Prehistoric Farming in Europe Graeme Barker, 1985-07-11 Drawing upon his own extensive knowledge of European archaeology Graeme Barker has impressively integrated the full range of archaeological data to produce in this book a masterly account of prehistoric farming in Europe on a unique scale He makes use of modern archaeological techniques to reconstruct the lives of prehistoric farmers in remarkable detail Not only do we now have a vivid picture of the prehistoric farmyard but we know what animals were kept how they were fed and why they were bred Evidence for crops grown and techniques of cultivation and husbandry helps recreate the prehistoric landscape Even the social organisation that determined the use of resources and provided the crucial stimulus for agricultural change can be relived Graeme Barker develops his argument through analogies with the agricultural history of classical and medieval Europe and concludes that today's industrial farmers can learn much from the successes and failures of early European farming

The Later Prehistory of North-West Europe Richard Bradley, Colin Haselgrove, Marc Vander Linden, Leo Webley, 2016 The Later Prehistory of North West Europe provides a unique up to date and easily accessible synthesis of the later prehistoric archaeology of north west Europe surveying changes in social forms landscape organization monument types and ritual practices over six millennia

Prehistoric Art in Europe Nancy K. Sandars, 1995-01-01 Until around 10 000 BC art in Europe appears to have been in advance of the rest of the world and throws light on the total history of early man The great masterpieces of cave painting at Lascaux are well known and one tradition of early sculpture is from the first surprisingly classical With the shelter paintings of the Spanish Levant and the clay modelling and painted pottery of eastern Europe in the fourth and third millennia BC fresh artistic problems were tackled Later still evolved the high technical accomplishment of the metal workers and this study concludes with an account of the new departures of Celtic La Tene art of the last four centuries BC

ANCIENT EUROPE FROM THE BEGINNING OF AGRICULTURE TO CLASSICAL ANTIQUITY, 1965 The Handbook of Religions in Ancient Europe Lisbeth Bredholt

Christensen, Olav Hammer, David Warburton, 2014-09-11 The Handbook of Religions in Ancient Europe surveys the major religious currents of Europe before Christianity the first continental religion with hegemonic ambition wiped out most local religions The evidence whether archaeological or written is notoriously difficult to interpret and the variety of religions documented by the sources and the range of languages used are bewildering The Handbook brings together leading authorities on pre Christian religious history to provide a state of the art survey The first section of the book covers the Prehistoric period from the Paleolithic to the Bronze Age The second section covers the period since writing systems began Ranging across the Mediterranean and Northern Celtic and Slavic Europe the essays assess the archaeological and textual evidence Dispersed archaeological remains and biased outside sources constitute our main sources of information so the complex task of interpreting these traces is explained for each case The Handbook also aims to highlight the plurality of religion in ancient Europe the many ways in which it is expressed notably in discourse action organization and material culture how it is produced and maintained by different people with different interests how communities always connect with or disassociate from adjunct communities and how their beliefs and rituals are shaped by these relationships The Handbook will be invaluable to anyone interested in ancient History and also to scholars and students of Religion Anthropology Archaeology and Classical Studies      Prehistoric and Ancient Europe Norman BARRETT, 1990      Prehistoric, Ancient Near Eastern & Aegean Textiles and Dress Mary Harlow, Cécile Michel, Marie-Louise Nosch, 2014-09-30 Textile and dress production from raw materials to finished items has had a significant impact on society from its earliest history The essays in this volume offer a fresh insight into the emerging interdisciplinary research field of textile and dress studies by discussing archaeological iconographical and textual evidence within a broad geographical and chronological spectrum The thirteen chapters explore issues such as the analysis of textile tools especially spindle whorls and textile imprints for reconstructing textile production in contexts as different as Neolithic Transylvania the Early Bronze Age North Aegean and the Early Iron Age Eastern Mediterranean the importance of cuneiform clay tablets as a documentary source for both drawing a detailed picture of the administration of a textile industry and for addressing gender issues such as the construction of masculinity in the Sumerian kingdoms of the 3rd millennium BC and discussions of royal and priestly costumes and clothing ornaments in the Mesopotamian kingdom of Mari and in Mycenaean culture Textile terms testify to intensive exchanges between Semitic and Indo European languages especially within the terminology of trade goods The production and consumption of textiles and garments are demonstrated in 2nd millennium Hittite Anatolia from 1st millennium BC Assyria a cross disciplinary approach combines texts realia and iconography to produce a systematic study of golden dress decorations and finally the important discussion of fibres flax and wool in written and archaeological sources is evidence for delineating the economy of linen and the strong symbolic value of fibre types in 1st millennium Babylonia and the Southern Levant The volume is part of a pair together with Greek and Roman Textiles and Dress An Interdisciplinary Anthology edited by Mary Harlow and Marie

Louise Nosch     The Lives of Prehistoric Monuments in Iron Age, Roman and Medieval Europe Marta Díaz-Guardamino, Leonardo García Sanjuán, David Wheatley, 2015 The essays in this collection examine the life histories of carefully chosen megalithic monuments stelae and statue menhirs and rock art sites of various European and Mediterranean regions during the Iron Age and Roman and Medieval times By focusing on the concrete interaction between people monuments and places the volume offers an innovative outlook on a variety of debated issues Prominent among these is the role of ancient remains in the creation institutionalization contestation and negotiation of social identities and memories as well as their relationship with political economy in early historic European societies     Voyage to the Other World Calvin B. Kendall, Peter S. Wells, 1992     Excavation of Later Prehistoric and Roman Sites along the Route of the Newquay Strategic Road Corridor, Cornwall Andy M Jones, 2019-05-10 This volume presents the results of archaeological investigations on the Newquay Strategic Road and goes on to discuss the complexity of the archaeology review the evidence for special deposits and explore evidence for the deliberate closure of buildings especially in later prehistoric and Roman period Cornwall

Balkan Prehistory Douglass W. Bailey, 2002-09-11 Douglass Bailey s volume fills the huge gap that existed for a comprehensive synthesis in English of the archaeology of the Balkans between 6 500 and 2 000 BC much research on the prehistory of Eastern Europe was inaccessible to a western audience before now because of linguistic barriers Bailey argues against traditional interpretations of the period which focus on the origins of agriculture and animal breeding He demonstrates that this was a period when monumental social and material changes occurred in the lives of the people in this region with new technologies and ways of displaying identity Balkan Prehistory will be required reading for everyone studying the Neolithic Copper and early Bronze Ages of Eastern Europe     How Ancient Europeans Saw the World Peter S. Wells, 2012-08-26 A revolutionary approach to how we view Europe s prehistoric culture The peoples who inhabited Europe during the two millennia before the Roman conquests had established urban centers large scale production of goods such as pottery and iron tools a money economy and elaborate rituals and ceremonies Yet as Peter Wells argues here the visual world of these late prehistoric communities was profoundly different from those of ancient Rome s literate civilization and today s industrialized societies Drawing on startling new research in neuroscience and cognitive psychology Wells reconstructs how the peoples of pre Roman Europe saw the world and their place in it He sheds new light on how they communicated their thoughts feelings and visual perceptions through the everyday tools they shaped the pottery and metal ornaments they decorated and the arrangements of objects they made in their ritual places and how these forms and patterns in turn shaped their experience How Ancient Europeans Saw the World offers a completely new approach to the study of Bronze Age and Iron Age Europe and represents a major challenge to existing views about prehistoric cultures The book demonstrates why we cannot interpret the structures that Europe s pre Roman inhabitants built in the landscape the ways they arranged their settlements and burial sites or the complex patterning of their art on the basis of what these things look like to us Rather we must view these objects and visual patterns as they were meant to be seen by the ancient peoples who fashioned them      Culture and Change in Central European Prehistory Helle Vandkilde, 2007-12-31 This book is a cohesive overview of Central European prehistory from the introduction of agriculture around 6000 BC to the state forming processes that began to emerge during the first millennium BC A complex mosaic of culture society and processes is mirrored in the material world and in certain periods involves a large part of the Eurasian continent Culture and change must be understood as both localised and macro regional the book is a cultural historical tale inspired by for example the attempts of French historians to integrate different levels of history Emphasis is laid on the eventful boom periods where innovations and cross cultural interaction intensified in such a way that history's mainly reproductive pattern was broken Important turning points are attached among other things to the first production of food copper and bronze metallurgy and the sword as a weapon and symbol These technical innovations were part of a complicated interaction with social and cultural processes which in many cases are connected in a pattern that can be followed in time and space
