Preludes To Growth An Experiential Approach:

Preludes to Growth Richard Katz, 1973 The Straight Path of the Spirit Richard Katz, 1999-04 The inspiring story of one man's exploration of indigenous healing in a culture fighting to preserve its spiritual health A firsthand account of a little known healing tradition A dramatic story of self transformation by a well respected Harvard educated anthropologist In the late 1970s Richard Katz a clinical psychologist trained in anthropology spent two years living in a remote island community in Fiji hoping to record the practices of its healers At the foundation of their healing he discovered was the concept of the straight path a journey through life whose truth is revealed only to the extent that it is searched for with honesty and faith It is a way of healing that in its very essence is a way of living a path that emphasizes the spiritual dimensions of health and the relevance of these to the community But while interviewing healers at work Katz was drawn into an increasingly suspenseful drama Unexplained deaths rumors and suspicions and the intrusion of a zealous evangelist rocked the village and soon revealed to the author the dangerous alternative to the straight path the misuse of power that some call witchcraft The Straight Path of the Spirit is an engrossing story of indigenous healers and a dramatic account of cultures in collision Through the story of his own self transformation Katz reveals not only those aspects of life essential for the Fijians as they struggle to hold onto their identity but also what is of importance to all of us who seek to retain our humanity

Indigenous Healing Psychology Richard Katz, 2017-12-19 Connecting modern psychology to its Indigenous roots to enhance the healing process and psychology itself Shares the healing wisdom of Indigenous people the author has worked with including the Ju hoansi of the Kalahari Desert the Fijians of the South Pacific Sicangu Lakota people and Cree and Anishnabe First Nations people Explains how Indigenous perspectives can help create a more effective model of best practices in psychology Explores the vital role of spirituality in the practice of psychology and the shift of emphasis that occurs when one understands that all beings are interconnected Wherever the first inhabitants of the world gathered together they engaged in the human concerns of community building interpersonal relations and spiritual understanding As such these earliest people became our first psychologists Their wisdom lives on through the teachings of contemporary Indigenous elders and healers offering unique insights and practices to help us revision the self limiting approaches of modern psychology and enhance the processes of healing and social justice Reconnecting psychology to its ancient roots Richard Katz Ph D sensitively shares the healing wisdom of Indigenous peoples he has worked with including the Ju hoansi of the Kalahari Desert Fijians native to the Fiji Islands Lakota people of the Rosebud Reservation and Cree and Anishnabe First Nations people from Saskatchewan Through stories about the profoundly spiritual ceremonies and everyday practices he engaged in he seeks to fulfill the responsibility he was given build a foundation of reciprocity so Indigenous teachings can create a path toward healing psychology Also drawing on his experience as a Harvard trained psychologist the author reveals how modern psychological approaches focus too heavily on labels and categories and fail to recognize the benefits of enhanced states of consciousness Exploring the vital role of spirituality in the practice of psychology Katz explains how the Indigenous approach offers a way to understand challenges and opportunities from inside lived truths and treat mental illness at its source Acknowledging the diversity of Indigenous approaches he shows how Indigenous perspectives can help create a more effective model of best practices in psychology as well as guide us to a more holistic existence where we can once again assume full responsibility in the creation of our lives *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
