isolation the need for greater air access to the outside world and for more tourists and the continuing threat to several PICs of global warming which increased air travel will inevitably exacerbate This text will be of interest to tourism students researchers and academics in the fields of tourism development studies and cultural studies Transforming the Politics of Mobility and Migration in Aotearoa New Zealand Jessica Terruhn, Shemana Cassim, 2023-08-08 Transforming the Politics of Mobility and Migration in

Aotearoa New Zealand is a future focused edited collection that formulates alternative paradigms that can lead to a more just and ethical politics of mobility and migration in Aotearoa New Zealand Examining a variety of topics the book addresses the challenges of structural discrimination integration and migrant rights framed within larger regional and global concerns Collectively the contributors advance perspectives on social justice and migrant rights specifically addressing issues of ethics collective well being and solidarities The collection brings together leading and early career scholars paired with practitioners in the migrations sector Developing conceptual knowledge in migration studies it fills a gap in the sparse literature on the politics of migration in Aotearoa New Zealand While theoretically engaged and of value to the research community the book also follows recent calls to better communicate the complexities of migration to policy makers with accessible chapters that address a range of issues faced by migrants and speak to a wide audience Gender, Property and Politics in the Pacific Rebecca Monson,2023-01-26 Outlines how land disputes are entangled with gender ethnicity and territoriality shaping public authority and state formation Across Oceans of Law Renisa Mawani,2018-08-09 In 1914 the British built and Japanese owned steamship Komagata Maru left Hong Kong for Vancouver carrying 376 Punjabi migrants Chartered by railway contractor and purported rubber planter Gurdit Singh the ship and its passengers were denied entry into Canada and two months later were deported to Calcutta In Across Oceans of Law Renisa Mawani retells this well known story of the Komagata Maru Drawing on oceans as method a mode of thinking and writing that repositions land and sea Mawani examines the historical and conceptual stakes of situating histories of Indian migration within maritime worlds Through close readings of the ship the manifest the trial and the anticolonial writings of Singh and others Mawani argues that the Komagata Maru s landing raised urgent questions regarding the jurisdictional tensions between the common law and admiralty law and ultimately the legal status of the sea By following the movements of a single ship and bringing oceans into sharper view Mawani traces British imperial power through racial temporal and legal contests and offers a novel method of writing colonial legal history
