Polluted Promises Melissa Checker, 2005-08 U S intervention in the Philippines began with the little known 1899 Philippine American War Using the war as its departure point in analyzing U S Philippine relations Vestiges of War retrieves this willfully forgotten event and places it where it properly belongs as the catalyst that led to increasing U S interventionism and expansionism in the Asia Pacific region This seminal multidisciplinary anthology examines the official American nationalist story of benevolent assimilation and fraternal tutelage in its half century of colonial occupation of the Philippines Integrating critical and visual art essays archival and contemporary photographs dramatic plays and poetry to address the complex Philippine and U S perspectives and experiences the essayists compellingly recount the consequences of American colonialism in the Philippines Vestiges of War will force readers to reshape their views on what has been a deliberately obscure but significant phase in the histories of both countries one which continues to haunt the present Contributors Genara Banzon Santiago Bose Ben Cabrera Renato Constantino Doreen Fernandez Eric Gamalinda Guillermo Gomez Pena Jessica Hagedorn Reynaldo Ileto Yong Soon Min Manuel Ocampo Paul Pfeiffer Christina Quisumbing Vicente Rafael Daniel Boone Schirmer Kidlat Tahimik Mark Twain and Jim Zwick

Environmental Justice in Latin America David V. Carruthers, 2008 Scholars and activists investigate the emergence of a distinctively Latin American environmental justice movement offering analysis and case studies that illustrate the connections between popular environmental mobilization and social justice in the region

The Routledge Handbook of Environmental Justice Ryan Holifield, Jayajit Chakraborty, Gordon Walker, 2017-09-14 The Routledge Handbook of Environmental Justice presents an extensive and cutting edge introduction to the diverse rapidly growing body of research on pressing issues of environmental justice and injustice With wide ranging discussion of current debates controversies and questions in the history theory and methods of environmental justice research contributed by over 90 leading social scientists natural scientists humanists and scholars from professional disciplines from six continents it is an essential resource both for newcomers to this research and for experienced scholars and practitioners The chapters of this volume examine the roots of environmental justice activism lay out and assess key theories and approaches and consider the many different substantive issues that have been the subject of activism empirical research and policy development throughout the world The Handbook features critical reviews of quantitative qualitative and mixed methodological approaches and explicitly addresses interdisciplinarity transdisciplinarity and engaged research Instead of adopting a narrow regional focus it tackles substantive issues and presents perspectives from political and cultural systems across the world as well as addressing activism for environmental justice at the global scale Its chapters do not simply review the state of the art but also propose new conceptual frameworks and directions for research policy and practice Providing detailed but accessible overviews of the complex varied dimensions of environmental justice and injustice the Handbook is an essential guide and reference not only for researchers engaged with environmental justice but also for undergraduate and graduate teaching and for policymakers and activists The Environment in Anthropology, Second Edition Nora Haenn, Allison Harnish, Richard Wilk, 2016-04-26 Presents ecology and current environmental studies from an anthropological point of view The Environment in Anthropology presents ecology and current environmental studies from an anthropological point of view From the classics to the most current scholarship this text connects the theory and practice in environment and anthropology providing readers with a strong intellectual foundation as well as offering practical tools for solving environmental problems Haenn Wilk and Harnish pose the most urgent questions of environmental protection How are environmental problems mediated by cultural values What are the environmental effects of urbanization When do environmentalists goals and actions conflict with those of indigenous peoples How can we assess the impact of environmentally correct businesses They also cover the fundamental topics of population growth large scale development biodiversity conservation sustainable environmental management indigenous groups consumption and globalization This revised edition addresses new topics such as water toxic waste neoliberalism environmental history environmental activism and REDD Reducing Emissions from Deforestation and Forest Degradation and it situates anthropology in the multi disciplinary field of environmental research It also offers readers a guide for developing their own plan for environmental action This volume offers an introduction to the breadth of ecological and environmental anthropology as well as to its historical trends and current developments Balancing landmark essays with cutting edge scholarship bridging theory and practice and offering suggestions for further reading and new directions for research The Environment in Anthropology continues to provide the ideal introduction to a burgeoning field Fighting to Breathe Nicole Fabricant, 2022-12-13 Industrial toxic emissions on the South Baltimore Peninsula are among the highest in the nation Because of the concentration of factories and other chemical industries in their neighborhoods residents face elevated rates of lung cancer and other respiratory illnesses in addition to heart attacks strokes and cardiovascular disease all of which can lead to premature death Fighting to Breathe follows a dynamic and creative group of high school students who decided to fight back against the race and class based health disparities and inequality in their city For more than a decade student organizers stood up to unequal land use practices and the proposed construction of an incinerator and instead initiated new waste management strategies As a Baltimore resident and activist scholar Nicole Fabricant documents how these young organizers came to envision design and create a more just and sustainable Baltimore Exit Zero Christine J. Walley, 2022-12-22 Winner of CLR James Book Prize from the Working Class Studies Association and 2nd Place for the Victor Turner Prize in Ethnographic Writing In 1980 Christine J Walley s world was turned upside down when the steel mill in Southeast Chicago where her father worked abruptly closed In the ensuing years ninety thousand other area residents would also lose their jobs in the mills just one example of the vast scale of deindustrialization occurring across the United States The disruption of this event propelled Walley into a career as a cultural anthropologist and now in Exit Zero she brings her anthropological perspective home examining the fate of her family and that of blue collar America at large Interweaving personal narratives and family photos with a nuanced assessment of the social impacts of deindustrialization Exit Zero is one part memoir and one part ethnography providing a much needed female and familial perspective on cultures of labor and their decline Through vivid accounts of her family's struggles and her own upward mobility Walley reveals the social landscapes of America's industrial fallout navigating complex tensions among class labor economy and environment Unsatisfied with the notion that her family's turmoil was inevitable in the ever forward progress of the United States she provides a fresh and important counternarrative that gives a new voice to the many Americans whose distress resulting from deindustrialization has too often been ignored This book is part of a project that also includes a documentary film Environmental Anthropology Helen Kopnina, Eleanor Shoreman-Ouimet, 2013-07-18 This volume presents new theoretical approaches methodologies subject pools and topics in the field of environmental anthropology Environmental anthropologists are increasingly focusing on self reflection not just on themselves and their impacts on environmental research but also on the reflexive qualities of their subjects and the extent to which these individuals are questioning their own environmental behavior Here contributors confront the very notion of natural resources in granting non human species their subjectivity and arguing for deeper understanding of nature and wilderness beyond the label of ecosystem services By engaging in interdisciplinary efforts these anthropologists present new ways for their colleagues subjects peers and communities to understand the causes of and alternatives to environmental destruction This book demonstrates that environmental anthropology has moved beyond the construction of rural small group theory entering into a mode of solution based methodologies and interdisciplinary theories for understanding human environmental interactions It is focused on post rural existence health and environmental risk assessment on the realm of alternative actions and emphasizes the necessary steps towards preventing environmental crisis A Companion to the Anthropology of Environmental Health Merrill Singer, 2016-04-27 A Companion to the Anthropology of Environmental Health presents a collection of readings that utilize a medical anthropological approach to explore the interface of humans and the environment in the shaping of health and illness around the world Features the latest ethnographic research from around the world related to the multiple impacts of the environment on health and of societies on their environments Includes contributions from international medical anthropologists conservationists environmental experts public health professionals health clinicians and other social scientists Analyzes the conditions of cultural and social transformation that accompany environmental and ecological impacts in all areas of the world Offers critical perspectives on theoretical and methodological advancements in the anthropology of environmental health along with future directions in the field Tennessee Women Sarah Wilkerson Freeman, Beverly Bond, 2010-10-01 Including suffragists civil rights activists and movers and shakers in politics and in the music industries of Nashville and Memphis as well as many other notables this collective portrait of Tennessee women offers new perspectives and insights into their dreams their struggles and their times As rich diverse and wide ranging as the topography of the state this book will interest scholars general readers and students of southern history women s history and Tennessee history Tennessee Women Their Lives and Times shifts the historical lens from the more traditional view of men s roles to place women and their experiences at center stage in the historical drama The eighteen biographical essays written by leading historians of women illuminate the lives of familiar figures like reformer Frances Wright blueswoman Alberta Hunter and the Grand Ole Opry s Minnie Pearl Sarah Colley Cannon and less well known characters like the Cherokee Beloved Woman Nan ye hi Nancy Ward antebellum free black woman Milly Swan Price and environmentalist Doris Bradshaw Told against the backdrop of their times these are the life stories of women who shaped Tennessee s history from the eighteenth century challenges of western expansion through the nineteenth and twentieth century struggles against racial and gender oppression to the twenty first century battles with community degradation Taken as a whole this collection of women s stories illuminates previously unrevealed historical dimensions that give readers a greater understanding of Tennessee s place within environmental and human rights movements and its role as a generator of phenomenal cultural life

Neighborhood as Refuge Isabelle Anguelovski,2014-03-21 An examination of environmental revitalization efforts in low income communities in Boston Barcelona and Havana that help heal traumatized urban neighborhoods Environmental justice as studied in a variety of disciplines is most often associated with redressing disproportionate exposure to pollution contamination and toxic sites In Neighborhood as Refuge Isabelle Anguelovski takes a broader view of environmental justice examining wide ranging comprehensive efforts at neighborhood environmental revitalization that include parks urban agriculture fresh food markets playgrounds housing and waste management She investigates and compares three minority low income neighborhoods that organized to improve environmental quality and livability Casc Antic in Barcelona Dudley in the Roxbury section of Boston and Cayo Hueso in Havana Despite the differing histories and political contexts of these three communities Anguelovski finds similar patterns of activism She shows that behind successful revitalization efforts is what she calls bottom to bottom networking powered by broad coalitions of residents community organizations architects artists funders political leaders and at times environmental advocacy groups Anguelovski also describes how over time environmental projects provide psychological benefits serving as a way to heal a marginalized and environmentally traumatized urban neighborhood They encourage a sense of rootedness and of attachment to place creating safe havens that offer residents a space for recovery They also help to bolster residents ability to deal with the negative dynamics of discrimination and provide spaces for broader political struggles including gentrification Drawing on the cases of Barcelona Boston and Havana Anguelovski presents a new holistic framework for understanding environmental justice action in cities with the right to a healthy community environment at its core

Educating for the Anthropocene Peter Sutoris,2022-11-01 The work of environmental educators and activists in India and South Africa offers new models for schooling and environmental activism Education has never played as critical a role in determining humanity s future as it does in the Anthropocene an era marked by humankind's unprecedented control over the natural environment Drawing on a multisited ethnographic project among schools and activist groups in India and South Africa Peter Sutoris explores education practices in the context of impoverished marginal communities where environmental crises intersect with colonial and racist histories and unsustainable practices He exposes the depoliticizing effects of schooling and examines cross generational knowledge transfer within and beyond formal education Finally he calls for the bridging of schooling and environmental activism to find answers to the global environmental crisis The onset of the Anthropocene challenges the very definition of education and its fundamental goals says Sutoris Researchers must look outside conventional models and practices of education for inspiration if education is to live up to its responsibilities at this critical time For decades environmental activist movements in some countries have wrestled with questions of responsibility and action in the face of environmental destruction they inhabited the mental world of the Anthropocene before much of the rest of the world Sutoris highlights an innovative research methodology of participatory observational filmmaking describing how films made by children in the Indian and South African communities provide a window into the ways that young people make sense of the future of the Anthropocene It is through their capacity to imagine the world differently Sutoris argues that education can reinvent itself

Burning Matters Peter C. Little, 2022 Global trade in electronic waste e waste has led to various waste management challenges and many regions of the Global South have suffered the toxic consequences In Burning Matters Peter C Little explores the complex cultural economic and environmental health politics of e waste work in Ghana He brings to light the lived experiences of Ghana's e waste workers as they navigate the health social and economic challenges of highly toxic e waste labor In particular Little engages the experiences of e waste workers who burn bundles of electrical cables to extract copper a practice that contaminates bodies and the urban environment and which has attracted international organizations seeking to mitigate risk and find quick tech solutions to this highly toxic e waste work A nuanced perspective on e waste burning and environmental politics in Africa at a time when global e waste generation and trade is at an all time high Burning Matters contends that e waste interventions devoid of ethnographic perspective and knowledge risk downplaying the vibrant complexities of e waste itself and the matters of social life and labor that matter most to Ghana's e waste workers

Toxic Amelia Fiske, Jonas Fischer, 2024-03-26 Over the past decade people have learned about oil contamination in the Ecuadorian Amazon through toxic tours in which a guide brings participants students lawyers environmental activists journalists and foreign tourists to visit contaminated sites These toxic tours combine personal experience and local knowledge to convince visitors of the immediacy of environmental issues Drawing on extensive research and fieldwork Toxic takes the reader on a visual toxic tour through the Amazon Following the story of three fictional participants this graphic novel paints a visceral picture of the waste pits gas flares and precarious lives of people in this region The book challenges the reader to consider what it means to live in a place and historical moment where victims of industrial toxicants are continually required to prove that harm has occurred Toxic is a vivid reflection on the role of pollutants in our everyday lives ultimately asking readers to reflect on how we are each implicated in the production consumption and exposure of pollution both in the Amazon and at home Anthropology and Activism Anna J Willow,Kelly A Yotebieng,2020-07-28 This book offers a comprehensive and current look at the complex relationship between anthropology and activism Activism has become a vibrant research topic within anthropology Many scholars now embrace their own roles as engaged social actors which has compelled reflexive attention to the anthropology activism intersection and its implications With contributions by emerging scholars as well as leading activist anthropologists this volume illuminates the diverse ways in which the anthropology activism relationship is being navigated Chapters touch on key areas including environment and extraction food sustainability and security migration and human rights health disparities and healthcare access class and gender identities and empowerment and the defense of democracy Case studies drawn mainly from North America encourage readers to think through their own experiences and expectations and will serve as durable documentation of how movements develop and change This timely survey of the activist anthropological landscape is valuable reading in an era of widely perceived ecological and political crisis where disinterested data collection increasingly appears to be a luxury that neither the discipline nor the world can afford Water, Cultural Diversity, and Global Environmental Change Barbara Rose Johnston,Lisa Hiwasaki,Irene J. Klaver,Ameyali Ramos Castillo,Veronica Strang,2011-12-21 Co published with UNESCO A product of the UNESCO IHP project on Water and Cultural Diversity this book represents an effort to examine the complex role water plays as a force in sustaining maintaining and threatening the viability of culturally diverse peoples It is argued that water is a fundamental human need a human right and a core sustaining element in biodiversity and cultural diversity The core concepts utilized in this book draw upon a larger trend in sustainability science a recognition of the synergism and analytical potential in utilizing a coupled biological and social systems analysis as the functioning viability of nature is both sustained and threatened by humans The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology Simon Coleman,Susan Hyatt,Ann Kingsolver,2016-11-25 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is an invaluable guide and major reference source for students and scholars alike introducing its readers to key contemporary perspectives and approaches within the field Written by an experienced international team of contributors with an interdisciplinary range of essays this collection provides a powerful overview of the transformations currently affecting anthropology The volume both addresses the concerns of the discipline and comments on its construction through texts classroom interactions engagements with various publics and changing relations with other academic subjects Persuasively demonstrating that a number of key contemporary issues can be usefully analyzed through an anthropological lens the contributors cover important topics such as globalization law and politics collaborative archaeology economics religion citizenship and community health and the environment The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is a fascinating examination of this lively and constantly evolving discipline The Cambridge Handbook of Community Psychology Caroline S. Clauss-Ehlers, 2021-12-16 This comprehensive handbook provides community psychology approaches to addressing the key issues that impact individuals and their communities worldwide Featuring international interdisciplinary perspectives from leading experts the handbook tackles critical contemporary challenges These include climate change immigration educational access healthcare social media wellness community empowerment discrimination mental health and many more The chapters offer case study examples to present practical applications and to review relevant implications within diverse contexts Throughout the handbook considers how community psychology plays out around the world What approaches are being used in different countries How does political context influence the development and extension of community psychology And what can nations learn from each other as they examine successful community psychology based interventions This is essential reading for researchers students practitioners and policy makers involved with community well being A Companion to Urban Anthropology Donald M. Nonini, 2014-06-03 A Companion to Urban Anthropology BLACKWELL COMPANIONS TO ANTHROPOLOGY A Companion to Urban Anthropology The city is becoming the basic currency of human and non human life a pile of interconnections which makes a series of difficult wholes This volume navigates the anthropology of this medium with the greatest aplomb Nigel Thrift University of Warwick A Companion to Urban Anthropology presents original essays on central concepts in urban anthropology and ethnography Featuring contributions from more than 25 leading international scholars in urban studies the readings cover a wide variety of topics Each essay explores a key phenomenon and is grounded in the author's original research along with findings of other urbanists Classic issues such as built structures and urban planning community markets and race lead to emergent areas of study including borders sexualities nature extralegality and resilience and sustainability A Companion to Urban Anthropology offers revealing insights into the complex forces that continue to shape the urban experience Gender Violence in Ecofeminist Perspective Gwen Hunnicutt, 2019-09-23 This book aims to begin an eco centered eco feminist informed discussion about the ways in which our relationship to nature is bound up with gender patriarchy and violence Ecofeminist scholars study the interconnections between gendered relationships of domination among humans between humans and between humans nonhumans and the earth It is in this ideological and structural tangle between humans and the environment that a deeper understanding of gender violence is possible Ecofeminism offers analytical possibilities for understanding a logic of domination which sustain a whole host of problems including the interrelated oppressions of gender violence and exploitation of the more than human life world In this book Gwen Hunnicutt brings into dialog ecofeminism and gender violence Ideological components such as speciesism and the belief that the earth and its nonhuman inhabitants are ours to exploit inform a host of other social practices including interpersonal violence A portion of this book is devoted to exploring the ways in which patriarchy is foregrounded by another hierarchy human domination over nature Thus gender violence stems from a logic of domination that is built on the domination of nature and the domination of the Other as nature As this blueprint of oppression repeats itself where there are vectors of difference the chapters ultimately connect these oppressions by showing the inextricable bind of violence against humans and the more than human life world This book will serve as a resource for scholars activists and students in sociology gender violence and interdisciplinary violence studies critical animal studies environmental studies and feminist and ecofeminist studies
