

PREFACE

This report has been prepared as part of my grand project, as a part of MBA. The report is prepared with the view to include all the details regarding the project that I carried out.

The initial portion is the description and study of financial statement and the steel industry, its history and its current scenario. How the steel Sector has taken a full circle from earlier being private, later it being handed over to the Govt. and now once again with liberalization the sector is open to private players. After taking the macroscopic view, I have given a microscopic view of the sector by studying the major two companies those are TATA STEEL & SAIL. All the details of the companies where I have studied is mentioned in the initial part of the report. Next the second portion is regarding the core project – FINANCIAL STATEMENT ANALYSIS THROUGH RATIO ANALYSIS.

In this project I had taken various types of ratio for describing and for comparison of these both companies. Thus, as you go ahead the report will reveal minute details of the work that I have done in my grand project.

Emma Willard,1852 Timeless Truth in the Hands of History Gale Heide,2012-03-16 What is the purpose of theology for the church Systematic theology provides an inroad into this question by offering both a method for doing theology and an explanation for the purpose of that method However system is itself the product of a specific understanding of knowledge grounded in rational demonstration of facts This study attempts to address the historical debate over when systematic theology began Much of the debate is centered on the definition of system and revolves around the use or lack thereof of external philosophical categories or language Specific historical figures have been selected to serve as illustrations of how theological prolegomena functioned in works prior to and following the influence of Enlightenment thought In the early chapters it will be seen that theology was neither totally saturated with nor totally devoid of external philosophical reference points or programmatic intentions On the contrary both external points of reference and programmatic intentions have played a role in theology since the church s inception In other words certain elements of system e g logic non contradiction organization have played a role in theological investigation and construction since at least the second century The last two chapters of this study demonstrate that these may not be the same influences that have marked post Enlightenment systematics One of the primary characteristics of pre Enlightenment theology is its intentional focus on the life of the church Theology like the Scriptures was often written for specific circumstances Enlightenment influences significantly changed the intentions of much of theology in that theological knowledge was studied and displayed for the sake of knowledge itself The church no longer mattered or was at best an afterthought in the realm of what is now seen as the domain of academic theology History of the Indian Mutiny, 1857 - 1858 George B. Malleson,1879 A History of the United States

Navy, from 1775 to 1898 Edgar Stanton Maclay,1898 The History of Modern Europe, from the Fall of Constantinople in 1453 to the War in the Crimea in 1857 Thomas Henry DYER,1861 The Cambridge History of English Literature: From Steele and Addison to Pope and Swift Sir Adolphus William Ward,Alfred Rayney Waller,1912

The Contours of American History William Appleman Williams,2011-09-07 William Appleman Williams was the American history profession s greatest critic of US imperialism The Contours of American History first published in 1961 reached back into British history to argue that the relationship between liberalism and empire was in effect a grand compromise with expansion abroad containing class and race tensions at home Coming as it did before the political explosions of the 1960s Williams s message was a deeply heretical one and yet the Modern Library ultimately chose Contours as one of the best 100 nonfiction books of the 20th Century This fiftieth anniversary edition will introduce this magisterial work to a new readership with a new introduction by Greg Grandin one of today's leading historians of US foreign policy

The American Navy : Being an Authentic History of the United States Navy Charles Jacobs Peterson, 1857 A Brief History of the Mind William H. Calvin, 2004 Traces the evolution of the mind from apes Neanderthals and human ancestors to a burst of creativity that began about fifty thousand years ago suggesting that the mind will continue to evolve with enhanced reasoning abilities ethics and other changes Appian Luke Pitcher, 2025-03-17 This volume presents the first comprehensive study in English of the Roman History by Appian of Alexandria Appian was an Egyptian Greek and Roman citizen who wrote his history of Rome in twenty four books covering the period from the foundation of the city to Trajan's wars in the middle of the second century CE Luke Pitcher explains and analyses what it is known about Appian's life the structure of his work which has not survived completely intact and his use of sources He then examines how Appian organizes and structures his material and the considerations which inform his treatment of spaces peoples politics and individuals within history A full appreciation of Appian's achievement requires an awareness of the deeper structures of the Roman History as a whole in particular how the first half of the work which unusually covers Roman conquests area by area rather than in one long chronological sweep lays the ground for the second where towering personalities such as Julius Caesar bring an end to the Roman Republic in the five books of the Civil Wars The closing chapters build on these arguments to create a picture of what Appian tries to achieve in his history and what this says about him as a historian History of the principal events of the reign of Frederic William ii, king of Prussia; and a political picture of Europe, from 1786-1796. Transl Louis Philippe comte de Ségur, 1801 Winning the West with Words James Joseph Buss, 2012-09-13 Indian Removal was a process both physical and symbolic accomplished not only at gunpoint but also through language In the Midwest white settlers came to speak and write of Indians in the past tense even though they were still present Winning the West with Words explores the ways nineteenth century Anglo Americans used language rhetoric and narrative to claim cultural ownership of the region that comprises present day Ohio Indiana and Illinois Historian James Joseph Buss borrows from literary studies geography and anthropology to examine images of stalwart pioneers and vanished Indians used by American settlers in portraying an empty landscape in which they established farms towns and civilized governments He demonstrates how this now familiar narrative came to replace a more complicated history of cooperation adaptation and violence between peoples of different cultures Buss scrutinizes a wide range of sources travel journals captivity narratives treaty council ceremonies settler petitions artistic representations newspaper editorials late nineteenth century county histories and public celebrations such as regional fairs and centennial pageants and parades to show how white Americans used language metaphor and imagery to accomplish the symbolic removal of Native peoples from the region south of the Great Lakes Ultimately he concludes that the popular image of the white yeoman pioneer was employed to support powerful narratives about westward expansion American democracy and unlimited national progress Buss probes beneath this narrative of conquest to show the ways Indians far from being passive participated in shaping historical memory and often used Anglo Americans own words to subvert removal attempts By grounding his study in place rather than focusing on a single group of people Buss goes beyond the conventional uses of history giving readers a new understanding not just of the history of the Midwest but of the power of creation narratives The Annual Register, Or, A View of the History, Politics, and Literature for the Year ... ,1762 History of the Natural and Organic Foods Movement (1942-2020) William Shurtleff; Akiko Aoyagi; ,2020-04-09 The world s most comprehensive well documented and well illustrated book on this subject With extensive subject and geographical index 66 photographs and illustrations mostly color Free of charge in digital PDF format on Google Books The Historical Works of Augustin Thierry Augustin Thierry,1844 The History of the English Constitution Rudolph Gneist,1886
