Prelude To The Enlightenment French Lit:

Prelude to the Enlightenment Geoffroy Atkinson, Abraham C. Keller, 2023-03-08 First published in 1971 Prelude to the Enlightenment is a study of the attitudes of French writers during the transition from the Classical Age to the Enlightenment Professors Atkinson and Keller investigate the increasing vogue for emotionalism weeping and confession and attitudes towards love and morality On a more intellectual plane the approaches of authors of the time to literary questions and their treatment of the world of reality This book presents wide range of quotations from many writers of the period 1690 to 1740 among them Mativaux l Abb Pr vost Saint Evremond the novelists Robert Chasles Mme Aubin Mme de Tencin and la Comtesse d Aulnoy the remarkable and little known writer Jean Buvat who worked as a copyist in the Royal Library and wrote the Journal de la R gence and l Abb Pluche author of Le Spectacle de la Nature Some of these are well known some virtually unheard of but all provide clues to the character of the age By combining their own comments with contemporary quotations Professors Atkinson and Keller give modern readers a feeling for the atmosphere of the period that followed the Golden Age and a deeper appreciation of the literature of the Enlightenment itself

Prelude to the Enlightenment
Geoffroy Atkinson, Abraham C. Keller, 1970

The Enlightenment and the Intellectual Foundations of Modern Culture Louis Dupre, 2008-10-01 The prestige of the Enlightenment has declined in recent years Many consider its thinking abstract its art and poetry uninspiring and the assertion that it introduced a new age of freedom and progress after centuries of darkness and superstition presumptuous In this book an eminent scholar of modern culture shows that the Enlightenment was a more complex phenomenon than most of its detractors and advocates assume It includes rationalist as well as antirationalist tendencies a critique of traditional morality and religion as well as an attempt to establish them on new foundations even the beginning of a moral renewal and a spiritual revival The Enlightenment s critique of tradition was a necessary consequence of the fundamental modern principle that we humans are solely responsible for the course of history Hence we can accept no belief no authority no institutions that are not in some way justified This foundation for better or for worse determined the course of the following centuries Despite contemporary reactions against it the Enlightenment continues to shape our own time and still distinguishes Western culture from any other

Sensibility, Reading and Illustration Ann Lewis, 2017-12-02 Eighteenth century sensibility has always been controversial In fact the term itself refers to complex forms of physical and emotional responsiveness and Lewis s study investigates the fictional exploration of various key problems of sentimental response that were at the heart of eighteenth century moral epistemological and aesthetic debates These are analysed in conjunction with some of the actual often emotional responses that the term its fictions and images have provoked through time including an indispensable survey of the varying construction of sensibility as an object of study and the polemics subtending its definition The verbal evocation of the visual in the form of spectacles and signs was understood in the eighteenth century as having an especially powerful impact Lewis provides a new reading of the theme of sensibility by analysing the textual images in three best selling novels from the mid century Graffigny's Lettres d'une Peruvienne Marivaux's La Vie de Marianne and Rousseau's Julie The examination of a largely neglected corpus of illustrations understood as readings of each text provides striking new evidence of the complexity thematic richness and duplicity of these spectacles whose power to provoke different reactions is perhaps their most interesting characteristic

French Writers and their Society 1715-1800 Haydn Mason, 1982-06-18 The Enlightenment Dan

Edelstein, 2010-12-15 In this concise bold and innovative book Dan Edelstein offers us an original account of the Enlightenment It convincingly argues that the Enlightenment is above all a narrative about social and cultural changes and that its origins can be found in the Quarrel of the Ancients and the Moderns Therefore by reconsidering the importance of the French esprit philosophique in the European Enlightenment this book will be of considerable importance for every scholar and student interested in this period

Sensibility in Transformation Sydney McMillen Conger, 1990-03 Focusing on the period from about 1690 to 1890 these essays depict an age of sensibility that was in transformation New connections are revealed between sensibility and other key preoccupations of the age including the feminine ideal and the poetic imagination

The Radicalism of the American Revolution Gordon S. Wood, 2011-08-24 In a grand and immensely readable synthesis of historical political cultural and economic analysis a prize winning historian describes the events that made the American Revolution Gordon S Wood depicts a revolution that was about much more than a break from England rather it transformed an almost feudal society into a democratic one whose emerging realities sometimes baffled and disappointed its founding fathers

Bonaventure D'Argonne Benjamin Rountree, 1980 The English Novel, 1700-1740 Robert Letellier, 2003-02-28 The English novel written between 1700 and 1740 remains a comparatively neglected area In addition to Daniel Defoe whose Robinson Crusoe and Moll Flanders are landmarks in the history of English fiction many other authors were at work These included such women as Penelope Aubin Jane Barker Mary Davys and Eliza Haywood who made a considerable contribution to widening the range of emotional responses in fiction These authors and many others continued writing in the genres inherited from the previous century such as criminal biographies the Utopian novel the science fictional voyage and the epistolary novel This annotated bibliography includes entries for these works and for critical materials pertinent to them The volume first seeks to establish the existing studies of the era along with anthologies It then provides entries for a wide ranging selection of works which cover fictional theoretical historical political and cultural topics to provide a comprehensive background to the unfolding and understanding of prose fiction in the early 18th century This is followed by an alphabetical listing of novels their editions and any critical material available on each The next section provides a chronological record of significant and enduring works of fiction composed or translated in this period The volume concludes with extensive indexes

The Surprising Effects of Sympathy David Marshall, 1988 Through readings of works by Marivaux Diderot Rousseau and Mary Shelley David Marshall provides a new interpretation of the eighteenth century

preoccupation with theatricality and sympathy Sympathy is seen not as an instance of sensibility or natural benevolence but rather as an aesthetic and epistemological problem that must be understood in relation to the problem of theatricality Placing novels in the context of eighteenth century writing about theater fiction and painting Marshall argues that an unusual variety of authors and texts were concerned with the possibility of entering into someone else's thoughts and feelings He shows how key eighteenth century works reflect on the problem of how to move touch and secure the sympathy of readers and beholders in the realm of both art and life Marshall discusses the demands placed upon novels to achieve certain effects the ambivalence of writers and readers about those effects and the ways in which these texts can be read as philosophical meditations on the differences and analogies between the experiences of reading a novel watching a play beholding a painting and witnessing the spectacle of someone suffering The Surprising Effects of Sympathy traces the interaction of sympathy and theater and the artistic and philosophical problems that these terms represent in dialogues about aesthetics moral philosophy epistemology psychology autobiography the novel and society
