and its impact on patient care      Molecular Pathology of Gastroenterological Cancer Eiichi Tahara, 2013-06-29 Twenty years have passed since I became a professor in the First Department of Pathology Hiroshima University School of Medicine It is my great pleasure that Molecular Pathology of Gastroenterological Cancer Application to Clinical Practice has been published by Springer Verlag Tokyo to commemorate the 20th anniversary of my professorship Seeing the academic achievements of our department during these 20 years I am confident that we could establish a department of oncology to research the pathogenesis of human cancer through systemic application of a variety of molecular techniques We have demonstrated that the development and progression of esophageal gastric and colon cancer require multiple alterations affecting DNA mismatch repair genes oncogenes and tumor suppressor genes and that common and uncommon genetic changes exist for esophageal gastric and colorectal carcinomas In addition to these genetic changes the majority of gastrointestinal cancers express telomerase activity with overexpression of telomerase RNA indicating a powerful additional tool for early detection of gastrointestinal cancer By transferring these basic observations to the clinic we now are able to make accurate cancer diagnoses thus determining the grade of malignancy and patient prognosis We also can identify patients at high risk for developing cancer and create new therapeutic approaches In fact we have routinely implemented a new molecular diagnosis strategy at the Hiroshima City Medical Association Clinical Laboratory since August 1993      Principles and Practice of Gastrointestinal Oncology David Kelsen, 2008 Thoroughly updated for its Second Edition this text provides comprehensive interdisciplinary coverage of gastrointestinal cancer including molecular biology diagnosis medical surgical and radiation therapy and palliative care The initial section Principles of Gastrointestinal Oncology includes an expanded radiation oncology chapter an extensively revised cancer genetics chapter and a completely rewritten medical oncology chapter emphasizing new agents Subsequent sections focus on esophageal gastric pancreatic hepatocellular biliary tree and colorectal cancer Coverage of each anatomic site includes epidemiology screening and prevention molecular biology and genetics pathology anatomy and staging and clinical management The final section on uncommon cancers includes new chapters on neuroendocrine tumors and small bowel cancers A companion Website provides instant access to the complete fully searchable text      Surgical Pathology of the GI Tract, Liver, Biliary Tract, and Pancreas Robert D. Guadagni,2012-12-06 Despite the fact that the incidence of gastric cancer is declining in the Western world it remains a significant problem with respect to accurate diagnosis and treatment since it has a high mortality rate In June 1989 an International Conference was held at the University of Rome La Sapienza entitled New Trends in Gastric Cancer Background and videosurgery During this meeting background information on the aetiopathogenesis of gastric cancer was presented together with talks and video presentations on the latest advances in the treatment of gastric carcinoma both from the European and Japanese experience Because of the poor prognosis of gastric carcinoma there is increasing pressure for early detection Some of the problems in the early detection of gastric carcinoma are discussed together with methods of surveillance of high risk subjects It is generally accepted that the surgical approach to gastric carcinoma should take into account the site and extent of the lesion and there are chapters on new methods for pre and intraoperative staging of the disease which allow a more logical approach to surgery A comparison between Japanese and Western rule and results was attempted and reasons for the differences were investigated Since the field is still evolving not all aspects could be covered and those angles not approached in this book will be addressed in a second International Conference to be held in Rome in June 1990 Research Awards Index ,1985 Gastrointestinal Oncology Janusz A.
