F. Delderfield,2014-07-22 The residents of a South London street face World War II together in this novel from the New York Times bestselling author of The Dreaming Suburb Years ago the Great War tore apart the lives of the families living on Manor Park Avenue in South London Now as Allied and Axis armies rage across

Europe in an even more devastating conflict the residents of the Avenue struggle to cope with the sacrifices England must make as their nation's place in the world irrevocably changes Longtime homeowner Jim Carver who lives in Number Twenty had his fill of combat in the trenches of France more than twenty years ago But when the Luftwaffe rains death from above on his beloved street he dedicates himself to the war effort Carver's eldest son Archie has come a long way from grocer's errand boy to owner of a chain of successful shops His illicit affair with a neighbor whose husband is fighting for King and Country threatens to undo everything he has achieved Esther Frith lives a solitary life in Number Seventeen seemingly oblivious to the aerial onslaught ravaging the Avenue now that the war has turned her family into casualties And across the road at Number Twenty Two reclusive Harold Godbeer hates what the war is doing to his country He realizes that even if England succeeds in helping defeat the Axis's tyrannical dictators his nation will be but a shadow of its former glory Living side by side as their neighborhood becomes a battleground two generations of Manor Park Avenue must unite if they and their way of life are to survive during wartime in this moving novel about the connections we forge during times of trouble which was also adapted for British television

The Good Luck Cat Lissa Warren, 2014-10-07 Lissa Warren's father needed a retirement companion while his wife and daughter were at work Enter Ting a seven pound Korat who changed his life and the life of the family All kittens are mischievous but Ting the cat grenade was real trouble She was also smart endearing and the soul of the Warren family In late 2008 Lissa's father died of a heart attack The images from that night still haunt her especially the EKG readout ending in one long devastating em dash Less than a year later Lissa and her mother stared at another EKG readout this time for Ting A living feline extension of the man they missed so much the man they had tried but failed to save she was diagnosed with a potentially fatal heart condition The only option was to have a human pacemaker implanted in the cat a procedure even the best animal hospital in Boston hadn't performed in a decade Thus they began a medical odyssey on behalf of the little gray cat who had been her father's shadow a journey that would prepare one of them for her own serious diagnosis A gorgeously written memoir about grief hope and how pets both complicate and enrich our lives The Good Luck Cat is a testament to the power of the human and the feline spirit

A Mummies' Play Jo Beverley, 2013-12-17 From New York Times bestselling author Jo Beverley comes a holiday tale of romance and intrigue in which a spirited woman hunts for the truth about her fallen lover On Christmas Eve a group of costumed mummies or actors arrive at Torlinghurst where they will perform for Jack Beaufort the new Duke of Cranmore The mummies have gone from manor to manor in hopes of getting paid for their shows in drink pies and pennies But among them is an impostor who only wants revenge Justina Travers has been in mourning for three years Her beloved fianc Simon perished in an ambush at the hands of the French She believes the one survivor of the attack Lucky Jack Beaufort committed treason against his country and led his men to their death Hoping to end Jack's luck for good Justina uses the mummies play to sneak into his home but there she uncovers a dramatic twist that shakes her convictions and just might melt her vengeful heart A Mummies Play
