United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science. Subcommittee on Research, 2006 The Blessings of Disaster
Michel Bruneau, 2022-11-08 Are we doomed As individuals certainly eventually inevitably But as a species As a civilization Leading catastrophe engineer Michel Bruneau thinks perhaps not The Blessings of Disaster draws on knowledge from multiple disciplines to illustrate how our civilization's future successes and failures in dealing with societal threats be they pandemics climate change overpopulation monetary collapse and nuclear holocaust can be predicted by observing how we currently cope with and react to natural and technological disasters Maybe most importantly this entertaining and often counter intuitive book shows how we can think in better ways about disasters to strengthen and extend our existence as both individuals and as a species When it comes to rare extreme events such as earthquakes hurricanes floods tornados volcanic eruptions technological accidents terrorist attacks pandemics and even existential threats it is in our nature to set ourselves up for disasters because the gamble may be worth it But only maybe The Blessing of Disaster is the very real story of the relationship between humans and disasters and it's not a simple one Bringing together his decades long career spanning the globe as an earthquake and disaster engineer detailed catastrophe case studies from extreme events like Japan's Kobe earthquake and category 5 hurricanes in the American South along with thoughtful and practical solutions Bruneau provides a thorough examination of the structural challenges that face today's and tomorrow's world How we cope with today's threats is indicative of what the future holds Contrary to popular forecasts it is not all gloom and doom but some of it definitely is Housing Needs in Earthquake Disaster Areas United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking, Finance, and Urban Affairs. Subcommittee on Housing and Community Development, 1990 Power Reactor Technology
, 1965 Persistent Forecasting of Disruptive Technologies National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Committee on Forecasting Future Disruptive Technologies, 2010-02-15 Technological innovations are key causal agents of surprise and disruption In the recent past the United States military has encountered unexpected challenges in the battlefield due in part to the adversary's incorporation of technologies not traditionally associated with weaponry Recognizing the need to broaden the scope of current technology forecasting efforts the Office of the Director Defense Research and Engineering DDR E and the Defense Intelligence Agency DIA tasked the Committee for Forecasting Future Disruptive Technologies with providing guidance and insight on how to build a persistent forecasting system to predict analyze and reduce the impact of the most dramatically disruptive technologies The first of two reports this volume analyzes existing forecasting methods and processes It then outlines the necessary characteristics of a comprehensive forecasting system that integrates data from diverse sources to identify potentially game changing technological innovations and facilitates informed decision making by policymakers The committee's goal was to help the reader understand current forecasting methodologies the nature of disruptive technologies and the characteristics of a persistent forecasting system for disruptive technology Persistent Forecasting of Disruptive Technologies is a useful text for the Department of Defense Homeland Security the Intelligence community and other defense agencies across the nation Forecasting and Managing Risk in the Health and Safety Sectors Dall'Acqua, Luisa, 2019-02-15 Forecasting new and emerging risks associated with new technologies is a hard and provocative challenge A wide range of new and modified materials are being made available and many of these have unknown consequences including nanomaterials composites biomaterials and biocybernetics Additionally the greater complexity of man machine processes and interfaces the introduction of collaborative robots and the excessive dependence on computers as in the case of unmanned vehicles in transportation could trigger new risks Forecasting and Managing Risk in the Health and Safety Sectors is an essential reference source that combines theoretical underpinnings with practical relevance in order to introduce training activities to manage uncertainty and risks consequent to emerging technologies Featuring research on topics such as energy policy green management and intelligence cycle this book is ideally designed for government officials managers policymakers researchers lecturers advanced students and professionals

Bibliographic Guide to Technology New York Public Library. Research Libraries, 1989 Forecasting Catastrophic Events in Technology, Nature and Medicine Anton Panda, Volodymyr Nahorny, 2021-03-05 This book presents a methodology for forecasting events and phenomena occurring in technology and natural environments The methodology is based on forecasting the individual state of the control object which is carried out based on the analysis of the trend behavior of the controlled parameter symptom of the disease The methodology helps determining the time of the onset of a destructive earthquake its strength and the coordinates of the epicentre predicting the time of the descent of glaciers and landslides long before the event In medicine the methodology predicts the severity of a disease and forecast of its aggravation Disaster Risk Management Prof. Dr. Vladimir M. Cvetković, 2024-04-22 The textbook is intended for students of basic and master academic studies as well as to a wider professional audience members of the emergency services etc who are increasingly faced with the need for a more thorough understanding of the problem of a multidisciplinary approach in the identification process disaster risk analysis and treatment The content of the textbook is in line with the curriculum of the subject Disaster Risk Management which is taught in the third year of basic academic studies of the Faculty of Security In the writing of the textbooks great attention was paid to meeting high standards in terms of scientific and professional and pedagogical and didactic requirements and extensive scientific and professional material of all relevant foreign and domestic authors was used Besides the author used a fair treasure trove of his scholarly and professional papers which have been scientifically verified by numerous international and national reviewers Also the author incorporated most of his research findings in the country and abroad into the text of the textbook to enrich it with scientifically verified facts Also invaluable experience in working with students has helped to release the textbook from the additional scientific reflection that would make it difficult to acquire basic knowledge in the field of disaster risk management The first edition of the textbook also has its limitations which are reflected in the insufficient theoretical development of the scientific discipline which is relatively young and should contribute to creating additional conditions for the construction of the theory I would like to emphasize that the textbook represents the first such publication published in the Serbian language in our region which will greatly improve the knowledge and professional competencies of the general professional public
