Precarious Balances The Middle Ages Of The Next Millenium

Carolina López-Ruiz

Precarious Balances The Middle Ages Of The Next Millenium:

Precarious Balances Charles Stewart Goodwin, 1999-04-15 Precarious Balances The Middle Ages of the Next Millennium explores a comparison of the present century and the next with the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries as a period of transition from one type of civilization to another Goodwin compares the present socio political trends with those of medieval Europe that developed the philosophy and the institutions that have dominated the last 500 years He portrays the struggle between the choices that can be made and the potential effects they can have discerning between what can and cannot be controlled Goodwin proposes plausible alternatives to short term policies that may avoid the long term adversity he envisions now He points out the downplayed realities of the twentieth century a period dominated by technological achievement and the affluence of some that actually was dominated by violence and a widening of wealth gaps This pattern he predicts will lead to a new feudalism if action is not taken to redirect the socio political tendencies now in place

Tocsin Charles Stewart Goodwin, 2001-04-18 As the twentieth century became the twenty first we inexorably entered the new middle ages The tocsin tolls to awaken us all to a sense of urgency concerning the need for remedial measures If our culture and even our civilization is to withstand the most malevolent of the medieval expressions these measures must be timely and comprehensive In Tocsin Charles Stewart Goodwin discusses the attitudes interactions and institutions that will be required to prevent this from becoming a malignant condition

Medieval Latin Frank Anthony Carl Mantello, A. G. Rigg, 1996 Organized with the assistance of an international advisory committee of medievalists from several disciplines Medieval Latin An Introduction and Bibliographical Guide is a new standard guide to the Latin language and literature of the period from c A D 200 to 1500 It promises to be indispensable as a handbook in university courses in Medieval Latin and as a point of departure for the study of Latin texts and documents in any of the fields of medieval studies Comprehensive in scope the guide provides introductions to and bibliographic orientations in all the main areas of Medieval Latin language literature and scholarship Part One consists of an introduction and sizable listing of general print and electronic reference and research tools Part Two focuses on issues of language with introductions to such topics as Biblical and Christian Latin and Medieval Latin pronunciation orthography morphology and syntax word formation and lexicography metrics prose styles and so on There are chapters on the Latin used in administration law music commerce the liturgy theology and philosophy science and technology and daily life Part Three offers a systematic overview of Medieval Latin literature with introductions to a wide range of genres and to translations from and into Latin Each chapter concludes with a bibliography of fundamental works texts lexica studies and research aids This guide satisfies a long standing need for a reference tool in English that focuses on medieval latinity in all its specialized aspects It will be welcomed by students teachers professional latinists medievalists humanists and general readers interested in the role of Latin as the learned lingua franca of western Europe It may also prove valuable to reference librarians assembling collections concerned with Latin authors and texts of the postclassical period ABOUT THE EDITORS F A C Mantello is professor of Medieval Latin at The Catholic University of America A G Rigg is professor of English and medieval studies and chairman of the Medieval Latin Committee at the University of Toronto s Centre for Medieval Studies PRASIE FOR THE BOOK This extraordinary volume joint effort of dozens of scholars in eight countries will be in constant use for research for advising students and designing courses and for answering the queries of nonmedievalist colleagues Medieval Latin provides a foundation for advances in research and teaching on a wide front Though Mantello and Rigg s Medieval Latin is a superb reference volume I recommend that it also be read from beginning to end in small increments of course The rewards will be sheaves of notes and an immensely enriched appreciation of Medieval Latin and its literature Janet M Martin Princeton University Speculum A remarkable achievement and no one interested in medieval Latin can afford to be without it Journal of Ecclesiastical History Everywhere there is clarity conclusion judicious illustration and careful selection of what is central This guide is a major achievement and will serve Medieval Latin studies extremely well for the foreseeable future The Classical Review

The Making of Bronze Age Eurasia Philip L. Kohl,2007-01-22 This book provides an overview of Bronze Age societies of Western Eurasia through an investigation of the archaeological record The Making of Bronze Age Eurasia outlines the long term processes and patterns of interaction that link these groups together in a shared historical trajectory of development Interactions took the form of the exchange of raw materials and finished goods the spread and sharing of technologies and the movements of peoples from one region to another Kohl reconstructs economic activities from subsistence practices to the production and exchange of metals and other materials Kohl also argues forcefully that the main task of the archaeologist should be to write culture history on a spatially and temporally grand scale in an effort to detect large macrohistorical processes of interaction and shared development American Book Publishing Record ,1999

The Monuments of Syria Ross Burns,2009-06-30 This is a guidebook to Syria s historical and archeological treasures It is a new revised and expanded edition in a travel friendly format Syria is home to some of the world s richest historical and archaeological remains dating from the Bronze Age through biblical and Byzantine times to the early Islamic and Ottoman periods Yet even in an age of mass tourism these magnificent monuments are little known and rarely visited in other words ripe for discovery by independent minded and adventurous travellers The Monuments of Syria is organised as a gazetteer of all Syria s historical sites with complementary sections on history and architectural influences and comprehensive chronologies and glossaries This fully revised edition includes the latest information about site visits and the layout of museums extensive and detailed itineraries for further travel and a new 24 page colour section

Bronze Age Egypt and Globalisation David A. Warburton,2023-01-05 The state and the city were born in fourth millennium BC Mesopotamia leading the way to trade routes and empires awakening the lands around it Around 3000 BC Egypt created the first territorial nation state in human history consisting of the Nile Valley north of the first cataract and the Nile Delta on the shores of the Mediterranean The whole area was governed by a king whose lineage created kingship while building up a bureaucracy managing the country so that in the late second millennium BC Egypt was the greatest of the great powers when international politics were born This volume hints at the political context of these earliest international relations and examines how the system functioned It also explores what can be said of ancient Egyptian society and stresses the contributions that Egypt made to our own contemporary world As one of the two earliest major civilisations Egypt contributed to the birth of warfare literature art science economics ideology love poetry and much more

Millennium III, Century Xxi Peter N Stearns, 2018-05-04 This book is intended as a survivor's guide to turn of the century and millennial furor It offers data about events and relevant cultural traditions in the past and a framework within which to consider how we will interpret the waning age and how we can sensibly look ahead The Day Begins at Sunset Barbara Freyer Stowasser, 2014-05-09 The fullest account ever written of the fascinating nexus between Islam and Time this is a major contribution to the wider history of ideas and religion Night and day and the twelve lunar months of the year are appointed times for the believing people Reading the sky for the prayers of the hour has thus for Muslims been a constant reminder of God's providence and power In her absorbing and illuminating new book the late Barbara Freyer Stowasser examines the various ways in which Islam has structured ordered and measured Time Drawing on examples from Judaism and Christianity as well as the ancient world the author shows that while systems of time facilitate the orderly function of vastly different civilizations in Islam they have always been fundamental Among other topics she discusses the Muslim lunar calendar the rise of the science of astronomy the remarkable career of al Biruni greatest authority in Muslim perceptions of Time and the impact of technologies like the astrolabe Indian numerals and paper The fullest account ever written of the fascinating nexus between Islam and Time this is a major contribution to the wider history of ideas and religion Centre and Periphery in the Ancient World Michael J. Rowlands, Mogens Larsen, Kristian Kristiansen, 1987-10-22 This collaborative volume is concerned with long term social change Envisaging individual societies as interlinked and interdependent parts of a global social system the aim of the contributors is to determine the extent to which ancient societies were shaped over time by their incorporation in or resistance to the larger system Their particular concern is the dependent relationship between technically and socially more developed societies with a strong state ideology at the centre and the simpler societies that functioned principally as sources of raw materials and manpower on the periphery of the system The papers in the first part of the book are all concerned with political developments in the Ancient Near East and the notion of a regional system as a framework for analysis Part 2 examines the problems of conceptualising local societies as discrete centres of development in the context of both the Near East and prehistoric Europe during the second millennium BC Part 3 then presents a comprehensive analytical study of the Roman Empire as a single system showing how its component parts often relate to each other in uneven even contradictory ways Social Change Christopher

Chase-Dunn, Bruce Lerro, 2016-01-08 From the Stone Age to the Internet Age this book tells the story of human sociocultural evolution It describes the conditions under which hunter gatherers horticulturalists agricultural states and industrial capitalist societies formed flourished and declined Drawing evidence from archaeology ethnography linguistics historical documents statistics and survey research the authors trace the growth of human societies and their complexity and they probe the conflicts in hierarchies both within and among societies They also explain the macro micro links that connect cultural evolution and history with the development of the individual self thinking processes and perceptions Key features of the text Designed for undergraduate and graduate social science classes on social change and globalization topics in sociology world history cultural geography anthropology and international studies Describes the evolution of the modern capitalist world system since the fourteenth century BCE with coverage of the rise and fall of system leaders the Dutch in the seventeenth century the British in the nineteenth century and the United States in the twentieth century Provides a framework for analyzing patterns of social change Includes numerous tables figures and illustrations throughout the text Supplemented by framing part introductions suggested readings at the end of each chapter an end of text glossary and a comprehensive bibliography Offers a web based auxiliary chapter on Indigenous North American World Systems and a companion website with excel data sets and additional web links for students The New Cambridge Medieval History: Volume 3, C.900-c.1024

Rosamond McKittrick, Timothy Reuter, David Abulafia, 1995 Sample Text Conflict and Cooperation in the Indo-Pacific Ash Rossiter, Brendon J. Cannon, 2020-04-15 This book explores the most important strategic questions about the emerging Indo Pacific region by offering an incisive analysis on the current and future patterns of competition and cooperation of key nations in the region Examining emerging policies of cooperation and conflict adopted by Indo Pacific states in response to a rising China the book offers insights into the evolving Indo Pacific visions and strategies being developed in Japan India Australia and the US in reaction to shifting geopolitical realities The book provides evidence of geopolitical advances in what some see as a spatially coherent maritime zone stretching from the eastern Pacific to the western Indian Ocean including small island states and countries that line its littoral It also analyzes the development and operationalization of Indo Pacific policies and strategies of various key nations Contributors provide both macro and micro perspectives to this critically significant topic offering insights into the grand strategies of great powers as well as case studies ranging from the Philippines to the Maldives to Kenya The book suggests that new rivalries shifting alliances and economic ebbs and flows in the Indo Pacific will generate new geopolitical realities and shape much else beyond in the twenty first century A timely contribution to the rapidly expanding policy and scholarly discussions about what is likely to be the defining region for international politics for coming generations the book will be of interest to policymakers as well as students and academics in the fields of International Relations Foreign Policy Security Studies Diplomacy and International Law East and South Asian Studies East African Studies Middle East Studies and Australian Studies Bulletin of the Atomic
